Historical Note:

The firm that became Oliver and Oliver Law Firm began in 1876 in Jackson, Missouri, founded by Robert Burett Oliver Sr. and Jefferson W. Limbaugh Jr., under the name Oliver and Limbaugh. Oliver moved the firm to neighboring Cape Girardeau, Missouri, in 1896. Limbaugh left the firm to begin a new law firm shortly before the move. With the addition of Robert B. Oliver Sr.'s son, Robert B. Oliver Jr., the firm's name was changed to Oliver and Oliver Law Firm. The Oliver family members who joined the firm were Robert B. Oliver Sr. (1850-1934), Robert B. Oliver, Jr. (1880-1971), John L. (Jack) Oliver Sr. (1916-1978), Allen Laws Oliver Sr. (1886-1970), and John Leachman Oliver, Jr. (1943-2005). Throughout the law firm's history other attorneys were law firm partners, including: Elmer A. Strom (1930-1935), Richard D. Jones (1951-1959), W. Robert Cope (1970-1975), J. Frederick Waltz (1972-present), Gerald B. Rowan (1949-), William S. Radar (1959-1963), Stanley A. Grimm (1959-1963), A. Robert

Pierce, Jr. (1963-1968), A.J. Seier (1965-1968), and Rebecca McDowell Cook. (Dates in parentheses represent years with the firm, where known.)

The law firm were the attorneys of record for Himmelberger-Harrison Lumber Company, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Little River Drainage District, and Missouri Utilities Company. The firm litigated cases relating to insurance, personal injury, Workmen's Compensation, estates and wills, and property disputes.

As of April 2020, the law firm is known as Oliver, Oliver, and Waltz, P.C. with J. Frederick Waltz as the sole practicing attorney.

Robert Burret Oliver Sr. was born on January 23, 1850, in Cape Girardeau, Missouri, a son of John B. Oliver and Margaret Sloan. He married Marie Elizabeth Watkins in Richmond, Missouri, on December 10, 1879. Oliver graduated with his law degree from the University of Missouri. He was an honorary member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Psi. He was elected to the Missouri State Senate for Missouri's 26th district in 1882. He later was elected to the Missouri House of Representatives in 1902. Oliver began his law practice of Oliver and Limbaugh in 1876 in Jackson, Missouri. He later moved the practice to Cape Girardeau in 1896. When the state capital burned in 1911, due to a lightning strike, Oliver was appointed to serve on the Missouri Capitol Rebuilding Committee along with T.J. Brown of New Madrid. They represented the 14th District. The couple celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on December 10, 1939. They had the following children: Robert Burrett Jr., Charles Watkins, John Byrd, Allen Laws Sr., William Palmer, and Marie Marguerite (who married Russell L. Dearmont). Robert B. Oliver Sr. died on October 26, 1934, and is buried in the family mausoleum in New Lorimer Cemetery in Cape Girardeau.

Allen Laws Oliver, Sr. was born on January 19, 1886, in Jackson, Missouri, to Robert B. Oliver, Sr. and Marie Elizabeth Watkins. The family moved in Cape Girardeau in 1896. He graduated from Southeast Missouri Teachers College in 1905. He earned his A.B. degree (1908) and law degree (1909) from the University of Missouri. He was a member of Phi Delta Theta and Phi Delta Phi. He also served as Major of Cadets and was offered a commission in the regular army upon graduation. Instead, he joined the family law firm of Oliver and Oliver on January 1, 1910. He was admitted to the Missouri Bar on May 25, 1909, and signed the rolls as an attorney on October 26, 1911. He served in the Missouri National Guard as 1st Lieutenant from 1909 to 1913 and later as Major in the 6th Separate Battalion of Missouri Home Guards located in Cape Girardeau, Missouri, from 1917 to 1918. He was not called into active service during World War I.

In 1913, he married Olivia Leachman. The couple had two sons; Allen Laws Oliver Jr. and John Leachman Oliver Sr. John would join his father the law firm in 1940. During World War II he served as the Government Appeal Agent for Cape Girardeau County and member of the state Speaker Committee Missouri Council of Defense and as Vice-President of Missouri State United Service Organization. He became a member of the Beta Psi Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity on May 12, 1939.

