BBC School Radio website

bbc.co.uk/learning/schoolradio

The School Radio website is your one-stop-shop for all School Radio resources, including:

-  programmes that are available to download at any time
-  online Teacher's Notes which are simple (and free) to print or download
-  School Radio podcasts
-  ordering information for School Radio CDs including the order form
-  new video resources for White Board that are available exclusively online

New video resources to support Music across all age groups

In the coming year there will be new video resources based on our popular music programmes. In each case you'll find video tutorials of the songs to learn and the story alongside the full range of supporting resources, including lyrics and Teacher's Notes. These new resources include:

Jack and the Beanstalk

← bbc.co.uk/learning/schoolradio/subjects/music/jack

For children aged 5 to 7. There are songs to learn, an exciting adaptation of the story and the site also includes the song lyrics, backing tracks and Teacher's Notes.

Viking Sagas

← bbc.co.uk/learning/schoolradio/subjects/music/vikings

For children aged 7 to 9. There are songs to learn and a number of exciting Viking 'sagas' to watch, told by our trickster storyteller, Loki. The Teacher's Notes include ideas for staging your own performance.

Treasure Island

← bbc.co.uk/learning/schoolradio/subjects/music/treasure\_island

For children aged 9 to 11. David Grant teaches the songs and there are 10 exciting episodes of the story to watch featuring Jack Hawkins and Long John Silver.

Also new in the coming year:

Maths Challenge – Mental Maths

← bbc.co.uk/learning/schoolradio/subjects/mathematics

A new quiz to watch online featuring questions carefully pitched to help pupils aged 9 to 11 consolidate their mental maths skills. The quiz includes timed pauses for pupils to calculate and write down their answers. The emphasis is on providing a fun resource that will help pupils to work with numbers.

The Assemblies Toolkit

← bbc.co.uk/learning/schoolradio/subjects/assemblies

The Assemblies Toolkit offers video and audio resources to support assemblies across a wide range of themes. It includes material designed to link directly to the SEAL themes and guidance on how to use the content to deliver stimulating assemblies that all ages will enjoy.

Teacher's Notes

Teacher's Notes to support programmes are available from the School Radio website. They can be accessed from either the individual programme pages or from the Teacher's Notes section at: bbc.co.uk/learning/schoolradio/teachersnotes

As well as Notes for the current year you will find an archive of previous publications dating back to 2005 – useful when searching for Notes to accompany a series transmitted in a previous year.

Listen and Play

Age: 3–5

Curriculum links: Early Years Foundation Stage

There are 28 programmes in total, fostering early literacy skills through a mix of traditional songs and rhymes, stories and listening games. The series has been developed in association with the National Literacy Trust and the complete set provides a fantastic resource that the children will enjoy time and time again.

Time to Move

Age: 6–8

Curriculum links: PE (dance) KS1 / KS2 and cross-curricular links

The series encourages imaginative and creative movement responding to a range of stimuli. It presents opportunities for co-operation, performance and sharing of ideas and explores dance from different times and cultures.

Time to Move offers a weekly dance session, carefully structured and clearly presented.

Justin Fletcher from Let's Move

Let's Move

Age: 4–6

Curriculum links: PE (dance) KS1 and cross-curricular links

Let's Move is the foundation of School Radio's dance resources. It uses carefully chosen music – usually specially composed for the series – to encourage children to respond to sound and explore their thoughts and feelings. Programmes are often inspired by key infant topics and by popular stories, providing opportunities to extend the dance into other areas of the curriculum.

Programmes to support the Scottish Curriculum for Excellence will be available as podcasts only – they will not be available to order on CD.

From dramas to current affairs to documentaries to music, these distinctly Scottish audio resources are designed to complement the Curriculum for Excellence, to encourage focused, imaginative listening, and to provide springboards for discussion and activities.

All programmes are made freely available via our two Scottish School Radio podcasts: Scottish Learners Early/1st Level and Scottish Learners 2nd Level. Each programme is available to download for 30 days from its transmission, or you can subscribe to receive all the programmes.

For more information about all of the programmes and the podcasts, go to the Curriculum for Excellence section of the School Radio website: bbc.co.uk/learning/schoolradio

LEARNING ZONE BROADBAND CLASS CLIPS

This is an online service offering a range of video and audio clips supporting a wide range of curriculum areas and age groups. The resources are searchable by key words and are available to view or listen to at any time.

Class Clips includes a range of audio resources from School Radio, making it a useful tool for extending the use of audio in the classroom. Go to:
