(54) Title of the Invention: Game machine and games
Abstract Title: Game machine and games

(57) The present inventions comprise four different games. Three are board games and one is a game of chance. All four games use a Game Machine™ device which carries a plurality of chips. The International Game of Life™ involves moving pieces on a board in a manner based on the results of rotating the chips. The All or Nothing™ game involves competing for a pot of chips based on the results of rotating the chips. The Jungle Game™ involves collecting chips having the images of animals there-on on the results of rotating the chips. The Game Machine™ may also be used to play a game of chance involving placing chips on a numbered strip based on the results of rotating the chips.
