INTRODUCTION

The publication you have in your hands is the first of what we hope will be an annual series that provides a window into the movers and shakers of the Muslim world. We have strived to highlight people who are influential as Muslims, that is, people whose influence is derived from their practice of Islam or from the fact that they are Muslim. We think that this gives valuable insight into the different ways that Muslims impact the world, and also shows the diversity of how people are living as Muslims today.

Influence is a tricky concept. Its meaning derives from the Latin word influens meaning to flow-in, pointing to an old astrological idea that unseen forces (like the moon) affect humanity. The figures on this list have the ability to affect humanity too. In a variety of different ways each person on this list has influence over the lives of a large number of people on the earth. The 50 most influential figures are profiled. Their influence comes from a variety of sources; however they are unified by the fact that they each affect huge swathes of humanity.

We have then broken up the 500 leaders into 15 categories—Scholarly, Political, Administrative, Lineage, Preachers, Women, Youth, Philanthropy, Development, Science and Technology, Arts and Culture, Media, Radicals, International Islamic Networks, and Issues of the Day—to help you understand the different kinds of ways Islam and Muslims impact the world today.

Two composite lists show how influence works in different ways: International Islamic Networks shows people who are at the head of important transnational networks of Muslims, and Issues of the Day highlights individuals whose importance is due to current issues affecting humanity.

DISCLAIMER AND INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE

Being the first attempt of its kind at a list that shows the broad extent of Muslims' influence on the world we acknowledge that there are likely to be gaps in our categorizing, and are sure that we have missed some influential people. We would like to keep the process as open as possible and ask you to please write in suggestions to 500@rissc.jo

DEMOGRAPHY OF INFLUENCE

Influence in the Muslim world is particular to its context. There is not a clear hierarchy or organized clergy for Muslims to identify a leader, such as a Patriarch for Orthodox Christians or a Pope for Catholics. Islam as a religion is based on the individual's relationship with God, without an intermediary. Influence in the Muslim world is derived from two sources: scholarship, and respect and trust. Scholars are able to educate the masses or give respected opinions, and respected and trusted persons carry the weight of social and historical capital as leaders in their societies.

As you will see, three types of people—monarchs, religious scholars, and leaders of religious networks—dominate the Top 50 list. Monarchs are well represented because of the influence they gain from their political power, the length of time they spend in office, the lineage they derive from the institution of monarchy, and the deeply rooted establishments that they may inherit. Religious scholars are also strongly present in the list because they may be able to make religious rulings, and due to the simple fact that Muslims, of every hue, need figures from which they can source concrete answers to practical questions. In a globalized world, networks of people and of institutions permeate our international society and accordingly have great power because of their ability to affect people's lives, whether it be through funds or services. The Muslim world is no different and leaders of Islamic networks are represented in the top rungs of our list of 500.

The one clear exception to this rule however is Amr Khaled who through sheer force of popularity and innovation—as the Muslim world's first televangelist—exerts tremendous influence as a Muslim. Khaled has been able to chart his own course as a key figure in the Muslim world through the vehicle of mass media, and although as a layperson his religious authority is still somewhat limited he remains the great 'start-up' of the list.

Another important exception is Fethullah Gülen, a preacher, thinker and educator, who having assumed the leadership of a religious movement started by Said Nursî (1878-1960) has gone on to become a global phenomenon in his own right. His popularity and authority in Turkey have been the driving force of the social movement that is widely thought to have brought around the social and eventually political changes of which politician Recep Tayyip Erdogan has been the ultimate heir—that is the enfranchisement of Muslim politics in Turkey.

Geography is also an important issue in terms of influence, with the Middle East and North America and Europe holding disproportionate influence in relation to the quantity of Muslims in these regions. It is important to clarify that individuals from the Middle East have a disproportionate influence in the Muslim world, due to the fact that the region has many of the oldest and most well-esteemed institutions for Muslims, and most importantly is home to the holy sites in Mecca and Medina. Europe and North America are host to a large proportion of the world's most highly respected educational institutions and draw talented, influential people from around the world, with global outreach through their wealth and high academic standing. Many important international institutions are also based in Europe and North America, which adds to this asymmetry.

I. THE HOUSE OF ISLAM

This section reprinted by permission of Vincenzo Oliveti © 2001

(with the exception of President Obama's speech)

The religion of Islam is based on belief in the One God (who in Arabic is called Allah). It was founded by the Prophet Muhammad (570-632 CE) in the ancient cities of Mecca and Medina, in the west coast of the Arabian Peninsula (known as the Hijaz). God revealed to the Prophet Muhammad the Holy Qur'an, the Sacred Book of Islam. The religion this created, however, was not a new message but simply a final and total Arabic restatement of God's messages to the Hebrew Prophets and to Jesus. The Holy Qur'an says:

Say ye: we believe in God and that which is revealed unto us and that which was revealed unto Abraham, and Ishmael, and Isaac, and Jacob, and the Tribes, and that which Moses and Jesus received, and that which the Prophets received from their Lord. We make no distinction between any of them, and unto Him we have submitted. (The Holy Qur'an, 2:136)

Moreover, the Holy Qur'an did not even exclude the possibility of revelations other than those that were given to the Prophets mentioned in the Bible (and thus did not exclude the possibility of other genuine ancient religions other than Judaism, Christianity and Islam). God says, in the Holy Qur'an:

Verily we have sent Messengers before thee [O Muhammad]. About some of them have we told thee, and about some have we not told thee . . . (40:78).

And verily we have raised in every nation a Messenger [proclaiming]: serve God and shun false gods . . . (16:36).

THE ESSENCE OF ISLAM

The essence and substance of Islam can be easily summed up by three major principles (which are also successive stages in the spiritual life): Islam (meaning 'submission to God's will'); Iman (meaning 'faith in God'), and Ihsan (meaning 'virtue through constant regard to, and awareness of, God'). The second Caliph, the great 'Umar ibn al Khattab, related that:

One day when we were sitting [in Medina] with the Messenger of God [the Prophet Muhammad] there came unto us a man whose clothes were of exceeding whiteness and whose hair was of exceeding blackness, nor were there any signs of travel upon him, although none of us knew him. He sat down knee upon knee opposite the Prophet, upon whose thighs he placed the palms of his hands, saying: 'O Muhammad; tell me what is the surrender (Islam)'. The Messenger of God answered him saying: 'The surrender is to testify that there is no god but God and that Muhammad is God's Messenger, to perform the prayer, bestow the alms, fast Ramadan and make if thou canst, the pilgrimage to the Holy House.' He said, 'Thou hast spoken truly,' and we were amazed that having questioned him he should corroborate him. Then he said: 'Tell me what is faith (Iman)'. He answered: 'To believe in God and His Angels and his Books and His Messengers and the Last Day [the Day of Judgement], and to believe that no good or evil cometh but by His Providence.' 'Thou hast spoken truly,' he said, and then: 'Tell me what is excellence (Ihsan).' He answered: 'To worship God as if thou sawest Him, for if Thou seest Him not, yet seeth He thee.' 'Thou hast spoken truly,' he said... Then the stranger went away, and I stayed a while after he had gone; and the Prophet said to me: 'O 'Umar, knowest thou the questioner, who he was?' I said, 'God and His Messenger know best.' He said, 'It was Gabriel [the Archangel]. He came unto you to teach you your religion.'¹

Thus Islam as such consists of 'five pillars': (1) the Shahadatayn or the 'testimony of faith' (whose inward meaning is the acknowledgement of God). (2) The five daily prayers (whose inward meaning is the attachment to God). (3) Giving alms or Zakat—one-fortieth of one's income and savings annually to the poor and destitute (whose inward meaning is the detachment from the world). (4) Fasting the Holy month of Ramadan annually (whose inward meaning is detachment from the body and from the ego). (5) Making the Hajj (whose inner meaning is to return to one's true inner heart, the mysterious square, black-shrouded Ka'ba in Mecca being the outward symbol of this heart). Thus also Iman as such consists of belief in all the essential doctrines of religion (and the inner meaning of this is that one should not go through the motions of religion and of the five pillars of Islam blindly or robotically, but rather have real faith and certainty in one's heart). Thus, finally, Ihsan as such consists in believing that God always sees us, and therefore that one must be virtuous and sincere in all one's actions. In this connection the Prophet said: 'By Him in whose Hand is my Life, none of you believes till he loves for his neighbour what he loves for himself'.² In summary, we could say that the essence of Islam is exactly the Two Commandments upon which Jesus said hangs all the Law and the Prophets:

1 Sahih Muslim, 'Kitab al Iman', 1, N.I. (The Hadiths of the Prophet, like all sacred texts, are written above in italics).

2 Sahih Muslim, 'Kitab al Iman', 18, n. 72.

And Jesus answered him, The first of all commandments is...the Lord our God is one Lord; And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy understanding, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment. And the second commandment is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.³

THE CANON OF ISLAM

Islam does not, like Christianity, have a clergy. There is no temporal or even spiritual institute that holds it together or unifies it. So how did it hold together—and indeed, flourish—for the last fourteen centuries approximately, when its scholars and temporal policymakers keep changing and dying out over time? How did it remain so homogeneous that the Islam of 1900 CE was doctrinally exactly the same as the Islam of 700 CE? Where did its internal checks and balances come from?

The answer is that Islam has a traditional canon:⁴ a collection of sacred texts which everyone has agreed are authoritative and definitive, and which 'fix' the principles of belief, practice, law, theology and doctrine throughout the ages. All that Muslim scholars (called ulema and muftis or sheikhs and imams) have left to do is to interpret these texts and work out their practical applications and details (and the principles of interpretation and elaboration are themselves 'fixed' by these texts), so that in Islam a person is only considered learned to the extent that he can demonstrate his knowledge of these texts. This does not mean that Islam is a religion of limitations for these texts are a vast ocean and their principles can be inwardly worked out almost infinitely in practice. It does mean, however, that Islam is 'fixed' and has certain limits beyond which it will not go. This is an extremely important concept to understand, because misunderstanding it, and setting aside the traditional canon of Islam, leads to people killing and assassinating others in the name of religion. The traditional canon of Islam is what protects not just the religion of Islam itself, but the world (including Muslims themselves) from terrorism, murder and oppression in the name of Islam. The canon is Islam's internal check and balance system; it is what safeguards its moderation; it is 'self-censorship' and its ultimate safety feature.

To be more specific, the traditional Sunni Islamic Canon starts with the Qur'an itself; then the great traditional Commentaries upon it (e.g. Tabari; Razi; Zamakhshari/Baydawi; Qurtubi; Jalalayn; Ibn Kathir; Nasafi; and al Wahidi's

3 The Gospel according to Mark 12:29 –31. (See also Deuteronomy 6:5; and Matthew 22:37- 40).

4 Even the English word 'canon' comes from the Arabic word kanun meaning 'law' or 'principle' .

Asbab al Nuzul); then the eight traditional collections of Hadith, the sayings of the Prophet, (e.g. Muslim; Bukhari; Tirmidhi; Ibn Hanbal, al Nasa'i; al Sijistani; al Darimi and Ibn Maja); the later Muhaddithin, or Traditionists (e.g. Bayhaqi; Baghawi; Nawawi and 'Asqalani); then the traditional biographical and historical works of Sira (Ibn Ishaq, Ibn Sa'd, Waqidi; Azraqi; Tabari; and Suhayli); the Risala of al Shafi'i: the Muwatta' of Imam Malik; the Ihya' 'Ulum al Din of Ghazali; Ash'arite and Maturidian theology; the (original) 'Aqida of Tahawi; Imam Jazuli's Dala'il al Khayrat, and finally—albeit only extrinsically—Jahiliyya poetry (as a background reference for the semantic connotations of words in the Arabic language). We give a specific (but not exhaustive) list here in order to minimize the possibility of misunderstanding.

ISLAM IN HISTORY

It is evidently not possible to do justice to the role of Islam in world history, thought and civilization in a few words, but the following paragraph by Britain's Prince Charles attempts it:

The medieval Islamic world, from Central Asia to the shores of the Atlantic, was a world where scholars and men of learning flourished. But because we have tended to see Islam as the enemy, as an alien culture, society, and system of belief, we have tended to ignore or erase its great relevance to our own history. For example, we have underestimated the importance of eight hundred years of Islamic society and culture in Spain between the 8th and 15th centuries. The contribution of Muslim Spain to the preservation of classical learning during the Dark Ages, and to the first flowerings of the Renaissance, has long been recognized. But Islamic Spain was much more than a mere larder where Hellenistic knowledge was kept for later consumption by the emerging modern Western world. Not only did Muslim Spain gather and preserve the intellectual content of ancient Greek and Roman civilization, it also interpreted and expanded upon that civilization, and made a vital contribution of its own in so many fields of human endeavour—in science, astronomy, mathematics, algebra (itself an Arabic word), law, history, medicine, pharmacology, optics, agriculture, architecture, theology, music. Averroes [Ibn Rushd] and Avenzoar [Ibn Zuhr], like their counterparts Avicenna [Ibn Sina] and Rhazes [Abu Bakr al Razi] in the East, contributed to the study and practice of medicine in ways from which Europe benefited for centuries afterwards.⁵

5 H.R.H the Prince of Wales, 'Islam and the West', a lecture given at the Sheldonian Theatre, Oxford on October 27th, 1993, pp.17-18.

On 4 June, 2009, US President Barack Obama said the following at Cairo University:

As a student of history, I also know civilization's debt to Islam. It was Islam—at places like Al Azhar—that carried the light of learning through so many centuries, paving the way for Europe's Renaissance and Enlightenment. It was innovation in Muslim communities that developed the order of algebra; our magnetic compass and tools of navigation; our mastery of pens and printing; our understanding of how disease spreads and how it can be healed. Islamic culture has given us majestic arches and soaring spires; timeless poetry and cherished music; elegant calligraphy and places of peaceful contemplation. And throughout history, Islam has demonstrated through words and deeds the possibilities of religious tolerance and racial equality.

