

UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

JAMES M. SMITH, OF LONDON, INDIANA.

LINIMENT.

SPECIFICATION forming part of Letters Patent No. 419,372, dated January 14, 1890.

Application filed September 16, 1889. Serial No. 324,112. (No specimens.)

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, JAMES M. SMITH, a citizen of the United States, residing at London, in the county of Shelby and State of Indiana, have invented certain new and useful Improvements in Liniment, of which the following is a specification.

My invention consists in a liniment or medicine for internal and external use which may be used for diarrhea, colic, headache, neuralgia, toothache, &c., and may also be used for animals as well as persons.

This liniment or medicine is composed of the following ingredients, compounded together in substantially the proportions as follows: oil of pennyroyal, one and one-half dram; oil of calamus, one dram; oil of sassafras, two drams; oil of organum, two drams; oil of winter-green, two drams; essence of peppermint, one and one-half dram; gum-camphor, three drams; tincture of myrrh, one and one-half dram; spirits of ammonia, two drams; chloroform, two drams; tincture of catechu, two drams; gum of pine, two drams; spirits of turpentine, three drams; alcohol, one quart.

There may of course be slight variations made in the above-named ingredients without departing from my invention; but the ingredients and proportions should be substantially maintained in order to produce the most satisfactory results. By actual and continued use I have found this remedy very effective for the diseases named and those of similar character.

The manner of using my liniment is substantially similar to that in which such remedies are commonly used.

Having thus fully described my said invention, what I claim as new, and desire to secure by Letters Patent, is—

A medicine or liniment composed of oil of pennyroyal, oil of calamus, oil of sassafras, oil of organum, oil of winter-green, essence of peppermint, gum-camphor, tincture of myrrh, spirits of ammonia, chloroform, tincture of catechu, gum of pine, spirits of turpentine, and alcohol, mixed and compounded together in substantially the proportions above set forth.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal, at Indianapolis, Indiana, this 10th day of September, A. D. 1889.
