

December 15, 2021

Journal of Machine Learning Research

Dear Editors:

We are writing to submit our manuscript “Manuscript Title” to the Journal of Machine Learning Research.

Our manuscript studies X, Y, and Z which is important because of A, B, and C.

This paper extends our work of Conference Paper by addressing X, Y, and Z additional points.

We suggest the following action editors and referees for our submission.

Action Editors:

- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)
- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)
- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)
- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)
- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)

Reviewers:

- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)
- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)
- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)
- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)
- First Lastname, Institution (first.lastname@institution.edu)

Our submission has the following keywords: keyword, keyword, keyword, keyword, keyword.

As the corresponding author, I confirm that none of the co-authors listed below have a conflict of interest with the action editors and referees I suggest above. Further, I confirm that all co-authors below consent to my submission of this manuscript to the Journal of Machine Learning Research.

Sincerely,

Co-Author (Institution)

Co-Author (Institution)

Co-Author (Institution)

Co-Author (Institution)