In 1939, Missouri Governor Lloyd Stark appointed him Colonel where he served on the Governor's Staff. He served on the alumni association for both Southeast Missouri State Teachers College (now Southeast Missouri State University) and University of Missouri-Columbia. He was very active in various civic organizations. He was the past president of the Missouri Bar from (1943-1944), director of Rotary International (1938-1939), Missouri state president of the National Sons of the American Revolution (1942-1943), president general of the National Sons of the American Revolution (1945-1946), and member of the University of Missouri Board of Visitors (1946-1953) and served as president of the board in 1953. He also served as the national representative of the Southeast Missouri Council of Boy Scouts for twelve years. He served as the president of the Southeast Missouri Council from 1940-1942. He served on the boards of the Missouri Good Roads and Missouri Library associations. He served on the Cape Girardeau Chamber of Commerce, and donated money to various organizations throughout his lifetime.

In politics, he was a lifelong Democrat. He supported his brother-in-law, Russell L. Dearmont, while he campaigned for Democratic nomination for Missouri governor's campaign in 1932. Dearmont lost the nomination to Francis M. Wilson of Platte City, Missouri. He was also a lifelong member of First Presbyterian Church in Cape Girardeau. He served on several committees for the national Presbyterian Church (USA). He was actively involved in the Cape Girardeau Country Club beginning in 1920. He served on their Board of Governors for several years. He joined the Cape Girardeau Rotary Club in 1920 and served as President of the organization in 1932.

Beginning in 1914, he and his brother Robert Burrett Oliver, Jr. developed large tracts of land in Pascola, Pemiscot County, Missouri from wild lands to farmland.

He died on February 10, 1970, and is buried in New Lorimer Cemetery in Cape Girardeau, Missouri.

John Leachman Oliver, Jr. was born in Carmel, California, on April 23, 1943, to John L. "Jack" Oliver and Elizabeth Pierce Oliver. He graduated high school from McCallie School in Chattanooga, Tennessee. He furthered his education with an Associate of Business degree from Yale University in 1963 and law degree from the University of Missouri School of Law in 1969.

During his final year in law school, Oliver clerked for United States District Judge for the Eastern District of Missouri Roy W. Harper. Upon graduation he joined the family law firm of Oliver, Oliver, and Jones in Cape Girardeau in 1969.

Oliver was a member of several professional organizations including the Missouri Bar, Cape Girardeau County Bar Association, president (1987-1988), and American Bar Association to name a few. In 1976, Oliver was appointed to the then part-time position of U.S. magistrate for the Southeastern District of the Eastern District of Missouri. He won reappointment several times before resigning in 1990.

In 1989, Republican Governor John Ashcroft nominated Oliver, a Democrat, to the Missouri Highway and Transportation Commission. Upon his confirmation by the Missouri Senate, he served his six-year term. He also helped get the Bill Emerson Memorial Bridge constructed in Cape Girardeau. The bridge was opened to traffic in December 2003.

His civic involvement was robust; he was heavily involved in the Boy Scouts of America (Southeast Missouri Council), First Presbyterian Church, Downtown Cape Girardeau Rotary Club, Cape Girardeau Chamber of Commerce, Greater Cape Girardeau Historical Society, and Greater Cape Girardeau Industrial Development Association, to name a few.

Oliver was married twice. His first marriage was to Rosemary McWorther on September 23, 1963; one son, John L. "Jack" Oliver III, was born. After his divorce, he married Deborah Nesler Schumacher on October 10, 1980. She had two children from a previous marriage. Oliver died on May 12, 2005. He is buried in New Lorimer Cemetery in Cape Girardeau.

The Oliver Land and Development Company was organized in the 1910s by Robert B. Oliver Sr. and Otto Kochtitzky. It was known as Oliver and Kochtitzky until the 1920s when the name was changed to Oliver Land and Development Company. The company bought and sold land in Southeast Missouri for timber and leased land to tenant farmers in New Madrid and Mississippi counties. The Oliver family served in several administrative positions in the company. Heavy debt forced the company to dissolve in the 1960s.

