WORLD HALF MARATHON / 20K CHAMPIONSHIPS AT A GLANCE

This compilation concentrates on the championships held since 1992 which have featured a distance of half marathon or 20 Kilometres. These have been titled the World Half Marathon Championships, apart from 2006 and 2007 when the title was (as it is again now) the World Road Running Championships. Five countries competed at all 24 editions, at which precisely 300 medals have been awarded, 100 gold, 100 silver & 100 bronze. There have been further world road championships; the marathon has featured at every main World Championships in 1983-2023 and for under-20 men, there was a 20 Kilometre event at the World Junior Championships in 1986-1990 & 1994. Finally there have been discontinued world road championships at the road relay, women's 10km and 15km. Podiums from these events are shown at the end of this document.

These totals do not include athletes entered for the championships who never started, but teams are counted even if they did not finish

WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS COUNTRY INDEX

This section lists, by country, the results of every athlete to have competed in the World Half Marathon Championships (1992-2005/2008-2010-2012-2014-2016-2018-2020) or World Road Running Championships (2006-20Km; 2007-Half Mar). Team placings are given after the country's name.

For individuals, the first figure given is the number of championships contested by the athlete. Their performances are listed after the athlete's name in chronological order giving year, placing and time. Gold medallists are shown in bold type. 'J' denotes junior race.

The following 63 current members of World Athletics never competed at the World Half Marathon Championships: AFG, AIA, ANT, ASA, BAH, BAN, BEN, BIZ, BUR, COK, COM, FSM, GAM, GBS, GHA, GRN, GUM, IRQ, ISV, IVB, KIR, KOS, KUW, LAO, LBR, LCA, LUX, MAS, MAW, MHL, MLI, MNE, MNT, MOZ, MTN, MYA, NIG, NMI, NRU, OMA, PAK, PLW, PNG, PRK, SAM, SEN, SKN, SLE, SMR, SOL, SSD, STP, SUR, SYR, TGA, TKS, TLS, TOG, TUV, UAE, VAN, VIE, VIN. Of these, MAS and UAE are entered for Riga 2023

WORLD ROAD RECORDS MILESTONES

- 1 Jan 03 World road bests accepted for 10Km, 15K, 20Km, Half Mar; 25Km, 30Km, Marathon, Road Relay
- 1 Jan 04 World road records accepted those events
- 1 Nov 11 Women-only world road records accepted, alongside women-mixed race records
Both sets continue to be ratified even if the mixed is inferior to the equivalent women-only mark
- 1 Nov 17 World road records at 15Km, 20Km, 25Km & 30Km deleted
It was felt that most of the marks made at these distances were intermediate times and very few competitions were organised with these as the advertised full distance
- 1 Jan 18 World road records for 5Km accepted, but only for performances set from this date
- 1 Jan 23 World road records for one mile accepted, but only for performances set from this date

Arrangements for the Road Mile

The World Athletics Council meeting of November 2022 confirmed world record status for the road mile. The window for recognition for records opened on 1 January 2023. A legitimate performance on a certified, unaided course of at least 3:50.0 (men) or 4:19.0 (women) can stand as the inaugural record at any time before 1 September 2023. If those standards are not met by that date, then the best of all ratifiable performances since 1 January will be recognised as world records. So official records should be in place for the first World Championship race on 30 September.

World Athletics timing technical rules 19.23.3 and 19.24.5 have been refined for the road mile. Normally, road race times are expressed to the nearest longest second. For the road mile, it is specified that tenths and hundredths should be used.

Note that many established international mile races, such as the one held on Fifth Avenue in New York (USA), have traditionally been held on downhill courses which are regarded as aided as they do not meet the conditions required for world road records. The fastest road miles so far run on suitable, non-aided courses have been:

Men: 3:53.3 Edward Cheserek (KEN) Honolulu 7 Dec 19
Women: 4:22.54 Mirriam Cherop (KEN) Honolulu 8 Dec 18

These marks cannot count as world records as they were set before 2023. Current world and area road records (as well as lists and progressions) are specified within the 'Stats Zone' at worldathletics.org