I also know that Islam has always been a part of America's story. The first nation to recognize my country was Morocco. In signing the Treaty of Tripoli in 1796, our second President, John Adams, wrote, 'The United States has in itself no character of enmity against the laws, religion or tranquility of Muslims.' And since our founding, American Muslims have enriched the United States. They have fought in our wars, they have served in our government, they have stood for civil rights, they have started businesses, they have taught at our universities, they've excelled in our sports arenas, they've won Nobel Prizes, built our tallest building, and lit the Olympic Torch. And when the first Muslim American was recently elected to Congress, he took the oath to defend our Constitution using the same Holy Koran that one of our Founding Fathers—Thomas Jefferson—kept in his personal library.⁶

II. MAJOR DOCTRINAL DIVISIONS WITHIN ISLAM

MAJOR DOCTRINAL DIVISIONS IN SUNNI ISLAM

1) Ash'ari and Maturidi Schools: Sunni Orthodoxy¹

These two schools of doctrine are followed by the bulk of Sunni Muslims and differ only in minor details.

Ash'ari School: This school is named after the followers of the 9th century scholar Abu al Hasan al Ash'ari (874-936 CE) and is widely accepted throughout the Sunni Muslim world. They believe that the characteristics of God are ultimately beyond human comprehension, and trust in the Revelation is essential, although the use of rationality is important.

¹ Orthodoxy in Islam is based on verse 2:285 of the Holy Qur'an, and has been best defined by the historical 2005 international Islamic consensus on the 'three points' of the Amman Message (see: www.ammanmessage.com), these points being:

(a) Whosoever is an adherent to one of the four Sunni schools (Mathahib) of Islamic jurisprudence (Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i and Hanbali), the two Shi'a schools of Islamic jurisprudence (Ja'fari and Zaydi), the Ibadi school of Islamic jurisprudence and the Thahiri school of Islamic jurisprudence, is a Muslim. Declaring that person an apostate is impossible and impermissible. Verily his (or her) blood, honour, and property are inviolable. Moreover, in accordance with the Sheikh Al Azhar's fatwa, it is neither possible nor permissible to declare whosoever subscribes to the Ash'ari creed or whoever practices real Tasawwuf (Sufism) an apostate. Likewise, it is neither possible nor permissible to declare whosoever subscribes to true Salafi thought an apostate.

Equally, it is neither possible nor permissible to declare as apostates any group of Muslims who believes in God, Glorified and Exalted be He, and His Messenger (may peace and blessings be upon him) and the pillars of faith, and acknowledges the five pillars of Islam, and does not deny any necessarily self-evident tenet of religion.

(b) There exists more in common between the various schools of Islamic jurisprudence than there is difference between them. The adherents to the eight schools of Islamic jurisprudence are in agreement as regards the basic principles of Islam. All believe in Allah (God), Glorified and Exalted be He, the One and the Unique; that the Noble Qur'an is the Revealed Word of God; and that our master Muhammad, may blessings and peace be upon him, is a Prophet and Messenger unto all mankind. All are in agreement about the five pillars of Islam: the two testaments of faith (shahadatayn); the ritual prayer (salat); almsgiving (zakat); fasting the month of Ramadan (sawm), and the Hajj to the sacred house of God (in Mecca). All are also in agreement about the foundations of belief: belief in Allah (God), His angels, His scriptures, His messengers, and in the Day of Judgment, in Divine Providence in good and in evil. Disagreements between the ulema (scholars) of the eight schools of Islamic jurisprudence are only with respect to the ancillary branches of religion (furu') and not as regards the principles and fundamentals (usul) [of the religion of Islam]. Disagreement with respect to the ancillary branches of religion (furu') is a mercy. Long ago it was said that variance in opinion among the ulema (scholars) 'is a good affair'.

(c) Acknowledgement of the schools of Islamic jurisprudence (Mathahib) within Islam means adhering to a fundamental methodology in the issuance of fatwas: no one may issue a fatwa without the requisite personal qualifications which each school of Islamic jurisprudence determines [for its own adherents]. No one may issue a fatwa without adhering to the methodology of the schools of Islamic jurisprudence. No one may claim to do unlimited Ijtihad and create a new school of Islamic jurisprudence or to issue unacceptable fatwas that take Muslims out of the principles and certainties of the sharia and what has been established in respect of its schools of jurisprudence.

Maturidi School: This school is named after the followers of the 9th century scholar Muhammad Abu Mansur al Maturidi (853-944 CE) and has a wide following in regions where Hanafi law is practiced. They have a slightly more pronounced reliance on human reason.

2) Salafi School

This school was developed around the doctrines of 18th century scholar Muhammad ibn Abd al Wahhab (1703-1792 CE). Salafis have specific doctrinal beliefs, owing to their particular interpretation of Islam, that differentiate them from the majority of Sunnis, such as a literal anthropomorphic interpretation of God. Salafis place a great emphasis on literal interpretation of the Qur'an and Hadith, with skepticism towards the role of human reason in theology.

3) Mu'tazili School

This school was developed between the 8th and 10th centuries. Although it is traced back to Wasil ibn Ata (d. 748 CE) in Basra, theologians Abu al Hudhayl al 'Allaf (d. 849 CE) and Bishr ibn al Mu'tamir (d. 825 CE) are credited with formalizing its theological stance. Mu'tazili thought relies heavily on logic, including Greek philosophy. Although it no longer has a significant following, a small minority of contemporary intellectuals have sought to revive it. Mutazilites believe that the Qur'an was created as opposed to the Orthodox Sunni view that it is eternal and uncreated. Moreover they advocate using rationalism to understand allegorical readings of the Qur'an.

II. MAJOR DOCTRINAL DIVISIONS WITHIN ISLAM (CONTINUED)

IBADI SCHOOL

Ibadis believe that God created the Qur'an at a certain point in time, and that God will not be seen on the Day of Judgment. They also believe in the eternal nature of hell for all those who enter it.

MAJOR SHI'A THEOLOGICAL POSITIONS

1) The Twelver School

The infallibility ('Ismah) of the Twelve Imams descended from the family of the Prophet (Ahl al Bayt) who are believed to be the spiritual and rightful political authorities of the Muslim community (Umma). The twelfth Imam, the Mahdi, is believed to be in occultation to return in the future.

2) Isma'ili School

The Qur'an and Hadith are said to have truths lying with a single living Imam, descended directly from the Prophet. Also known as 'seveners' for their belief that Isma'il ibn Ja'far was the seventh and final leading-Imam of the Muslim community.

3) Zaidi School

The infallibility of the Twelve Imams and the notion of occultation are rejected in favor of accepting the leadership of a living Imam. The Imamate can be held by any descendant of the Prophet (Sayyid). Also known as 'fivers' for their belief that Zayd ibn Ali was the fifth and final leading-Imam of the Muslim community.

III. IDEOLOGICAL DIVISIONS

TRADITIONAL ISLAM (96% OF THE WORLD'S MUSLIMS)

Also known as Orthodox Islam, this ideology is not politicized and largely based on consensus of correct opinion—thus including the Sunni, Shi'a, and Ibadi branches of practice (and their subgroups) within the fold of Islam, and not groups such as the Druze or the Ahmadiyya, among others.

ISLAMIC MODERNISM (1% OF THE WORLD'S MUSLIMS)

Emerging from 19th century Ottoman Turkey and Egypt, this subdivision contextualized Islamic ideology for the times—emphasizing the need for religion to evolve with Western advances.

ISLAMIC FUNDAMENTALISM (3% OF THE WORLD'S MUSLIMS)

This is a highly politicized religious ideology popularized in the 20th century through movements within both the Shi'a and Sunni branches of Islam—characterized by aggressiveness and a reformist attitude toward traditional Islam.

IIIa. TRADITIONAL ISLAM

SUNNI (90% OF THE WORLD'S TRADITIONAL MUSLIMS)

The largest denomination of Muslims referred to as Ahl as Sunnah wa'l Jama'h or 'people of the prophetic tradition and community'—with emphasis on emulating the life of the last Prophet, Muhammad.

SCHOOLS OF ISLAMIC LAW

Hanafi (45.5%)

Named after the followers of Imam Abu Hanifa (699-767 CE/ 89-157 AH) in Iraq.

Shafi'i (28%)

Named after the followers of Imam al Shafi'i (767-820 CE/ 150-204 AH) in Medina.

Maliki (15%)

Named after the followers of Imam Malik (711-795 CE/ 93-179 AH) in Medina.

Hanbali (2%)

Named after the followers of Imam Ahmad bin Hanbal (780-855 CE/ 164-241 AH) in Iraq.

IBADI (0.5% OF THE WORLD'S TRADITIONAL MUSLIMS)

The Ibadi school has origins in and is linked to the Kharijites, but the modern day community is distinct from the 7th century Islamic sect. It was founded after the death of Prophet Muhammad and is currently practiced by a majority of Oman's Muslim population. Also found across parts of Africa.

SHI'Ā (9.5% OF THE WORLD'S TRADITIONAL MUSLIMS)

The second-largest denomination of Muslims referred to as Shi'atu 'Ali or 'the party of 'Ali,' the fourth caliph of Islam and first Imam in Shi'ism.

BRANCHES

Twelvers (8%)
Named after the followers of Imam Ja'far al Sadiq (702-765 CE/ 83-148 AH) in Medina.

Isma'ilis (Seveners) (Less than 0.5%)
Named after the followers of Muhammad ibn Ismail (746-809 CE/128-193 AH) in Medina.

Zaidis (Fivers) (Less than 1%)
Named after the followers of Imam Zaid ibn 'Ali (695-740 CE) in Medina.

SCHOOLS OF ISLAMIC LAW

Usuli

99% of Twelvers. This dominant school favors the use of ijtihad, independent legal reasoning, with an emphasis on four accepted collections of Hadith. Derive legal opinions from living ayatollahs, or mujtahids, whose rulings become obligatory. Taqlid, the practice of following rulings without questioning the religious authority, is a core tenet of this school. The name Usuli is derived from the Arabic term usul meaning 'principle'.

Akhbari

Akhbaris reject the use of ijtihad or reasoning, and do not follow marjas who practice ijtihad. They also prohibit exegesis of the Qur'an. Derive legal rulings from the Qur'an, Hadith, and consensus. The name Akhbari is derived from the Arabic term akhbar meaning 'traditions'. They can trace their roots to the followers of Muhammad Amin Astarabadi (d. 1627 CE). Akhbaris continue to exist to this day, although in small, concentrated pockets, particularly around Basra, Iraq.

MYSTIC BROTHERHOODS

Although reliable statistics are not available for the millions of Muslims who practice Islamic mysticism, it has been estimated that 25% of adult Sunni Muslims in 1900 CE participated in these brotherhoods as either murids (followers of the Sufi guide of a particular order) or mutabarrikin (supporters or affiliates of a particular Sufi order).

Sunni Orders

Naqshbandiyyah

Founded by Baha al Din Naqshband (d. 1389 CE) in Bukhara, modern day Uzbekistan. Influence: popular from China to North Africa, Europe and America.

Qadiriyyah

Founded by Persian scholar and saint 'Abd al Qadir al Jilani (1077-1166 CE) in Baghdad, Iraq. Influence: stretches from Morocco to Malaysia, from Central Asia to South Africa.

Tijaniyyah

Founded by the Algerian saint Ahmad al Tijani (d. 1815 CE) who settled and taught in Fez, Morocco. Influence: major spiritual and religious role in Senegal, Nigeria, Mauritania and much of Sub-Saharan Africa.

Shadiliyyah

Founded by the Moroccan saint Abu'l-Hassan al Shadili (d. 1258 CE). Influence: most influential in North Africa and Egypt.

Rifa'iyyah

Founded by Ahmad ibn 'Ali al Rifa'i (d. 1182 CE) in southern Iraq. Influence: widely practiced across the Muslim world with a strong presence in Egypt.

Suhrawardiyyah

Founded by Persian scholar Abu Najib Suhrawardi (d. 1168 CE) in Iraq. Influence: a strong presence in India.

Kubrawiyyah

Founded by Najm al Din Kubra (d. 1221 CE) from Khawarzm, modern day Uzbekistan. Influence: mostly present across Central Asia.

Shi'a Orders

Irfan

Irfan, which means 'knowing' in Arabic and 'most beautiful and knowledgeable person' in Pashto, is Shi'a mysticism. Mulla Sadr al Din Muhammad Shirazi (1571-1636 CE) from Iran is considered a leading theorist of Irfan in Shi'a Islam.

Mawlawiyyah

A Turkish order founded by the Persian saint and poet Jalal al Din Rumi (d. 1273 CE). Influence: mainly in Turkey.

Chishtiyyah

Founded by the Persian saint Mu'in al Din Chishti (d. 1236 CE) Khurasan. Influence: highly influential in India.

Khalwatiyyah

A Turkish order founded by the Persian saint 'Umar al Khalwati (d. 1397 CE). Influence: wide presence in the Balkans, Syria, Lebanon and North Africa.

Yashrutiyyah

Founded by 'Ali Nur al Din al Yashruti (d. 1892 CE) in Palestine. Influence: strong presence in Syria and Lebanon.

Badawiyyah

An Egyptian order founded by the Moroccan saint Ahmad al Badawi (d. 1276 CE), considered by many as the patron saint of Egypt. Influence: active role in Egypt and the Sudan.

IIIb. ISLAMIC FUNDAMENTALISM

SUNNI

MUSLIM BROTHERHOOD

The Muslim Brotherhood, or Al Ikhwan Al Muslimeen is a transnational Sunni movement, with no particular ideological adherence. It is the largest political opposition organization in many Arab states, particularly in Egypt where it was founded in opposition to colonial rule by Hassan al Banna in 1928.

Al Banna originally sought to revive Muslim culture from its position of exploitation under colonial rule, through charitable and educational work, to bring Islam into a central role in people's life. Sayyid Qutb (1906-1966 CE) was also a leading member of the Egyptian Muslim Brotherhood in the 50s and 60s.

WAHHABISM/SALAFISM

Wahhabism/Salafism are terms used interchangeably to refer to a particular brand of Islam. Salaf, meaning predecessors, refers to the very early practice of Islam by Muhammad and his immediate successors. Salafism seeks to revive the practice of Islam as it was at the time of Muhammad and can be critical of too much emphasis being placed on thinkers from after this period. Muhammad ibn 'Abd al Wahhab (1703-1792 CE) was an important figure in the resurrection of this ideology therefore Salafism is often simply known as Wahhabism.