Oliver and Oliver Law Firm:

This series includes business, personal, and case file correspondence between clients and attorneys of the firm. Also included in this series is professional organizations the members were members and held an official position in, including: The Missouri Bar, Missouri Bar Association, American Bar Association, and Cape Girardeau County Bar Association. The series has the following subseries: Correspondence; Cases (numerical by file number); Cases (alphabetical by litigant last name); Cases (subject); and Professional organizations (Missouri Bar Association, Missouri Bar, and American Bar Association). The correspondence subseries contains a wealth of not only legal writings but interweaved in these is personal correspondence with important historical figures and time periods during Missouri's history. Including World War I, World War II, natural disasters, to name a few. Robert B. Oliver Sr. corresponded with Missouri Governors, United States Senators and Representatives, Missouri Supreme Court judges, and University of Missouri-Columbia and Southeast Missouri State University presidents. Of interest in this series is the case of Gregory Carey et al v. Paramount Film Distributing Corporation et al beginning in the 1940s. Carey brought suit against the film company because he believed that the company was giving his theaters in Poplar Bluff second rate movies, rather than first run movies. Included in the legal file are lists of movies played at the theaters and photographs of the Rodgers Theatre and others. Another important case in subseries D is United States v. Charles M. Smith Sr. et al that was tried between 1906 and 1907. This case came about because of the knowledge of deplorable living conditions of several African American farm workers in Southeast Missouri. This case made it all the way to the United States Supreme Court. Smith Sr. and his son Charles M. Smith Jr. were convicted and spent several years in the federal prison in Leavenworth, Kansas. Of interest are letters from Smith Sr. while in prison, as he is seeking a Presidential pardon.

The firm were the attorneys of record for Himmelberger-Harrison Lumber Company, Little River Drainage District, Sturdivant Bank, Southeast Missouri Trust Company, and several insurance companies. The firm dealt primarily with property disputes, Workmen's Compensation claims, motor vehicle accidents, and estates. The file numbers were produced by the firm. Where possible, the original order has been maintained. There are numerous photographs of property, buildings, people, and damaged vehicles.

Members of law firm, including Allen Laws Oliver Sr, Robert B. Oliver Sr., Robert B. Oliver Jr., and Jack Oliver were heavily involved in the both the Missouri Bar Association and American Bar Association. They held positions and served on several committees in both organizations. This series is arranged numerically by case number and alphabetically by subject.

Oliver Land and Development Company:

This series includes correspondence, court cases, taxes, and photographs related to the company. Of interest are agricultural records, mainly cotton, for farms in New Madrid and Mississippi Counties and correspondence with the various farm managers and tenant farmers of land owned by the company from the 1920s to 1940s in New Madrid, Dunklin, and Pemiscot Counties in Southeast Missouri. The bulk of the correspondence is from tenant farmers working on the Pascola, Missouri, farmland in Pemiscot County. The farm managers and tenant farmers with correspondence include: Bruce Back, John B. Oliver, John W. Hodge, A.E. (Tom) Joyce, Jack Strickland, Tom Sullenger, and Walter Pitts, to name a few. The topics discussed in the correspondence includes payments for work, weather, quantity and type of crops produced, and health. Also included in this series are tax records of the firm.

Oliver Family Personal Papers:

This series includes correspondence between Oliver family members including Marie Watkins Oliver, William H. Watkins, Robert B. Oliver Sr., Robert B. Oliver Jr., William Palmer Oliver, Allen L. Oliver, Sr., John L. "Jack" Oliver Sr., John L. "Jack" Oliver Jr., and others. Of interest in this series is the correspondence between Allen L. Oliver Jr and John L. Oliver Sr. during World War II. Also includes Allen Laws Oliver and John L. Oliver Jr.'s involvement with several civic organizations. These organizations included, Boy Scouts of America (Southeast Missouri Council), Sons of the American Revolution, Presbyterian Church of America (both local and national), Lions Club, Rotary Club of Cape Girardeau, and Rotary International. Also includes genealogical charts and correspondence with distant relatives for both the Oliver, Watkins, and allied families in Missouri and Virginia.

Oversize:

This series includes maps and blueprints related to the Little River Drainage District, drainage ditches, plats, and river ways of Southeast Missouri.
