

Anti Ragging

The so called 'Ragging' these days is generally limited to introducing yourself to seniors and maybe quite a few awkward or embarrassing questions regarding your personal life. This is just a part of the interaction between seniors and juniors and cannot technically be termed as 'ragging' . But these are just for fun and there is no intention of harming anyone or hurting anyone. Despite measures taken by the authorities, it is vital to know what to do if you are ragged.

- Students can make use of the suggestion boxes placed at different locations of the campus to make their complaints regarding ragging.
- They may also approach the members of the cell or any of their teachers as is comfortable to them.
- The students staying at hostel can contact faculty warden of the hostel, who will be available to you always. Being away from the parents, students should always feel free to talk to the batch mates and friends
- Students are requested to note that making a complaint is serious and therefore they are to use this power in a responsible manner.
- At the same time, the college assures students that once a complaint is made, it will be treated with sensitivity and confidentiality.