SHI'A

REVOLUTIONARY SHI'ISM

Revolutionary Shi'ism is an ideology, based on the teachings of the late Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini (1902-1989 CE), which shares many similarities with Marxist revolutionary thought. Khomeini believed that the only way to secure independence from colonial or imperial forces was through the creation of a Shi'a state, under the idea of Velayat-e Faqih (Guardianship of the Jurist). This means that all politics is subject to the opinion of the Supreme Leader who is responsible for the continued success of the revolution. It is only practiced in Iran.

IIIc. ISLAMIC MODERNISM

Islamic modernism is a reform movement started by politically-minded urbanites with scant knowledge of traditional Islam. These people had witnessed and studied Western technology and socio-political ideas, and realized that the Islamic world was being left behind technologically by the West and had become too weak to stand up to it. They blamed this weakness on what they saw as 'traditional Islam,' which they thought held them back and was not 'progressive' enough. They thus called for a complete overhaul of Islam, including—or rather in particular—Islamic law (sharia) and doctrine (aqida). Islamic modernism remains popularly an object of derision and ridicule, and is scorned by traditional Muslims and fundamentalists alike.

1

HIS MAJESTY KING ABDULLAH BIN 'ABD AL 'AZIZ AL SAUD

King of Saudi Arabia, Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques

King Abdullah bin 'Abd al 'Aziz al Saud of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques is the most influential Muslim in the world. Saudi Arabia is geopolitically important as the most powerful Arab nation in the region. He also garners influence globally for Saudi Arabia's international role as an exporter of crude oil and refined petroleum products.

Country: Saudi Arabia

Date of Birth: 1 August 1924

Source of Influence: Political, Administrative, Lineage

Influence: 25.3 million Saudis, 2.4 million Hajj pilgrims, over 3 million Umrah pilgrims in 2008

School of Thought: Moderate Salafi

Custodian of the Two Holy Mosques

King Abdullah has significant influence in the global Muslim community through his custodianship of the two holy sites of Mecca and Medina. Mecca is the main pilgrimage site for 1.5 billion Muslims—of which 2.4 million fulfill their religious obligation annually.

Controls World's Largest Oil Reserves

King Abdullah reigns over a land of massive crude oil reserves—Saudi Arabia has approximately 25% of the world's proven oil reserves—making him a key player in the global petroleum industry.

Controls Largest Da'wa Network

He is also head of the most extensive da'wa network of missionary Muslims in the world, promoting the Salafi brand of Islam. Salafism is historically rooted in Saudi Arabia, and owes its global spread to financial backing from the Saudi Royal Family.

Reformer

King Abdullah has proven his domestic influence in Saudi Arabia through his ability to enact multiple landmark reforms to fight corruption, balance the Saudi budget, tailor the education system, address women's and minority rights, engage in interreligious diplomacy as well as tackle problems in the justice system. He has:

- Appended the Baya Council, a 38-man family council to legitimize the process of choosing successors to the throne.
- Cleaned up corruption in the Royal Family.
- Increased the representation of minorities in Saudi governance including increased Shi'a representation in the Shura Council.
- He increasingly gives women a voice and increased their social participation.
- Took educational administration out of the hands of religious leaders and gave authority instead to the educational establishment.
- Presented a $10 billion endowment for the King Abdullah University of Science and Technology.
- Systematically replaced hard-line Salafi judges with moderate leaders in the Saudi court system. Employed personal interventions within the justice system—in particular regard to marriages.

- Cut the funding power of the morality police.
- Convened a global interfaith summit in 2008 and subsequently issued the Madrid Declaration, which calls for tolerance between religions and a culture of peace.
- The first Saudi monarch in 51 years to address the UN General Assembly and the first reigning Saudi monarch to have met with a pope, Pope Benedict XVI in November 2007.
- Donated $50 million in cash and $10 million-worth of relief materials for the 2008 Sichuan Earthquake in China and pledged a $1 billion donation towards the reconstruction of the Palestinian coastal territory during the Israeli war on Gaza.

HIS EMINENCE GRAND AYATOLLAH HAJJ SAYYID ALI KHAMENEI

Supreme Leader of the Islamic Republic of Iran

Grand Ayatollah Khamenei is the Supreme Leader of the Islamic Republic of Iran. He was born in Mashhad in the far north east of Iran, and studied in the leading Iranian religious seminary in Qom, before becoming involved in the struggle with the Pahlavi Regime in the sixties and seventies.

Supreme Leader, Velayat-e Faqih

Khomeini's current influence stems from his powerful position as a religious leader, which gives him a unique role in political affairs. His job is to enact the Velayat-e Faqih—the guardianship of the jurist. In real terms this means a system where scholars of fiqh (Islamic jurisprudence) have a controlling say in the political affairs of the state. The rule of the jurist was a concept created by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, based on ideas that have run through Iranian political history since the time of Shah Ismail—who was the first to make Shi'a Islam the national religion of Iran. It was conceived in a battle against oppression as a way of safeguarding the Iranian nation from tyranny, giving the final say in all matters to a group of religious scholars, the Council of Guardians. This Council is headed by a chief arbitrator—the Supreme Leader.

Country: Iran

Date of Birth: 17 July 1939

Source of Influence: Political, Administrative

Influence: Supreme Leader of 72 million Iranians

School of Thought: Traditional Twelver Shi'a, Revolutionary Shi'ism

Leader of Shi'a Revolution

Khamenei gains much of his influence in Iran from his role as a leader of the Islamic Revolution. The Islamic Republic of Iran was forged out of the 1979 Iranian Revolution. Combating what many saw as the tyrannical rule of the Shah, Khamenei joined the Society of Combatant Clergy that staged demonstrations mobilizing many of the protests leading to the Shah's overthrow. After the revolution in 1979 he was one of the founding members of the Islamic Republic Party, and a member of the assembly of experts that was responsible for drafting Iran's new constitution.

3

HIS MAJESTY KING MOHAMMED VI

King of Morocco

Known as Amir al Mu'minin, or Commander of the Faithful, King Mohammad VI of Morocco is lauded for his domestic reform policies and pioneering efforts in modernizing Morocco and countering terrorism. He tackles issues of poverty, vulnerability and social exclusion at home, and has improved relations with countries abroad. He is an influential leader, mainly due to his position as the only legitimate contender for the Islamic Caliphate, for his control of the network of Muslims following the Maliki school of Islamic jurisprudence, and as a leading monarch in Africa.

Country: Morocco

Date of Birth: 21 August 1963

Source of Influence: Political, Administrative, Development

Influence: 31.6 million Moroccans

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni, Maliki

Contender for the Caliphate

King Mohammad VI's lineage makes him the only legitimate contender for the Islamic Caliphate, as successor to a 350 year-old dynasty. The Alaouite Dynasty links back to the Prophet Muhammad. He possesses the only authentic claim to an Islamic Caliphate, if one were to be established. Indeed, the Moroccans never recognized the Ottoman Caliphate on the grounds that the Ottomans were not descended from the Prophet Muhammad.

Control of Maliki Network

King Mohammad VI also leads the oldest Islamic establishment of Maliki Muslims. The Maliki madhab is the third largest school of jurisprudence in Islam. This school bases its rulings on the Qur'an and Hadith but also predominantly derives its practices from the work of Malik ibn Anas (711-795 CE) and his texts, the Al Muwatta and Al Mudawana. Since early in his reign, King Mohammed has implemented the Mudawana family law code that gives rights to women in divorce and property ownership, as well as citizenship to children born from non-Moroccan fathers. He has also commissioned the Islamic Affairs Ministry to train women preachers, or Morchidat, who are now active chaplains to Moroccans across the globe.

Huge Influence over Muslims in Africa

King Mohammed VI leads the largest African monarchy, with a population of 32 million. Besides political links, Morocco maintains strong spiritual ties with Muslims all over Africa. Morocco is the site of the tomb of a highly revered Sufi sheikh, Mawlana Ahmed Ibn Mohammed Tijani al Hassani al Maghribi (1735-1815 CE), the founder of the Tijaniyya Sufi order, whose shrine attracts millions from across the continent. Morocco is also recognized as a source for the spread of Islam through West Africa. Thus, King Mohammed VI exercises vast amounts of power and influence over Muslims in Morocco, throughout Africa, and the rest of the world. He leads one of the most stable constitutional monarchies in the region, which is also the center of a moderate, flourishing Muslim culture.

Patron of the Al Qarawiyyin University

King Mohammad VI controls the oldest university in the world, the University of Al Qarawiyyin, in Fez, which was established in 859 CE.

4

HIS MAJESTY KING ABDULLAH II BIN AL HUSSEIN

King of the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan

King Abdullah II of Jordan has influence in Jordan and around the world due to his lineage in the Hashemite family, his custodianship of Jerusalem and activism on various fronts—from freedom of the press and reformed domestic policy to international diplomacy. He is noted for having developed Jordan's free market economy, arts and culture scene, as well as addressing issues of homelessness and poverty in his reign as King.

Country: Jordan

Date of Birth: 30 January 1962

Source of Influence: Political, Lineage

Influence: Approximately 6.2 million Jordanians and outreach to Traditional Islam

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni

Prophetic Lineage

King Abdullah II is a member of the Hashemite family and the 42nd generation direct descendant of the Prophet Muhammad through the lineage of the Prophet's grandson al Hasan. The Hashemites, or Bani Hashem, link back to the tribe of Quraish. Hashem was the name of the Prophet's great-grandfather. King Abdullah II is thus a member of the Ahl al Bayt (the family of the Prophet Muhammad).

Ruling Dynasty

The Hashemite family ruled Mecca from 1201 CE to 1925 CE and other branches of the family have ruled Mecca from 500 CE, when Qusayy, the grandfather of Hashem, became Mecca's first King. His dynasty is the oldest ruling dynasty in the Islamic world, and the second-oldest in the world, after that of Japan.

Custodian of Holy Sites in Jerusalem

As custodian of the Muslim holy sites in the city of Jerusalem, King Abdullah maintains a unique prestige in the region.

Islamic Outreach

King Abdullah has proven influence at the forefront of a global intrafaith movement, through the creation of the Amman Message, a call for greater intra-religions tolerance and unity in Islam that was endorsed by representatives from all major Muslim groups in 2004. He is also credited with the Royal Aal al Bayt Institute for Islamic Thought's most authoritative website on Qur'an and tafsir or Qur'anic exegesis (Al-Tafsir.com). An extensive resource for Islamic scholarship, Al-Tafsir.com includes Arabic texts from over 90 commentaries of the Qur'an, Hadith texts, among other tools for research of the Qur'anic sciences, with daily hits in the thousands. He is also noted for founding the new World Islamic Sciences and Education University in Jordan (www.wise.edu.jo).

He is also lauded as an interfaith leader for the 2007 initiative, A Common Word—a groundbreaking initiative in Christian-Muslim engagement (www.acommonword.com).

Peace Activist

King Abdullah is the leading player in the dialogue for peace in Israel-Palestine. He has constantly and openly called for a discussion on the negotiations toward a two-state solution in the region since his ascension to the throne in 1999.

5

HIS EXCELLENCY RECEP TAYYIP ERDOGAN

Prime Minister of the Republic of Turkey

Erdogan is the prime minister of one of the most populous and economically developed Muslim-majority countries in the world. Although Turkey has been run according to the ideals of secularism since the end of the Ottoman Empire, the populace is predominantly religious, and primarily Muslim. Erdogan is also the chairman of the ruling AK Party (Adalet ve Kalkınma Partisi; Justice and Development Party). The name of AK Party's official ideology is 'conservative democracy,' an attempt to create a vision of a Muslim democracy in an aggressively secular country.

Country: Turkey

Date of Birth: 26 February 1954

Source of Influence: Political

Influence: Leads government of 71.5 million Turkish citizens

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni

A Popular Reformist

The political power that he now has, is in part due to the AK Party's ability to institute political reforms; both to produce major economic growth and also to enfranchise religious Muslim voters. In 2007, the party proposed a popular but controversial bill that called for lifting the ban on Muslim headscarves at universities. However, it is still legally forbidden to wear hijab at Turkish universities.

Despite his party's Islamic orientation, Erdogan has put increased emphasis on Turkey's accession to the EU—both in Ankara and Brussels. In fact, the stress on EU accession is partially because of his party's Islamic orientation, as accession to the EU requires further religious freedom reforms that are sought by Turkey's Muslim population. He also is leading groundbreaking initiatives to ensure the rights of Turkey's Kurdish population, and its religious minorities—underlining democratic reform as a core mission of his leadership.

A Mediator

Erdogan is building Turkey's stature on the world stage. He is exerting influence as a regional peacemaker by brokering peace talks between Syria and Israel, and has sought to create a role for Turkey as a bridge between cultures and civilizations. The Alliance of Civilizations initiative of the United Nations—that Erdogan initiated with the Spanish president, Jose Luis Rodriguez Zapatero—has become a key forum for international, intercultural, and interreligious dialogue and cooperation, with a particular emphasis on tensions that exist between the Muslim world and the West.

Good Neighbor Policy

Erdogan has led a new approach in Turkish foreign relations through his adoption of a 'good neighbor policy' towards Turkey's surrounding countries. During Erdogan's leadership Turkey has focused on building stronger relations with all of its seven land-contiguous neighbors (especially Greece) and also all of those countries bordering the Black Sea (an important trading hub and geopolitically significant area).

6

HIS MAJESTY SULTAN QABOOS BIN SA'ID AL SA'ID

Sultan of Oman

Sultan Qaboos bin Sa'id al Sa'id, the 14th descendant of the Al Bu Sa'idi dynasty, is a socially and politically active monarch, reigning for almost 40 years since he ascended to power in 1970. He has revolutionized and modernized Oman, transforming it from a poor, isolationist nation into a land closely-linked with the African continent and devoted to economic development, regional stability, and religious tolerance.

