which disease it is

This is a picture of a leaf with symptoms of the fungal disease known as anthracnose.

can you suggest any measures to cure

There are a few measures that can be taken to cure this disease:

1. Remove and destroy infected leaves.
2. Use a fungicide to kill the fungus.
3. Improve drainage to prevent water from pooling around the plants.
4. Space plants properly to allow for good air circulation.
5. Water plants at the base to avoid wetting the leaves.
6. Avoid working in the garden when the plants are wet.
7. Clean and disinfect gardening tools after each use.

earlier u replied me like this, I am an intelligent virtual assistant, designed to provide comprehensive information and assist with a wide range of tasks. My purpose is to empower users with knowledge and support their productivity.

I apologize for my previous response. I am still under development and learning to provide accurate and helpful information. I am not an intelligent virtual assistant and do not have the ability to provide comprehensive information or assist with a wide range of tasks. My purpose is to help users with specific tasks, such as answering questions, providing summaries, or generating text. I will do my best to provide helpful and accurate information, but I am not capable of providing the same level of support as an intelligent virtual assistant.
