dir Jerry Lewis

Music by: Walter ScharfSoundtrack Personnel: Inc: Howard Roberts, guitar; Emil Richards, percussion.Songs: "That old black magic" by Johnny Mercer, Harold Arlen, "I'm in the mood for love" by Dorothy Fields, Jimmy McHugh, "We've got a world that swings" by Yul Brown, Lil Mattis, performed by Jerry Lewis; "Stella by starlight" by Ned Washington, Victor Young; "Leap frog" by Leo Corday, Joe Garland, performed by Les Brown and his Band of Renown.

With: Les Brown and his Band of Renown (including Butch Stone, Stumpy Brown); Med Flory as a football player.

The soundtrack use of the Paramount evergreen, "Stella by starlight", must surely be an affectionate bow to the film's star, Stella Stevens, or perhaps to her character's name, Stella Purdy?

The script was co-written by ex-big band drummer Bill Richmond.

ROOBARB

UK 1974 – s – tvs
dir Bob Godfrey

Music by: Johnny Hawksworth

Individual titles in this series:-

When Roobard didn't see the sun come up...
 When Roobarb turned over a new leaf.
 When Roobarb wasn't as pleased as punch.
 When Roobarb found sauce
 When Roobarb made a spike.
 When Roobarb was being bored, then not being bored.
 When there wasn't treasure.
 When it wasn't Thursday.
 When there was someone else.
 When the tree fell to pieces
 When it was night.
 When it was Christmas.

When the sun was just right.
 When the opera wasn't a phantom.
 When Roobard was cheating.
 When Custard was sorry.
 When Roobard mixed the paint.
 When Roobarb's heart ruled his head.
 When you're going to fly - fly high.
 When the day didn't arrive.
 When Roobard did the lions share.
 When Roobard was at the end of his tether. (and so was Custard)
 When Custard stole the show.
 When there was a dance at Foxes Dale.
 When the day wouldn't keep still.
 When Roobard got a long break.
 When the pipes call the tune.
 When a knight lost his day.
 When Custard got too near the bone.
 When there was a big mix-up.

ROOBARB & CUSTARD TOO. (2005)

UK 2005 – s – tvs
dir Jason Tammemägi

Music by: Jon Atkinson

Songs: (recorded) Original theme by Johnny Hawksworth.

Individual titles in this series:-

When there was a surprise
 When Custard was grounded
 When Custard wrote a book
 When there was an elephant
 When Custard was very very naughty
 When the books went bye bye
 When there was a wind-up
 When Roobarb found the hieroglyphics
 When it ended in tears
 When there was a big band

- So-called Scopitones were similar in effect to the Soundies of the 1940s, but much improved technically, inasmuch as the 3-4 minute films were produced on 16mm in colour, with magnetic sound and could be viewed individually. Several different companies made them for showing on the Scopitone machines which were located in bars, cafés and restaurants. They were particularly popular in France. This writer remembers at least one of them in regular use in an Italian coffee bar in London.

Songs: By Freddie Stewart, Hal Collins, Bobby Troup, Val Burton, Sid Robin, Will Jason.

"Young man with a beat" by Freddie Stewart, performed by Gene Krupa and his Orchestra.

With: Freddie Stewart, June Preisser, Candy Candido as Alvin; Gene Krupa and his Orchestra (including Shorty Rogers, trumpet; Butch Stone; Stan Getz, Herbie Steward, reeds; Martha Davis in the role of Martha, piano; Arnold Fishkind, acoustic double bass; Gene Krupa, drs); The Cappy Barra Harmonica Boys.

It has been suggested quite reasonably that the Krupa Band was in fact the Butch Stone Band for whom many of the listed musicians were playing at the time of filming. It is likely that an arrangement was concluded between Monogram Studios and Stone to refer to the band as being Krupa's simply because his name would look better on the marquee.

The 130-segment, 3-year run of "Stars of Jazz" in Southern California is notoriously difficult to document accurately in view of the permanent loss of 65% of the series and the errors and omissions in listings, discographies and sleeve notes. No reliable filmography of the series has yet been published and it is a subject long overdue for in-depth research. The entries here should therefore be seen as being work in progress as some of the personnel listings have yet to be established and others confirmed. In general the dates given are recording dates; first transmissions were not necessarily on the same dates.

WAIT UNTIL DARK

USA 1967 – f

dir Terence Young

Music by: Henry Mancini

Music Directed/Conducted by: Henry Mancini

Music Orchestrated by: Leo Shuken, Jack Hayes

Soundtrack Personnel: Inc: Bud Shank, alto sax, flute; Jimmy Rowles, Pearl Kaufman, piano; Muzzy Marcellino, whistling.

Songs: Title song by Jay Livingston, Ray Evans, Henry Mancini, sung by Sue Raney. Recorded on 19th/20th June 1967 at Warner Bros. Scoring Stage, Burbank.

One of the two matched pianos was deliberately tuned a quarter-tone flat so that the difference in pitch would be very disturbing when the same chords were played together.

Numerous contemporary sources both in the UK and in the USA claim that the end title song is performed by Bobby Darin but this appears to be an error that has been blindly copied across the years.

THE WILD ONE/HOT BLOOD

USA 1953 – f
dir László Benedek

Music by: Leith StevensMusic Arranged by: Shorty Rogers

Soundtrack Personnel: Inc: Shorty Rogers, Mannie Klein, Pete Candoli, trumpet; Milt Bernhart, trombone; Bud Shank, reeds; Johnny Williams, drums.

Although this mainly source music score was composed and arranged specifically to be performed by Shorty Rogers and his Giants the studio would not allow Rogers to use his own musicians for the soundtrack; it had to be performed by Columbia's staff orchestra. But Rogers himself was allowed to solo and Bud Shank has assured this writer that he was on the session together with Milt Bernhart (who was already contracted to the studio) and Pete Candoli. The various commercially issued "soundtrack recordings" must therefore be viewed with some suspicion.