Country: Oman
Date of Birth: 18 November 1940
Source of Influence: Lineage, Political, Development
Influence: Leader of 3.4 million citizens and residents of Oman
School of Thought: Traditional Ibadi

Leader of Omani Sultanate

Sultan Qaboos al Sa'id reigns over a country strategically situated in the Gulf region. Oman has a stake in the crude oil market due to the Strait of Hormuz, which connects the Gulf of Oman to the Persian Gulf and the Arabian Sea, transporting about 40% of daily seaborne traded oil and 20% of all oil traded worldwide, according to the US Energy Information Administration.

Historically, Oman is significant as one of the only countries with a large population of Ibadi Muslims and as the most authoritative state in the Ibadi movement—one that is recognized as one of the oldest schools of Islamic thought.

Beacon of Islam

Sultan Qaboos has helped build or restore thousands of mosques at his personal expense, the grandest being the Sultan Qaboos Mosque, which can accommodate up to 20,000 worshippers. He is a discreet but strong supporter of moderate Islam. The Sultan has created a unique Islamic culture in Oman that has carefully combined the best of traditional Islam with the benefits of the modern world. He has promoted culturally-specific Islamic dress, art, architecture, culture and education, and is a keen advocate of the protection of the environment. This quiet, measured rise has made Oman a hidden pearl of the Islamic world.

Personal Leadership

The Sultan has raised the Omani standard of living by building up Oman's school system, healthcare, infrastructure, and economy. He cites political participation as one of his major long-term goals. Within the last two decades, he has introduced political reforms including a bicameral representative body, a basic law, universal suffrage, and a Supreme Court. Moreover, despite Oman's relative lack of oil and gas compared to other Gulf States, the Sultan has invested his country's wealth so wisely that all citizens are guaranteed free education until Ph.Ds (should they qualify); free healthcare; free land; soft loans for building homes; jobs and social security for the disabled, orphans and widows. Furthermore, unlike neighboring countries, Oman has resolved all its border demarcation issues with all its neighbors, has no foreign debt and has a Sovereign Wealth Reserve Fund of over 30 billion Riyals (about $100 billion). Oman is thus arguably the best administrated country in the Islamic world, if not in the whole world.

International Leader

He has been recognized by organizations such as the United Nations and the National Council of US-Arab Relations for his leadership in the Arabian Gulf region. In 2008, he presided over the GCC Summit, where he was commended for his ongoing efforts toward political and economic cooperation amongst the GCC states. Sultan Qaboos has made an effort to strengthen ties between Oman and Iran, as well as the strategic partnership between Oman and India—showing the Sultan’s foresight in carving an international policy independent of that of his Arab neighbors.

HIS EMINENCE GRAND AYATOLLAH SAYYID ALI HUSSEINI SISTANI

Marja of the Hawza, Najaf, Iraq

Grand Ayatollah Sayyid Ali Hussein Sistani is the prime marja, or spiritual reference for Ithna'Asharia (Twelver) Shi'a Muslims. He is the leader of the Hawza Seminary in Najaf, Iraq and the preeminent Shi'a cleric globally. Sistani is one of the most respected of the marjaiyya—the highest position of authority in the Usuli school of Twelver Shi'a fiqh.

Preeminent Shi'a Cleric and Marja Taqlid

Sistani's influence in the Twelver Shi'a sect stems from his scholarly lineage and education, which has enabled him to reach the status of marja taqlid—the highest status in the Usuli branch of Twelver Shi'a Islam. Marja taqlid means literally one who is worthy of being imitated—placing Sistani in a position of great authority over Twelver Shi'a Muslims. There are currently only 29 marjas worldwide. Sistani is descended from a family of religious scholars, and was educated in the leading institutions in Iran. He later went to Najaf, Iraq to study under the Grand Ayatollah Abu al Qasim al Khoei. On Khoei's death in 1992 Sistani took over as grand ayatollah, inheriting al Khoei's following. He soon rose to become the leading cleric in Iraq. With the recent opening of Iraqi shrines to Iranian tourists Sistani is gaining a following outside of Iraq.

Country: Iraq

Date of Birth: 4 August 1930

Source of Influence: Scholarly, Lineage

Influence: Highest authority for 17-20 million Iraqi Shi'a, and also internationally as a moral and religious authority to Usuli Twelver Shi'a worldwide

School of Thought: Traditional Twelver Shi'a, Usuli

Financial Influence

Sistani also has very significant financial clout due to his position as marja. As a marja his followers give him a religious tax (khums, Arabic for one fifth). The redistribution of this tax for the common good is one of the key roles of a marja. Much of this remittance is redistributed through the Al Khoei Foundation—the largest Twelver Shi'a development organization in the world that maintains a network of educational and humanitarian establishments for both Shi'a and non-Shi'a Muslims.

Quietist Influence

Significantly Sistani is against the idea of Velayat-e Faqih, suggesting Shi'a clerics should not get involved in politics. Paradoxically this approach has afforded him very strong influence as a religious leader unsullied by politics. We can see this after the Iraq invasion when Sistani issued a legal ruling (fatwa) calling on the clergy to guide Iraq's populace, and later during the 2005 elections when he issued a ruling telling Shi'a women that they were religiously obliged to vote. Ali Sistani has used his position of quietist authority to wield influence also as a peacemaker in the turbulent post-invasion Iraq. At a time when Sistani was losing support to Sheikh Muqtada al Sadr, he showed his sway by arranging a lasting deal between Sadr and US forces at the Imam Ali Shrine in Najaf in 2005—a deal that secured the Shrine and pushed for an American retreat.

HIS EMINENCE SHEIKH AL AZHAR DR MUHAMMAD SAYYID TANTAWI

Grand Sheikh of the Al Azhar University,
Grand Imam of the Al Azhar Mosque

Sheikh Muhammad Sayyid Tantawi is the Grand Imam of the Al Azhar Mosque and the Grand Sheikh of the Al Azhar University—the second oldest university in the world, founded in 975 CE. He is the leading authority for the vast majority of Sunni Muslims, and the head of the foremost Islamic educational institution.

Spiritual Leader of Al Azhar University

Tantawi's central influence comes from his position as the current head of the Al Azhar University. Al Azhar is the second oldest university in the world, and is the premier institution for Sunni Islamic scholarship, with a global outreach through 72 feeder schools, and more affiliated organizations. At any one time there are close to 300,000 students studying at Al Azhar, whose degrees will make them well-respected scholars of Islam in their communities. Including schools that are part of Al Azhar waqf initiatives there are close to 2 million students. This immense size and grounded respect make the head of Al Azhar an extraordinarily powerful and academically influential person. His position at the head of such an organization is due to his education in the leading institutions of Islamic education around the world. He has been a student of the Islamic sciences for over 60 years—studying in Egypt and Libya before leading the postgraduate department of Qur'anic commentary (tafsir) at the Islamic University of Medina in Saudi Arabia. In the mid-eighties Tantawi moved back to Egypt to head Al Azhar's faculty of Islamic Studies and Arabic, before being made Mufti of Egypt—a position he held for 10 years until he became the Grand Sheikh of Al Azhar.

Key Commentator on the Qur'an

Tantawi's ability to talk about Islam and his scholarly influence are founded on the Islamic practice of tafsir, that is, commentary on the Qur'an. His current influence is seen in his close participation with the creation of the first online tafsir database (www.altafsir.com).

Moderate Authority

Tantawi has secured his place as the bastion of Islamic moderation through a number of pragmatic legal rulings. He has been most influential as the moderate voice of the Islamic establishment. On thorny issues of the day, Tantawi has kept a cool head seeking judicious and restrained responses. On the issue of terrorism, Tantawi was quick to brand the perpetrators of terrorist acts as heretics, stating that it is not courageous 'to kill an innocent person, or to kill thousands of people, including men and women and children'. On other controversial issues such as apostasy, abortion in cases of rape, and female circumcision Tantawi has bucked popular trends and taken a liberal view.

SHEIKH DR YUSUF AL QARADAWI

Head of the International Union of Muslim Scholars

Yusuf al Qaradawi is an Egyptian scholar. He is articulate, widely read, and is one of the most widely commented on scholars of Islam. He is one of the intellectual leaders of the Muslim Brotherhood movement and a founder of the website IslamOnline.

Leading Figure of the Muslim Brotherhood

Qaradawi is incredibly influential as an intellectual leader of the Muslim Brotherhood—one of the most important modern movements in Islam. He has twice turned down offers to be their leader—in 1976 and 2004—preferring to be free of institutional restrictions. Qaradawi grew up and matured with the Muslim Brotherhood but has distanced himself from the movement in recent years. As early as 1997 he went out of his way to explain his independence from any organization, stating categorically that he was not a member of the Brotherhood. Earlier in his life Qaradawi was jailed three times for his relationship with the Muslim Brotherhood and subsequently stripped of his Egyptian Citizenship in the 1970s—driving him to seek exile in Qatar. The Muslim Brotherhood remains the main opposition force in Egypt. Although he has no formal relationship with the Muslim Brotherhood, his writings make him an important intellectual figure in the Muslim Brotherhood movement.

Country: Qatar

Date of Birth: 9 September 1926

Source of Influence: Scholarly

Influence: Leading scholar for global Muslim Brotherhood movement, host of 'Ash-Shariah wal-Hayat' on Al Jazeera with 40 million viewers worldwide

School of Thought: Traditional Muslim/Salafi

Popular Influence

Qaradawi is incredibly influential as a vociferous voice of criticism of the West and of Israel. Much of Qaradawi's influence over the past decade has been a product of his forthright views on combating social injustice, especially concerning Israeli-Palestinian relations. His view that suicide bombing is a legitimate form of self-defense has landed him in trouble in western Europe, but is reflective of an underlying sentiment among many in the Middle East that oppression deserves such a response—however he goes against the grain of most leading Islamic thinkers by supporting suicide bombing as a tactic of war.

Traditional Scholar for Modern Times

Qaradawi's ability to combine the traditional knowledge of Islamic law with a contemporary understanding of the issues that Muslims face today, have lead him to become one of the best known and most influential contemporary Muslim clerics of our time. He uses a variety of means to connect with people. He is well known for his popular Al Jazeera program 'Ash-Shariah wal-Hayat' (Islamic Law and Life) that is watched by an estimated 40 million people worldwide. Despite his popularity, Qaradawi is often criticized by fellow scholars regarding his methodology and his occasionally unusual opinions. He does however continue to be respected as a knowledgeable scholar and has been praised for his condemnation of the September 11th attacks.

HIS EMINENCE SHEIKH DR ALI GOMA'A

Grand Mufti of Egypt

Sheikh Ali Goma'a is the Grand Mufti of the Arab Republic of Egypt. He is the second highest Sunni authority in Egypt after Sheikh Tantawi and one of the foremost Islamic scholars in the world. Goma'a is responsible for the Dar al Ifta al Masriyyah, a leading institute for Islamic legal research, and the legal arm of the Egyptian Ministry of Justice, which is responsible for passing official religious rulings.

Country: Egypt

Date of Birth: 3 March 1953

Source of Influence: Scholarly, Political

Influence: Legal authority for 77 million Egyptians

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni, Shafi'i

Egypt's Weight in Islamic Scholarship

Goma'a's scholarly influence is derived from his position at the center of many of the most significant institutions of Islamic law in the world. Before becoming Grand Mufti, Goma'a was a professor of jurisprudence at Al Azhar University—the second oldest university in the world, founded in 975 CE—and served as a member of the Fatwa Council. He is currently a member of the International Islamic Fiqh Academy, the highest institute of Islamic law of the Organization of the Islamic Conference—an intergovernmental organization for Muslim-majority countries.

Personal Popularity

Goma'a has become incredibly popular as a mufti since he began to appear on popular broadcast and satellite television. Part of his appeal is due to the revival of the old Islamic practice of informal 'knowledge circles' at the Al Azhar Mosque, and very well attended Q&A sessions after his Friday sermons at the Sultan Hasan Mosque, where Goma'a makes a point of taking on anyone who tries to simplify or distort Islamic teachings without knowledge of its traditions. This has made him extremely popular with those who are uncomfortable with extremism.

Popularized and Simplified Fatwas

Goma'a has immense legal influence through his advocacy of Islamic legal rulings (fatwa). Since he was appointed Grand Mufti of Egypt in 2003, Goma'a has modernized the process of issuing fatwas in Egypt. He has done this by overhauling the Dar al Ifta organization into a dynamic institution with worldwide reach, based on a fatwa council and a system of checks and balances. He has been forthright in his criticism of poorly thought-out fatwas calling those who make such rulings criminals.

High-Tech Influence

Goma'a has authored over 50 books, as well as hundreds of articles. He now uses the Dar al Ifta to get his scholarly opinion out. His office issues some 5,000 fatwas a week, with official ones on important issues written by him and the routine ones dealt with via phone and the Internet by a team of subordinate muftis. He believes that respect for traditionalism is growing in the Muslim world, partly because of the immense demand for fatwas issued by his office.

11

HIS EMINENCE SHEIKH ABDUL AZIZ IBN ABDULLAH AAL AL SHEIKH Grand Mufti of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia

As the Grand Mufti, Sheikh Abdul Aziz ibn Abdullah Aal al Sheikh has the highest position of religious authority in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. He is an Islamic scholar based in Mecca—the seat of Sunni Islam—and has influence as a leading cleric of the expansive global movement of Salafi Muslims.

Head of Sunni Jurisprudential Committees

Sheikh Abdul Aziz Aal al Sheikh is chairman of the Council of Senior Scholars, a scientific consultative commission composed of leading Sunni specialists of sharia (Islamic law). He has been behind fatwas that call for more rights for women and children.

Al Sheikh is also chairman of the Permanent Committee for Islamic Research and fatwas (religious rulings), a special committee designated for the researching and issuing of religious rulings on jurisprudence, the Hadith, and creed for the Sunni world.

