

Celebrating 40 years

Connellan Airways Trust has a long history in the Territory. The non-profit was established following the sale of the pioneering airline Connellan Airways (Connair) in 1981 and launched in 1983 by Deputy Prime Minister Doug Anthony to support outback people. For the past 40 years the Trust has provided a range of grant and scholarship opportunities to people in Outback Australia.

Since establishment the Trust has provided over $4.6 million in grants to people in the bush, relying on donations to augment the Trust funds and maximise grant-making. The Trust supports recipients to overcome the challenges of geographic isolation and enhance education, health and innovation opportunities.

In 2023 the Connellan Airways Trust will be celebrating its 40th anniversary by holding an “Outback Masquerade” on Saturday 23rd September 2023 at the Alice Springs Convention Centre.

This event is an amazing opportunity to hear from past and present grant recipients and celebrate in Outback Masquerade style. It is also an opportunity to raise valuable funds to ensure the Connellan Airways Trust continues to support our Outback.

We would love to have your business/organisation involved with the event to help us celebrate this amazing milestone, by way of either goods to be used for our Silent Auction or a monetary donation towards the event. All donations over $2 are tax deductible and invoices/receipts will be provided.

Please see a range of sponsorship opportunities below.
