

TO: Interested Parties
FROM: DCCC Targeting and Analytics Department
DATE: September 30, 2016

ROSEN LEADS TARKANIAN BY 7 POINTS IN THE TWO-WAY CONGRESSIONAL VOTE

Democrat Jacky Rosen leads Republican Danny Tarkanian by 7 points (48% to 41%) in a DCCC survey of likely general election voters conducted in Nevada's 3rd Congressional district on September 27, 2016. Rosen leads by 3 points even with the inclusion of third-party candidates (40% to 37%).

Rosen leads among crucial registered Independent voters by 20 points (52% to 32%) and with women by 16 points (53% to 37%).

TARKANIAN HAS A NET NEGATIVE PROFILE IN THE DISTRICT

Voters in the district hold an unfavorable view of Tarkanian (-11 net, 29% to 40%) and his extreme conservative profile. Tarkanian's ties to Donald Trump are also a liability in this district, as 57% of voters have an unfavorable view of Trump and 43% of voters believe Tarkanian will support Trump's policies.

HILLARY CLINTON HAS AN 8-POINT LEAD OVER DONALD TRUMP

In the presidential contest, Democrat Hillary Clinton leads Republican Donald Trump by 8 points (46% to 38% with 10% supporting Gary Johnson). In a two-way contest, Clinton maintains a lead of 5 points (46% to 41%).

A mainly suburban (47.0%) district, Nevada's third congressional district runs along the southern tip of the state and includes portions of Las Vegas and Henderson. The Citizen Voting Age Population is 12.5% Asian American/Pacific Islander, 11.8% Hispanic/Latino, and 6.9% African American.

These results are based on a survey of 458 likely 2016 general election voters in NV-03 conducted by the DCCC on September 27, 2016. Respondents' information came from the voter file and respondents were interviewed over the phone via either a live or an IVR (robo) survey. The margin of error is +/- 4.58%.