As head of the Presidency for Scientific Research and Religious Edicts (Dar al Ifta), al Sheikh is often the spokesperson for controversial rulings issued from the Kingdom. He is recognized for his influence in enforcing a distinct view of Islamic tradition. In 2008, he publicly criticized Muslim televangelists that encouraged Muslims to celebrate birthdays and anniversaries—stressing, instead, that only the two occasions of 'Eid and the weekly Friday observations are valid occasions to celebrate. In this, and also in his condemnation of Turkish soap operas sweeping the Arab world, al Sheikh has stressed the importance of eliminating distracting practices. He is also ardently opposed to the practice of marrying off very young girls to older men, stressing its incongruence with human decency and Islamic tradition.

Central Figure of Global Salafi Movement

As Grand Mufti of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, al Sheikh is the leading religious figure of the Saudi-based network of Salafi Muslims. He stresses the importance of adhering to a literal interpretation of the scripture and following Islam as it was practiced by the early generations of Muslims. The rulings derived by al Sheikh are based heavily on a literal reading of the Qur'an and emphasize the need to strip away innovative cultural practices that have become a part of Muslims' lives across cultures. The movement he leads is characterized by an authoritative stance on Islamic religious practice.

Eminent Scholarship

Grand Mufti al Sheikh is recognized as a leading contemporary scholar of Islam. He has leveraged this influence by openly speaking out against Osama bin Laden and Al Qaeda as entities that push a dangerous ideological terrorism. He spoke for the need for a war—to be fought by academics, the media, religious leaders and even parents—against deviant thought that leads overzealous Muslims toward extremism and violence.

MOHAMMAD MAHDI AKEF

Supreme Guide of the Muslim Brotherhood

Mohammad Mahdi Akef became Supreme Guide of the Muslim Brotherhood in 2004. He has since actively led the largest Islamic political party in Egypt, arranging mass protests criticizing the conflict in Gaza, and demanding an apology from the Pope during his trip to Jordan, among other things; all in the face of mounting criticism of the Brotherhood's beliefs and practices.

Leader of an Expansive Muslim Network

Akef heads the oldest and largest Muslim social, religious, and political organization in existence.

The Muslim Brotherhood forms the leading opposition party in many Muslim countries and has branches in most of the Muslim world, besides its base in Egypt. Members of the organization are found in Bahrain, Syria, Palestine, Israel, Jordan, Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Algeria, Sudan, Somalia, Tunisia, and Libya, as well as the United States.

In his five years leading the Muslim Brotherhood, Akef has constantly spoken out against injustices against Muslims in Egypt and other countries. In May 2009, Akef made a public statement about the need for Egypt to acknowledge gratefulness for Hasan Nasrallah's support of the Palestinian resistance.

Head of a Leading Islamic Reform Movement

Akef distinguishes himself and the Brotherhood through a distinctive take on Islamic law, stating that apostasy should not be punishable, rather permitted as a freedom to all Muslims. With a firm belief that constitutional reform is possible in Egypt, Akef encourages Muslims to be more proactive in staking their claims to a more representative and more Islamic government. Akef has often pushed for the Muslim Brotherhood's mission of political activism and economic development in Muslim countries as an internal process, without the interference of foreign entities. He openly criticized the US 'Greater Middle East Initiative' by presenting a counter proposal in 2006 of political and economic reforms promoted by the Brotherhood—it has been popularly seen in Egypt as more valid than the US proposal.

What makes the Muslim Brotherhood and Akef's work distinct and far more influential than other Islamic political parties is the emphasis on making faith a guidepost in all political endeavors and, importantly, neither a hindrance to political progress nor a deficiency. This has been both a source of massive support, but also criticism—critics saw that the use of 'Islam is the Solution' as a campaign slogan took away from its legitimacy as a political organization.

HODJAEFENDI FETHULLAH GÜLEN

Turkish Muslim Preacher

Fethullah Gülen is a preacher, thinker and educator, who having assumed the leadership of the Nurcu religious movement—started by Said Nursî (1878-1960 CE)—has gone on to become a global phenomenon in his own right. His popularity and authority in Turkey has been the driving force of the movement that is widely thought to have brought about the social and eventually political changes of which politician Recep Tayyip Erdogan has been the ultimate heir—that is the enfranchisement of Muslim politics in Turkey. Despite his peaceful means of preaching and community organization, Gülen is hated by the secularist establishment in Turkey and has been living in the US since 1999.

Country: Turkey

Date of Birth: 27 April 1941

Source of Influence: Scholarly

Influence: Figure of spiritual and social leadership for millions of Turkish Muslims and others around the world

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni

Humanitarian Reformer

Gülen and his followers have devoted considerable energy in recent years on interreligious dialogue with tens of interfaith centers in Europe and the US being opened to foster better relations across faiths. He also is the head of a series of socially oriented philanthropic efforts. His teaching underscores that there are no material shortages in the world, and that there is no justification for starvation. He has established many charities to distribute wealth to the needy.

Catalyst for Educational Change

When he began preaching in Izmir—in his youth—a network of pupils began to unite around his teachings—as a 'social movement' inspired by Gülen's example. This movement has culminated in the development of around 300 schools in Turkey and hundreds more worldwide. Graduates from these private schools around the world are coached in ethics and philosophy that are inspired by his teachings, and continue to take top honors in university placement tests.

Influence in the Media

The movement has opened hospitals and charities, but also a TV and radio station, as well as a bank—Asya Finans—that operates on Islamic principles. Gülen also has two major mass-circulation daily Turkish newspapers that are affiliated with his movement: 'Zaman' and the English-language 'Today's Zaman'. The network has also initiated a Journalists and Writers Foundation and a Teachers Foundation—providing an umbrella organization for a host of dialogue groups and charitable organizations.

Thinker

Gülen is one of the most important thinkers and writers from Turkey, and among the most effective activists in twentieth-century Turkey. The Gülen movement is one of the best connected and therefore most powerful of the networks that are competing to influence Muslims around the globe, making it likely to have an enduring impact on the modernization of Islam and its engagement with Western ideas.

14

AMR KHALED

Preacher and Social Activist

Amr Khaled has been a televangelist to the Islamic world since 1998. Described as the 'world's most influential Muslim television preacher' by The New York Times Magazine, and ranked as the 13th most influential person in the world by TIME Magazine. He communicates through his TV shows and web campaigns using Islamic ethics as a way to inspire, foster community development, tolerance and inter-cultural relations.

Popular Media Figure

Part of Khaled's influence derives from the fact that he appeals to the common person. He holds a degree in accounting, and has no formal religious education; wears suits and ties, not flowing robes; and has a clean-shaven face except for a trimmed moustache—everything you do not expect from a Muslim preacher. His everyman appeal has led to immense popularity. Khaled's television shows are broadcast by four Arab satellite stations but air primarily on Saudi-based religious channel Iqraa. Khaled's speeches are published online, on bestselling cassettes and CDs. His website is translated from Arabic to nearly twenty languages and rivals Oprah Winfery's in terms of traffic.

Voice for the Youth

Amr Khaled is a pioneering Muslim preacher and effective social activist who is revered by many as the leader of a revival in the Muslim world, but his influence stems largely from the fact that he engages young people. Youth in the Middle East and North Africa face disproportionate challenges, such as unemployment and social exclusion—obstacles, which make it difficult to compete with development in other areas of the world. Faith is important to young people in the Middle East, but they do not connect with the majority of preachers whose teachings do not speak to the problems in their lives.

Community Development

Khaled's goal is to encourage community development in the Muslim world by its own people with religious faith as the guiding inspiration—something he believes should be linked to interfaith dialogue, tolerance and moderation. The break up of communities is something he sees as responsible for the malaise in the Muslim world, and something he believes puts the future of young people in jeopardy. One program he has launched to realize this objective of community development is Life Makers, which has a stated goal of producing a renaissance for the Arab and Muslim world.

HAJJI MOHAMMED ABD AL WAHHAB

Ameer of Tablighi Jamaat, Pakistan

Leader of the Pakistan chapter of the Tablighi Jamaat—a transnational Islamic organization dedicated to spreading the message of religious conservatism and renewed spirituality—Hajji Abd al Wahhab is a prominent Pakistani scholar with a significant following in South Asia and the United Kingdom. Although the organization does not have a central authority, Abd al Wahhab has been increasingly influential in his leadership of the throngs of Muslims that follow the international movement in Pakistan and abroad.

Missionary

As ameer, or leader of Pakistan's Tablighi Jamaat, Hajji Abd al Wahhab's influence spans globally due to the organization's emphasis on missionary work. Considered a foremost da'ee, or inviter to the faith of Islam, Abd al Wahhab has spoken about the need to return to the correct beliefs and practices of Islam in numerous countries and congregations.

Country: Pakistan

Date of Birth: 1923

Source of Influence: International Islamic Networks, Scholarly, Administrative

Influence: Leader of a Pakistan-based organization with chapters in 120 countries, an annual conference in Pakistan, the Raiwind Tablighi Ijtima, which drew 1.5 million attendees in 2008, and the Biswa Ijtima conference in Bangladesh that attracts approximately three million members each year

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni, Hanafi

Champion of Conservatism

Abd al Wahhab urges Muslims to repent for their sins and to emulate the life of the Prophet Muhammad by adhering to the sunna—the Prophet's teachings and deeds. Among these is an exhortation to partake in the act of da'wa or spreading the message of the faith. The Tablighi Jamaat has gradually acquired a massive membership base owing to this core tenet. His work is derived from close ties with the founder of the Tablighi Jamaat, Maulana Muhammad Ilyas Kandhelvi, and stems from the prominent Islamic institution Darul Uloom Deoband, in India, where the latter studied before establishing a following in Pakistan.

Mass Appeal

Among the throngs of Pakistanis, diaspora South Asians, and others who carry the flag of the Tablighi Jamaat are notable Muslim leaders. In Pakistan alone, Abd al Wahhab's influence has won the allegiance of prominent politicians, actors, and athletes. Despite his influence over key Muslim leaders from various fields of social power, he is consistent in his assertion that the organization is wholly apolitical—identifying the work of the Tablighi Jamaat as a spiritual revivalist movement.

Advocate of Non-violence

In light of heightened incidences of violence by fringe Islamic militant groups, Abd al Wahhab has publicly stated the importance of non-violence in bringing people closer to the faith of Islam. This comes after the tragic Mumbai attacks which investigations found were linked to the Pakistan-based, Lashkar-e-Taiba; a militant organization Abd al Wahhab has made a point of distancing the Tablighi Jamaat from.

Photographs of Hajji Mohammed Abd al Wahhab are not available due to the Tablighi Jamaat's strict prohibition of the use of images of people. This photo shows some of the millions that make their way annually to hear Tablighi leaders at the Biswa Jitma in Bangladesh.

HIS ROYAL EMINENCE AMIRUL MU'MININ SHEIKH AS SULTAN MUHAMMADU SA'ADU ABUBAKAR III Sultan of Sokoto

Amirul Mu'minin Sheikh as Sultan Muhammadu Sa'adu Abubakar III is the 20th Sultan of Sokoto. As Sultan of Sokoto, he is considered the spiritual leader of Nigeria's 74.6 million Muslims, who account for roughly 50 percent of the nation's population. Although the position of Sultan of Sokoto has become largely ceremonial, the holder is still a central figure for Nigerian Muslims.

Country: Nigeria

Date of Birth: 24 August 1956

Source of Influence: Lineage, Development, Administrative

Influence: Central figure for approximately 74.6 million Nigerian Muslims

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni, Maliki; Linked to the Qadiriyyah Sufi order by lineage

Lineage Back to Sheikh Usman Dan Fodio

The Sultan of Sokoto is the spiritual leader of Nigeria's enormous Muslim community. He gains this position by lineage. Abubakar is the 20th heir to the two-century-old throne founded by his ancestor, Sheikh Usman Dan Fodio. Dan Fodio, (1754-1817 CE) was a scholar, leader of the Maliki school of Islam and the Qadiri branch of Sufism, and Islamic reformer of the nineteenth century. Dan Fodio believed that Islam should have a more central role in the life of the people of West Africa and led an uprising to institute the changes he sought. His figure and his writings are a very important chapter in the history of Islam in West Africa, and Abubakar by lineage holds a key place in West African Islam, and particularly for the Fulani and Hausa people who followed Dan Fodio.

A Respected Family

The position currently does carry with it some weight—though largely ceremonial since British colonial rule diminished its political significance. Much of this clout is derived from the respect that was earned by Siddiq Abu Bakar Dan Usman—17th Sultan and father of Abubakar—who held the Sultanate for over fifty years. The rule of Abubakar's father from 1938 to 1988 earned the position significant social capital and popularity with ordinary Muslims.

Administrative Power

Abubakar holds important administrative influence in Nigerian religious life. Abubakar is the titular ruler of Sokoto in northern Nigeria and also is the head of the Nigerian National Supreme Council for Islamic Affairs. Leadership of this council means that the Sultan of Sokoto remains the only figure that can legitimately claim to speak on behalf of all Nigerian Muslims. This role has become increasingly influential over the years with a rise in interreligious tensions between Nigeria's Muslim-majority North and Christian-majority South. The late Sultan Siddiq Abu Bakar dan Usman was widely respected for trying to ease tensions between Nigeria's Muslim and Christian communities, which occasionally spill over into sectarian violence. Abubakar also possesses military experience in conflict areas.

SEYYED HASAN NASRALLAH

Secretary General of Hezbollah

Seyyed Hasan Nasrallah is the current and third Secretary General of Hezbollah (the Party of God). Hezbollah is a Twelver Shi'a Islamic political party and paramilitary organization based in Lebanon. Hezbollah's ideology is based on seeking social justice through Islamic ideals. Political and military successes have made Nasrallah a vastly influential figure in Lebanon, and in the Middle East more broadly. Nasrallah and Hezbollah are also controversial; the US and Canada list Hezbollah as a terrorist organization.

Military Power

Nasrallah has immense importance in Lebanon as a figure of military power. He gained this influence by leading Hezbollah during the time that Israeli forces withdrew from southern Lebanon. The withdrawal resulted in huge popularity for Nasrallah, giving him increased recognition at home and abroad as a powerful figure in the Middle East. Hezbollah remains a de facto security force in southern Lebanon, and its military presence is felt throughout the country, with a force of around 300,000 fighters.

Lebanon's leading Twelver Shi'a

Under Nasrallah, Hezbollah has gained in popularity and in political stature. As Syria and Israel have withdrawn from Lebanon, Hezbollah has begun to position itself as a Lebanese nationalist organization, with revolutionary Shi'ism as the guiding line. Nasrallah was educated at the Hawza Shi'a seminary in Najaf in Iraq, where he met Abbas Musawi, his predecessor as leader of Hezbollah. Nasrallah took over leadership in 1992 and has popularized the party among the Muslim population, and also among non-Muslims. Hezbollah has gained wide popular appeal by providing social services, health care and also running Al Manar—an influential television station.

Social Services

Hezbollah has also won significant grassroots support by cultivating a social welfare system that provides schools, clinics, and housing in the predominantly Shi'a parts of Lebanon, but also in others. These welfare activities are run with efficiency and rival those carried out by the state, giving the organization even broader appeal.

International Symbol of Resistance Against Israel

Nasrallah has broader influence in the Muslim world as a figure of defiance against Israel. Israel remains a key issue for the Muslim world and Hezbollah's aim to achieve social justice there is central to its activities. The military successes he had in the late nineties are seen as the main factor for Israel's withdrawal from South Lebanon in 2000. Moreover the staunch defense put up by Hezbollah forces against Israel in July 2006 earned Nasrallah many more supporters.

Country: Lebanon

Date of Birth: 31 August 1960

Source of Influence: Political, Development

Influence: Main political leader of approximately 1.5 million Lebanese Shi'a (40% of Lebanon's population), wider support with the Syrian and Iranian Shi'a populations and those who support his resistance to Israel

DR KH ACHMAD HASYIM MUZADI

Chairman of Indonesia's Nahdlatul Ulama

Dr KH Achmad Hasyim Muzadi is the leader of Indonesia's largest independent Muslim organization and one of the world's most influential Islamic organizations, Nahdlatul Ulama (NU), or 'Awakening of Scholars'. He guides millions through his work with the NU.

Head of Expansive Network

The Nahdlatul Ulama boasts an expansive network that covers 30 regions with 339 branches, 12 special branches, 2,630 representative councils and 37,125 sub-branch representative councils across Indonesia.

This network practices the doctrine of Ahlassunah wal Jama'ah, which is Arabic for 'people of the Sunna (practices of the Prophet Muhammad) and the community'. They base their practices on the traditional sources of Islamic jurisprudence—mainly the Qur'an, Hadith, and major schools of law.

Among its aims are the propagation of Nahdlatul Ulama's message and also an expansion of its already extensive network of members in Indonesia. This is the basis of many of the organization's social reform efforts. With a solid structure of central and regional boards, branch and special branch boards, and various advisory councils, Muzadi sits at the top of this increasingly influential Sunni movement.

Model of Traditionalism

With a mainly rural membership base, the Nahdlatul Ulama distinguishes itself from other Islamic organizations in Indonesia by positioning itself as a premier organization of traditional Islam—with an emphasis on education and political engagement based on Islamic principles. Muzadi also speaks up against edicts of the Indonesia Ulema Council that are inconsistent with the legal leniency of Islamic law, such as the recent fatwas (religious rulings) against smoking, and a subsequent proscription against Facebook.

Social Servant

The Nahdlatul Ulama has made substantial charitable contributions to Indonesian society in the fields of educational development, healthcare, and poverty alleviation. Although Muzadi stresses that the work of his organization is geared toward establishing a secular nation-state based on a body of modern and moderate Muslims; his agenda items—such as anti-corruption laws and social reform measures—are deeply rooted in Islamic principles.

SHEIKH SALMAN AL OUDA

Saudi Scholar and Educator

A leading Saudi sheikh, Salman al Ouda is a former hard-line cleric turned advocate of peaceful coexistence. He is increasingly influential due to his innovative reach in the Muslim world propagated via IslamToday.com and his persistent efforts at ministering to the needs of the global Muslim community.

Key Scholar of Salafi Network

Sheikh Salman al Ouda is a leading scholar of the Salafi movement. Although he is not noted for propagating innovative ideas within the network, he has notable influence in the movement due to his use of multiple modes of education (web, audiovisual media, and print) to educate the large body of Salafi Muslims in the Islamic sciences. His website brings together a diverse range of Islamic scholars and educators to provide guidance in Islamic thought.

Country: Saudi Arabia

Date of Birth: 1955

Influence: Supervises IslamToday.com with 2,000 daily hits, has published 50 books, numerous television appearances that reach millions of people across the globe

School of Thought: Moderate Salafi

Influence Through Virtual Islamic Resource

Sheikh al Ouda supervises all content published on IslamToday.com—a website that offers virtual resources for Islamic education on the Internet in multiple languages. His work has far-reaching impact in an age when religion is spread through media and technology, with IslamToday.com at the forefront of this trend.

Innovative Educator

Al Ouda developed a following from weekly talks at his local mosque in Buraydah and has become an authority for Muslims and non-Muslims worldwide who access IslamToday.com—a Saudi-funded website dedicated to providing Islamic educational resources in English, Arabic, French and Chinese. He also addresses Islamic issues on the Saudi satellite channel MBC.

Ambassador of Non-violence

In an effort to distance himself from alleged connections to perpetrators of terrorism, al Ouda is outspoken about the importance of inculcating love and mercy as opposed to violence in the daily life of Muslims—except in valid cases of self-defense. As a prominent member of the International Union for Muslim Scholars, he led the delegation in talks with Arab heads of state and the need for them to unite in opposition to Israel's siege of Gaza in early 2009.

HIS HIGHNESS SHAH KARIM AL HUSSAYNI

The Aga Khan IV, 49th Imam of Ismaili Muslims

Shah Karim Al Hussayni, also known as simply the Aga Khan (Imamate: 1957-Present), is the leader of the Shi'a sect of Muslims known as the Nizari Ismailis. For 5 million Nizari Ismaili Muslims he is the 49th hereditary Imam, with lineage descending back to Ali, the cousin of the Prophet Muhammad. He is only the fourth Aga Khan, a hereditary title bestowed upon the Imam by the Shah of Persia in the mid-nineteenth century.

Country: France

Date of Birth: 13 December 1936

Source of Influence: Lineage, Administrative

Influence: Approximately 5 million Nizari Ismailis

School of Thought: Modernist Shi'a, Ismaili, Nizari

Hereditary Leader of Ismailis

The Aga Khan derives his position of authority from his lineage. He has a direct line of ancestry going back to Imam Ali. For Nizari Ismaili Muslims this ancestry is directly attached to the idea of an Imamate starting with Imam Ali. However their lineage differs from the larger sect of Ithna'Asharia (Twelver) Shi'a. Twelver Shi'a heritage derives from the younger son of the sixth Imam Jafar al Sadiq, whereas Ismaili heritage derives from the elder son. His influence stems from his obligation to lead the community, finding solutions to the ever-changing issues facing his followers. At the age of 21 he bypassed his father and uncle to become the 49th Imam, a choice that his grandfather made because he felt the community needed a leader 'who has been brought up and developed during recent years and in the midst of the new age, and who brings a new outlook on life to his office.'

Unparalleled Philanthropist

The Aga Khan is also an influential philanthropist on the world stage. His influence on development is very significant and disproportionate to the size of the Nizari Ismaili community, which is one of the smaller Muslim sects. To fulfill the Imam's responsibilities in the contemporary world, the Aga Khan set up the Aga Khan Development Network (AKDN). The AKDN is a collection of development and humanitarian agencies working in areas of poverty. The network is widely known for its architectural and cultural work, including projects that revitalize historic cities. These initiatives aim to show the greatness of Islamic civilization through projects such as the renovation of the Old City of Aleppo and the Al Azhar Park in Cairo. His foundation maintains a strong and enduring presence in developing countries—building healthcare capacity, promoting economic development in rural areas and helping improve educational opportunities. The AKDN is particularly influential in Central Asia, where it works in areas that are often neglected by other organizations.

HIS HIGHNESS EMIR SHEIKH MOHAMMED BIN RASHID AL MAKTOUM

Ruler of Dubai, Prime Minister of the United Arab Emirates

As prime minister and vice president of the United Arab Emirates and ruler of Dubai, His Highness Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid al Maktoum is a prominent head of state who has made waves in international business and development, as well as through substantial domestic economic and social reforms. As a catalyst of economic growth he is one of the most successful figures in the Muslim world.

Country: United Arab Emirates

Date of Birth: 22 July 1949

Source of Influence: Political, Administrative

Influence: Immense financial influence in the Gulf as the world's fifth richest royal

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni

Leader of Key Gulf Nation

Sheikh Mohammed bin Rashid al Maktoum leads the Emirate of Dubai, and is in the second most senior political position in the UAE. Dubai's highly developed economy, and the UAE's massive oil and natural gas reserves put al Maktoum at the head of one of the richest countries, per capita, in the world. He is the fifth richest royal in the world.

With several major seaports and airports, the UAE is noted for its infrastructure, and much of its development is credited to al Maktoum. Over the years, the UAE has developed strong diplomatic ties with many Western countries, the Arab League, and members of the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) that are the six Arab states of the Persian Gulf.

Leader of Substantial Muslim Population

The UAE's citizenry is approximately 96% Muslim, and a majority of Dubai's citizens are also Muslim. Under Maktoum's leadership, their sustained tolerance toward Christian, Jewish, Hindu and other religious minorities, has given Dubai a reputation for being open to the free practice of religion.

Avid Developer

Al Maktoum is responsible for managing the construction of the man-made Palm Islands, the luxury hotel Burj Al Arab, as well as the Burj Dubai, now recognized as the tallest freestanding building in the world. This, in conjunction with its developed economy, makes Dubai a world business hub, and a rapidly developing Gulf state.

Charitable Benefactor

Aside from having pledged $10 billion for the Mohammed bin Rashid al Maktoum Educational Foundation domestically, al Maktoum is heralded as a humanitarian for his financial relief efforts. He has donated over $910 million for children's educational development as part of the UN Millennium Development Goals. He has also established Noor Dubai, an initiative in conjunction with the World Health Organization, to address treatable blindness and visual impairment in developing countries by providing medical treatment; which has helped over 2 million people so far.

HIS HIGHNESS GENERAL
SHEIKH MOHAMMED BIN ZAYED AL NAHYAN
Crown Prince of Abu Dhabi and
Deputy Supreme Commander of the UAE Armed Forces

Sheikh Mohammed bin Zayed al Nahyan is the Crown Prince of Abu Dhabi and Deputy Supreme Commander of the UAE Armed Forces, as well as next in line to be President of the United Arab Emirates. The UAE is increasingly becoming an important center for global weapons trading, with Abu Dhabi hosting one of the world's the largest defense expos in 2009.

Political and Military Leadership

Sheikh Mohammed is chairman of the Abu Dhabi Executive Council—an executive leadership body in Abu Dhabi, which is constantly engaged in the assessment of public policy. Since becoming Crown Prince in 2004, Sheikh Mohammed has been recognized for his groundbreaking initiatives as an influential leader of Abu Dhabi as well as Deputy Supreme Commander of the armed forces. He is a special advisor to UAE President H.H. Sheikh Khalifa bin Zayed al Nahyan.

Economic Development

With Abu Dhabi sitting on a 10th of the world's proven oil reserves Sheikh Mohammed bin Zayed al Nahyan maintains immense political influence in the Muslim world as a leading member of the Abu Dhabi National Oil Company—which directs development efforts for the UAE's role in the oil and gas industries. Sheikh Mohammed is responsible for making Abu Dhabi a thriving economic hub. He is also a key leader and head of the Mubadala Development Company—owned by Abu Dhabi—which is an investment company that works in aerospace, automotives, energy, health care, real estate, telecommunication, and other business sectors.

Humanitarian

Sheikh Mohammed is noted for his philanthropic and humanitarian efforts in charitable giving. He has donated billions of dollars to various causes. For instance, in 2009 Sheikh Mohammed pledged the donation of Dh 4 million for student book purchases at the Abu Dhabi International Book Fair and is constantly engaged in philanthropic and charitable efforts.

Sustainable Development

Sheikh Mohammed has been a champion of sustainable development in Abu Dhabi as an advocate for the implementation of green technologies. He pledged $15 billion for the development of clean energy through solar, wind, and hydrogen power.

SHEIKH DR M SA'ID RAMADAN AL BOUTI

Leading Islamic Scholar in Syria

Sheikh Bouti is the leading Islamic scholar in Syria. He is the head of the Theology Department in the faculty of Islamic Law at Damascus University. He preaches very often and is highly respected by many of the leading scholars in the Muslim world.

Country: Syria
Date of Birth: 1929
Source of Influence: Scholarly
Influence: Leading scholar for 18.5 million Syrian Muslims
School of Thought: Traditional Sunni

Traditionalist Scholar

Bouti is the scholar's scholar, and the bulk of his influence comes from his position of respect and authority among the leading thinkers in Islam today. Bouti has significant influence from his position as a central figure in the Muslim scholarly establishment, writing close to 50 books that have garnered considerable critical acclaim.

Passionate Advocate of Madhabs

Bouti is a keen supporter of madhabs (traditional Islamic schools of law), and is one of the leading critics of the significant movement to abandon these schools. He is particularly influential because this movement has led to groups in which extremist behavior is condoned as Islamic. Bouti has referred to the abandonment of madhabs as the 'most dangerous bid'a [innovation] threatening the Islamic sharia'. His view is critical because he says it gives those without knowledge the ability to decide what is and is not Islamic.

A Critic of Salafism

Bouti has very important sway over the theological and legal merits of Salafism versus traditional Islam. He has held important debates with leading Salafi scholars and has performed well, highlighting to his audience the importance of knowledge within Islam. In one of his most noteworthy books on this issue—Jihad in Islam: How to Understand and Practice it—Bouti shows how a poor understanding of the term jihad has led to its abuse by both Muslims and non-Muslims. His view is that those who are unaware of the basis of fiqh have manipulated the idea of jihad for their own benefit, underlining that jihad must be conducted, according to the basis of Islamic fiqh.

HIS MAJESTY SULTAN HAJI HASSANAL BOLKIAH MU'IZZADDIN WADDAULAH

Sultan and Yang Di-Pertuan of Brunei Darussalam

The Sultan and Yang Di-Pertuan of Brunei Darussalam, His Majesty Haji Hassanal Bolkiah Mu'izzaddin Waddaulah is one of the richest men in the world. He is the 29th Sultan of one of the oldest dynasties in existence today. Brunei is a country with a population of approximately 398,000 on the north coast of the island of Borneo in Southeast Asia.

House of Bolkiah

His Majesty Sultan Haji Hassanal Bolkiah Mu'izzaddin Waddaulah descends from the House of Bolkiah, which traces back to Sultan Bolkiah, the fifth Sultan of Brunei (who ruled from 1485-1524 CE). The House of Bolkiah is the longest reigning Sunni Muslim Royal House in Brunei.

Country: Brunei Darussalam

Date of Birth: 15 July 1946

Source of Influence: Political, Administrative

Influence: Leader of approximately 398,000 citizens of Brunei

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni, Shafi'i

Modernizer

Early in his sultanate, Sultan Bolkiah launched the country into a more active role on the global stage by aligning Brunei with the Association of South East Asian Nations (ASEAN). Recently, he has used ASEAN as a vehicle for strengthening relations between Brunei and the region's other countries—through youth and cultural exchange programs as well as dialogue on environmental and economic development. Sultan Bolkiah is also credited with bringing the country in to be a member state of the United Nations.

Administrative Influence

Sultan Bolkiah has been lauded for attempts at slowly democratizing the country's governance, while at the same time consolidating royal authority. Beginning in the early nineties Sultan Bolkiah began trying to strengthen the role of Islam through the notion of Melayu Islam Beraja (or Malay Islamic Monarchy). Dating back to 100 CE and established in the 5th century, Melayu Islam Beraja links Malay identity, Islam, and the monarchy as an official ideology. Sultan Bolkiah announced the change in philosophy on 1 January 1984, on Brunei's day of independence. Although a small percentage of Brunei's population adheres to religions other than Islam, the official ideology is tolerant and inclusive of non-Muslims. The Sultan is also an important donor to the Organization of the Islamic Conference.

HIS EMINENCE PROFESSOR DR SHEIKH AHMAD MUHAMMAD AL TAYEB

President of Al Azhar University

Sheikh Ahmad Muhammad al Tayeb is the president of Al Azhar University. Prior to being appointed president of Al Azhar University in Cairo, al Tayeb was the most powerful cleric in Egypt as its Grand Mufti for two years before the appointment of the incumbent Sheikh Ali Goma'a.

His scholarly influence as a leading intellectual of Sunni Islam spans the globe. He has served as the dean of the Faculty of Islamic Studies in Aswan, and the theology faculty of the International Islamic University in Pakistan. He has also taught in universities in Saudi Arabia, Qatar and the United Arab Emirates.

Country: Egypt

Date of Birth: 1946

Influence: Runs the foremost Sunni Islamic university with close to 300,000 students

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni

Runs the Premier University for Sunni Islam

Since 2003 al Tayeb has held the position of president of Al Azhar University in Cairo. He leads the second-oldest university in the world, where teaching has continued without interruption since 975 CE. Al Azhar represents the center of Sunni Islamic jurisprudence. It is a key institution that issues authoritative religious rulings and has provided extensive Islamic education to Egyptian and international students since its inception over a millennium ago. This history makes it a bastion of Sunni traditionalism. The university is considered one of the most prominent Islamic educational institutions, and the foremost center of Sunni Muslim scholarship worldwide.

Administers the Al Azhar Education Network

Al Azhar is the second oldest and currently the largest university in the world, having risen from a group of three schools in the 1950s to its current state with 72 feeder schools, and close to 300,000 students studying there at any one time—if one includes all of its colleges. If you include the entire network of schools internationally, as part of the university's waqf efforts there are close to 2 million students. In spite of his huge workload as president, al Tayeb publishes regularly in numerous academic journals, dealing particularly with the reception of Islamic culture and philosophy in the Western world.

Al Tayeb is also a member of the Egyptian Society of Philosophy, the Supreme Court of Islamic Affairs and is the head of the Religious Committee at the Egyptian Radio and Television Union.

HIS EMINENCE MOHAMMAD BIN MOHAMMAD AL MANSOUR

Imam of the Zaidi Sect of Shi'a Muslims

His Eminence Mohammad bin Mohammad al Mansour is the Imam of the Zaidi branch of the Shi'a sect of Muslims, one of the three main branches of Shi'a Islam. With approximately ten million followers Zaidis constitute almost half the entire population of Yemen, and around 3% in Saudi Arabia.

Lineage in the Imamate

Al Mansour is the current Imam of the Zaidi Muslims, a Shi'a sect named after the followers of Zaid bin Ali, grandson of al Hussein (grandson of the Prophet Muhammad). The sect was formed by the followers of Zaid bin Ali who led an unsuccessful revolt against the Umayyad Caliph Hisham ibn Abd al Malik in 740 CE.

Country: Yemen

Date of Birth: 1917

Source of Influence: Lineage, Scholarly

Influence: Imam of approximately 10 million Zaidi Shi'a in Yemen and Saudi Arabia

School of Thought: Traditional Zaidi (Fiver) Shi'a

Current Social Influence

In the past decade a Zaidi movement known as the Shabab al Mumineen led by Hussein al Houthi has been gaining prominence in the northwest of Yemen. This has stoked some sectarian rivalry in Yemen, between the Zaidi and radical anti-Shi'a groups who are fearful of the resurgence of Zaidi rule in Yemen. Al Mansour has maintained his quietist approach and has respect in Yemeni society. He was influential in stemming the escalation of conflict in 2005.

27

HIS EMINENCE JUSTICE SHEIKH MUHAMMAD TAQI USMANI

Leading Scholar of Islamic Jurisprudence

Justice Sheikh Muhammad Taqi Usmani is a leading scholar of Islamic jurisprudence. He is considered to be the intellectual leader of the Deobandi movement.

Leading Islamic Finance Scholar

Usmani's chief influence comes from his position as a global authority on the issue of Islamic finance. He has served on the boards and as chairman of over a dozen Islamic banks and financial institutions, and currently leads the International Shariah Council for the Accounting and Auditing Organization for Islamic Financial Institutions (AAOIFI) in Bahrain. He is also deputy chairman of the International Islamic Fiqh Academy of the Organization of the Islamic Conference, one of the highest legal bodies in the Muslim world.

Country: Pakistan

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni/Deobandi

Deobandi Figurehead

Usmani is very important as a figurehead in the Deobandi movement—one of the most successful of the Islamic revivalist initiatives of the past century. He was born in Deoband, India, to Mufti Muhammad Shafi (the former Grand Mufti of Pakistan) who founded the Darul 'Uloom Deoband, a leading center of Islamic education in Pakistan.

28

HIS EXCELLENCY ABDULLAH GÜL

President of Turkey

Abdullah Gül is the 11th president of the Republic of Turkey and the first modern Turkish head-of-state from an Islamic background. Facing intense secularist opposition to his political career, Gül has maintained a focus on democratic reform. As prime minister and subsequently as foreign minister, Gül pursued a pro-active foreign policy and largely succeeded in striking a balance between Turkey's traditional Western-anchored foreign policy priorities and its new interests in the Middle East and the Muslim world.

Influence through Pragmatic Leadership

Gül's political influence in Turkey and abroad derives from his ability to reconcile the demands of a predominantly religious electorate with those of the entrenched secularism of the Turkish Republic. Together with Erdogan, Gül has worked to expand the sphere of democratic rights in Turkey, which in turn have benefited the predominantly traditional and religious segments of Turkish society. Gül continues to play a significant role in the current efforts to find a lasting solution to Turkey's Kurdish issue. Gül was also the first Turkish politician to visit Armenia.

29

SHEIKH MOHAMMED ALI AL SABOUNI

Scholar of Tafsir

An internationally respected Islamic scholar of tafsir, or Qur'anic exegesis, Sheikh Mohammed Ali al Sabouni is widely acclaimed for his short commentaries of the Qur'an.

Popular Commentaries

Al Sabouni is influential because of his easy-to-read, simplified commentaries of the Holy Qur'an, which are the most popular modern commentaries in the world. They are now thought of as some of the most popular short commentaries in history after those of Jalalayn, Baydawi, Ibn Kathir and Ibn Juzayy. One of his most influential commentaries is the Tafsir Ayat Al Ahkam, an exploration of the Qur'anic verses that pertain to legal rulings.

The Institute of Scientific Research and Revival of Islamic Heritage, Umm Al Qura University in Mecca, Saudi Arabia—founded by King Abdul Aziz al Saud as part of the King Abdul Aziz University in 1949—commissioned al Sabouni to investigate the ancient tafsir manuscript of Abu Jaafar al Nahas (d. 949 CE/338AH). His landmark achievement of verifying the only surviving manuscript of the text has come to fruition as a six volume work published by the university.

HIS EMINENCE SHEIKH ABDULLAH BIN BAYYAH Deputy-Head of the International Union of Muslim Scholars

Sheikh Abdullah Bin Bayyah's influence is derived from his scholarship, teaching and preaching. Uniquely, all of the different sects and schools of Muslims respect him as a scholar. Testament to this is the notable fact that whilst he is not a Salafi, the Saudi government promulgates his fatwas as authoritative. He is an instructor at King Abdul Aziz University in Jeddah and is the deputy head of the Union of Muslim Scholars, under Yusuf al Qaradawi.

Country: Mauritania

Date of Birth: 1935

Source of Influence: Scholarly

Influence: Significant influence as a leading contemporary scholar of Islamic Jurisprudence

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni, Maliki

Diplomat

As a member of the International Islamic Fiqh Academy or Al Majma' al Fiqhi of the Organization of the Islamic Conference, Bin Bayyah is at the forefront of the legal arm of a dynamic organization with a permanent delegation to the United Nations.

Author

Having written numerous texts, his scholarly explorations have gone global through speaking engagements that draw crowds of tens of thousands of Muslims. He has spoken at length about the endurance of the Islamic legal tradition and also written extensively on rulings for Muslims living as minorities in foreign lands, or fiqh al aqaliyaat.

31

SHEIKHA MUNIRA QUBEYSI Leader of the Qubeysi Movement

Munira Qubeysi is the head of the largest women-only Islamic movement in the world. It offers Islamic education exclusively to girls and women. Qubeysi commands around 80 schools in Damascus alone, teaching more than 75 thousand students. She is one of the most significant Islamic scholars in the world; her movement focuses on learning the Qur'an and six Hadith collections by heart. She is the most influential Muslim woman in the world, albeit in great discretion.

Country: Syria

Date of Birth: 1933

Source of Influence: Scholarly

Influence: More than 75 thousand students in Damascus alone

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni

Female Muslim Order

Qubeysi is influential as the leader of an incredibly successful educational movement. The religious education of women had previously been neglected so the emergence of a female-specific educational initiative has become very popular, making the al Qubaisiat, in numbers, the leading Islamic movement in Syria.

Leading an Islamic Revival in Syria

Qubeysi's influence in Syria is due to the fact that she has been able to grow a very large network of madrassas (religious schools) without attracting the criticism of the government, which has traditionally been dubious of large networks of Muslim organizations.

32

SHEIKH AHMAD TIJANI ALI CISSE

Leader of the Tijaniyya Sufi Order

Sheikh Ahmad Tijani Ali Cisse is the spiritual leader of the Tijaniyya Sufi order. The Tijaniyya is the largest Sufi order in Western Africa, and its leader commands a following of close to 100 million people, who see him as their guide to the true Islam.

Leader of Tijani Muslims

Cisse is based in Senegal, however Tijani Muslims are located throughout Western Africa and further afield. As an order, Tijanis give allegiance to their sheikh giving him significant influence as a leader. Cisse is installed as Imam of the Grand Mosque in Medina Baye, which is one of Western Africa's key positions of Islamic leadership.

Descendant of Ibrahim Al Tijani, Leader of the Fayda Tijaniyya (Spiritual Flood)

The Tijaniyya is a Sufi order founded by Ahmad al Tijani Hasani, an Algerian, in the late 18th century. As the spiritual leader of the Tijaniyya, Cisse is considered to be the bearer of a spiritual inspiration called the Fayda Tijaniyya, giving him authority to carry on the teachings of Ahmad al Tijani Hasani. Because of this position, some Tijani Muslims refer to him as the reviver of the sunna.

KHALED MASHAAL

Leader of Hamas

Current leader of Hamas, a Palestinian sociopolitical organization, and head of its Syrian political bureau, Khaled Mashaal is the international representative for the Palestinian resistance to the Israeli occupation.

Fighter for Social Justice

Since becoming head of Hamas in 2004, Khaled Mashaal has seen the organization through multiple attempts at a roadmap to peace and a major Israeli siege of the Gaza strip, more recently. He is steadfast in his commitment to the Palestinian people and land—a fact that has made him popular throughout the Muslim world. At the same time, Mashaal and Hamas are also controversial; the US, EU and Canada identify Hamas as a terrorist organization.

Country: Palestine

Date of Birth: 1956

Source of Influence: Political

Influence: Leader of approximately 1000 members in military wing of Hamas

School of Thought: Sunni, Muslim Brotherhood

Pioneering Leader

Mashaal has been recognized for his persistence with Hamas's efforts—at present leading in exile from Syria. His determination is combined with a unique effort at diplomacy. He has shown a willingness to negotiate with Israel to return to the 1967 borders and grant Palestinians a right of return, while importantly implying the necessary existence of the State of Israel, despite Hamas's historic denial of that possibility. He has been one of the most direct, and candid leaders in dialogue and confrontation with Israel and this influence has garnered international recognition.

Educator

Al Jifri founded the privately-funded philanthropic organization Tabah Foundation for Islamic Studies and Research in Abu Dhabi, a young non-profit institution that aspires to become a formidable source of reputable work in Islamic research and thought.

38

SHEIKH HAMZA YUSUF HANSON

Founder of Zaytuna Institute, United States of America

Sheikh Hamza Yusuf Hanson is the Western world's most influential Islamic scholar. He is seen as one of the foremost authorities on Islam outside of the Muslim world, having spent a decade learning at some of the premier institutions in the Islamic world. He runs the incredibly successful Zaytuna Institute in California.

American Scholar

Hanson is fundamentally an American scholar. His popularity, and accordingly his influence, stem from the fact that although his knowledge of Islamic scholarship is comparable to that of important scholars in Muslim countries, his application of it is rooted in the lived experience of a normal American. In his speeches he is able to relate Islamic teachings in a way that American Muslims find easy to understand.

Educator

Hanson is one of the founders of the Zaytuna Institute. This institute is one of the most well respected centers of Islamic education in North America. It has been groundbreaking in combining cutting edge educational technologies with traditional Islamic education—setting the standard for Islamic education in the West. Hanson has built a huge grassroots following, particularly among young western Muslims.

HIS EXCELLENCY PROFESSOR DR EKMELLEDIN IHSANOGLU

Secretary General of the Organization of the Islamic Conference

Ihsanoglu is secretary general of the Organization of the Islamic Conference (OIC)—the largest intergovernmental Muslim organization in the world, and the second largest public organization after the United Nations. Ihsanoglu has revitalized the organization and is currently implementing a 10 year program of action to meet the challenges facing the global Muslim community in the 21st century.

Voice for the Muslim World

Ihsanoglu is also influential in that he leads the only pan-Islamic intergovernmental organization in the world. The OIC often has more influence over certain issues than other organizations do, and can have a key role to play in world events—being more inclusive than the Arab League and also able to tackle specific injustices that the United Nations Security Council cannot.

Reviving the OIC

The OIC had been seen as a dysfunctional organization until recently when it has had a radical overhaul of its practice, and aims. Under the leadership of Ihsanoglu the organization's remit has widened from its previously staple issues of Islamic solidarity towards more immediate humanitarian concerns of economic and social deprivation around the Muslim world, making the organization more akin to the United Nations in its work.

GENERAL MOHAMMAD ALI JAFARI

Commander of the Revolutionary Guard, Iran

General Mohammad Ali Jafari is the Chief Commander of the Iranian Army of the Guardians of the Islamic Revolution (also known as the Revolutionary Guard), an elite faction of the Iranian armed forces—separate from the army—that reports directly to the Velayat-e Faqih.

Enforcer of Islamic Revolution

The Revolutionary Guard came into existence as a set of revolutionary fighters loyal to Imam Khomeini—the leader of the Iranian Revolution of 1979. He effectively runs a state within a state with its own, considerable resources and a certain degree of independence from Supreme Leader Khamenei. The Revolutionary Guard also exerts influence through funding and directing Shi'a movements abroad such as Hezbollah, and the Mahdi Army. Because of this, Jafari has a significant degree of control in Iraq.

Political Power

Jafari commands a force of close to 400,000—with a potential strength of up to 11 million if circumstances require. Jafari's influence is due to his popularity with younger troops who make up a disproportionately large segment of the population.

Country: Iran

DATO' HAJI NIK ABDUL AZIZ NIK MAT Religious Guide of the Islamic Party of Malaysia

Dato' Haji Nik Abdul Aziz Nik Mat is a Malaysian politician, an Islamic scholar and the current chief minister of the State of Kelantan. He holds the position of Mursyidul Am—the religious guide—within the Pan-Malaysian Islamic Party (PAS).

Scholarly Influence over Malaysian Politics

As the religious guide of the Pan-Malaysian Islamic Party, Nik Mat is the spiritual leader of Malaysian Islamic politics and holds very important sway over the tenor of politics in the nation. His advocacy of sharia law to be applied to all Malay Muslims has, however, drawn criticism, especially his suggestion that women would be at a lower risk of being raped if they abandoned wearing lipstick.

Country: Malaysia

Date of Birth: 1931

Source of Influence: Administrative, Political, Scholarly

Influence: Spiritual leader of largest Islamic political party in Malaysia

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni

Political Importance in Malaysia

Nik Abdul Aziz's fundamentalist party has close to one million members and enjoys strong support from the northern rural and conservative states such as Kelantan and Terengganu. Influence: Political and religious guide to Bangladesh's nearly 140 million Muslims

School of Thought: Traditional Sunni

Political Activist - Nizami is a champion of democratic organization within the Jamaat-e-Islami as well as in the governance of Bangladesh. A core principle of the Jamaat-e-Islami is the need for Islam to be the guidepost in politics and the belief that the government should implement Islamic ideals to maintain the cultural and religious values of Bangladesh.

Humanitarian - Nizami has also been an advocate of educational reforms—following threats to remove religious education by the new government—as well as calling out instances of state-sponsored terror. In light of the Jamaat-e-Islami objective to bring peace to Bangladesh, Nizami has called for a list of immediate needs to be addressed by the government, from adherence to environmental regulations to shortages in gas, water, and electricity.

PROFESSOR SAYID AMEEN MIAN QAUDRI

Barelwi Leader and Spiritual Guide

Professor Sayid Ameen Mian Qaudri is leader of the Indian Barelwis and a sajjada nashin, or Sufi disciple of the Barkatiya Sufi tradition which stems from the Qadiriyyah tradition of eminent Sufi master, 'Abd al Qadir al Jilani (1077-1166 CE).

Counters Violence with Social Engagement

A missionary movement, the Barelwis of the South Asian subcontinent have spread their message within the region and also among diaspora communities in Europe, North America, and South Africa. Centered on elevation of the last Prophet Muhammad as the perfect person who is ever-present, this group is distinct from Deobandi Muslims—who practice a more conservative brand of Islam and criticize the Sufi group as illicit innovators of Islam.

Leader of Important Sufi Movement

Qaudri is professor of Urdu language at India's esteemed Aligarh Muslim University and also leader of a South Asian Sufi movement based in a volatile region where religion has been used as a platform for violence—despite this, it thrives as an active and socially engaged mystical movement. The Barelwis are an apolitical group that emphasizes social cohesion and spiritual upliftment.

DR ABDUL QADEER KHAN

Pakistani Nuclear Scientist

Dr Abdul Qadeer Khan is the father of the 'Islamic Bomb', being the scientist who brought nuclear technology, and nuclear weapons technology to Pakistan. Pakistan was the first—and remains the only—Muslim country to have nuclear weapons.

Scientific and Technological Influence

Khan is viewed with adoration by a large proportion of the Pakistani population for founding the country's nuclear program and introducing nuclear science and technology to the Muslim world. His work in helping establish the Pakistani nuclear program in the 1970s has made him a figure of great international interest. He has continued to use his financial success and stature to improve the quality of education, building educational institutions around Pakistan.

Political Influence

Khan's work has had very important political implications internationally, turning a conflict between old rivals India and Pakistan into a potential war between nuclear powers. Khan also may have had more far reaching political influence through his alleged attempts to sell nuclear technology to Libya, Iran, and North Korea.

Country: Pakistan

Date of Birth: 1 April 1936

PROF. DR SEYYED HOSSEIN NASR

Islamic Philosopher

Seyyed Hossein Nasr is an Islamic Studies professor at George Washington University. He remains one of the most influential Muslim scholars in the world for his work on the Islamic tradition and philosophy.

Reviver of Tradition

Nasr's work has covered the most important areas of contemporary Muslim thought from classical Islamic philosophy, Islamic science, Sufism, and critique of modernity to interfaith relations, Islam-West relations, and the environmental crisis. Nasr is the first Muslim scholar invited to give the prestigious Gifford Lectures, which were later published as Knowledge and the Sacred.

Islamic Environmentalism

Nasr's work has been ahead of his time in predicting the disastrous consequences of the environmental crisis. Books such as The Encounter of Man and Nature: The Spiritual Crisis of Modern Man (1968), and Religion and the Order of Nature (1996), narrate the rise of a secular, modern conception of nature as inert matter to be conquered by modern technology, and attempt to revive a sacred notion of nature.

ABDULLAH 'AA GYM' GYMNASTIAR

Indonesian Preacher

Abdullah Gymnastiar, more commonly known as Aa Gym (Elder Brother), is Indonesia's most popular preacher. He has built an incredible following and a media empire with his style of modern, youthful, enjoyable preaching. His popularity has waned recently with news that he took a second wife.

Indonesia's Televangelist

His energetic and unique approach to everyday life as a Muslim and his messages of self-control, personal morality, tolerance and faith have made him a household name, giving him a regular audience of around 80 million Indonesians. Gymnastiar is both preacher and performer. In his events, Gymnastiar, a young charismatic, attractive man, makes jokes, smiles, tells stories and then sings nasheed (religious songs) accompanied by lights, dry ice, and a band.

Reformer

His style has been revolutionary in Indonesia where people are more used to stolid older men preaching to them, and young Indonesians have been keen to soak up his particular brand of religious teaching. His use of SMS text messaging to transmit religious teachings is also groundbreaking; drastically altering the expectations Indonesians have of their preachers and the sway those preachers have over their lives.

Country: Indonesia

MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA

ALGERIA

BOUTEFLIKA, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT ABDELAZIZ

Bouteflika is the incumbent president of Algeria, and a long-term politician in Algeria. He has been president for close to a decade, since he won elections in 1999. During his ten years of presidency he has succeeded in ending a civil war that ran throughout the nineties, that was one of the bloodiest civil unrests in the Muslim world. Peace was reached through a process of reconciliation and amnesty that was strongly supported by the Islamist and Nationalist belligerents.

HADDAM, ANWAR N

Haddam is the president and co-founder of the Movement for Liberty and Social Justice (MLJS). He was elected to the Algerian parliament under the Islamic Front for Salvation in 1991. A leading activist, he is an initiator and signatory of the National Contract for a Peaceful and Political Solution to the Algerian Crisis.

EGYPT

MUBARAK, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT MUHAMMAD HOSNI

Muhammad Hosni Mubarak is the fourth and current President of the Arab Republic of Egypt. Trained as a fighter pilot in the 1960s and 1970s, he was appointed by then-president Sadat as vice president in 1975, becoming the vice chairman of the National Democratic Party (NDP) in 1978. He has effective control over all aspects of Egyptian government. Egypt is one of the cultural hubs of the Islamic world, and is host to a number of historically significant institutions, not least of which is Al Azhar University—the second oldest university in the world, founded in 975 CE—making Egypt a notable soft power player in the Muslim world. The choice of Cairo for Obama’s speech to the Muslim world was not accidental.

EL ZAYAT, MUNTASIR

Muntasir el Zayat is the secretary general of the Egyptian Bar Association and currently the lawyer of the exiled Egyptian cleric Hassan Mustafa Osama Nasr. He is said to have also been the lawyer for the Al Qaeda leader Ayman al Zawahiri.

IRAN

AHMADINEJAD, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT MAHMOUD

Ahmadinejad is president of Iran and a former University of Science and Industry lecturer in Iran. He supported the Iranian Islamic Revolution and was a founder of the students’ union that occupied the US Embassy. He served as governor of Arbadil province and mayor of Tehran. Becoming president he has enfranchised the politics of the nation’s large conservative, working class population, which makes him incredibly influential. Doing so, he also marginalized Iran’s rising middle class, a fact that curtails his actual influence on Iranian society.

JALILI, SAAED

Jalili is secretary of Iran’s Supreme National Security Council and the chief Iranian nuclear negotiator. The nuclear issue is central to both Iranian domestic politics—nuclear technology has become somewhat of a goal for Iran—and international geopolitics, as many countries, particularly Israel and the US, are wary of further nuclear proliferation. He was brought in after former negotiator Ali Larajani resigned. His role is pivotal in the future security of the Islamic Republic and the success of the peaceful use of nuclear power in Iran.

POLITICAL

IRAN

KHATAMI, HIS EXCELLENCY MOHAMMAD

Mohammad Khatami is a reformist politician who served as president of Iran from 1997 to 2005. Although he was ineffective at bringing around many of the changes that were sought in Iranian society present in his mandate, he remains a figurehead of the reformist movement. He was elected to the first Majles al Shura. Khatami is known internationally for his proposal in 2000 to the UN termed 'Dialogue Among Civilizations'; a movement he hoped would counter the prevailing sentiment that there was a 'Clash of Civilizations'.

MONTAZERI, HIS EMINENCE GRAND AYATOLLAH HOSSEIN ALI

Grand Ayatollah Hossein Ali Montazeri has been an outspoken critic of the Islamic Republic of Iran's foreign and domestic policy. A religious and political heavyweight, he is an advocate of transparent governance, and has been an activist of civil and women's rights in Iran. He has a popular following among the large reformist movement in Iran.

MOUSAVI, HIS EXCELLENCY MIR-HOSSEIN

Mousavi is a leading reformer who has served as Iran's Minister of Foreign Affairs and Prime Minister from 1981 to 1989. A painter and architect, Mousavi was the leading political opposition candidate in Iran's contested presidential elections of 2009. His candidacy was unsuccessful but brought about some of the most significant political protest and social upheaval that has been seen in Iran since the revolution of 1979.

RAFSANJANI, HIS EXCELLENCY AYATOLLAH ALI AKBAR HASHEMI

Ayatollah Ali Akbar Hashemi Rafsanjani is a reformer who has served as president of Iran. He currently holds the position of head of the Expediency Council, a position designed to settle disputes between the Iranian parliament and the Council of Guardians. It is one of the most senior positions in Iranian politics as the Expediency Council has the power to sack the Supreme Leader.

TASKHIRI, HIS EMINENCE AYATOLLAH MOHAMMAD-ALI

Ayatollah Taskhiri is a religious cleric and also a diplomat. He is Iran's go-to man for dialogue with the Sunni world. He became an increasingly significant figure after the US-led invasion of Iraq in 2003, dealing with the ongoing sectarian disputes there. Taskhiri was born in Iraq and maintains a strong connection with Iraq's Shi'a organizations. He currently holds the position of director of the Islamic Culture and Communications Organization in Iran.

IRAQ

DARI, HARITH

Dari is the current leader of the Sunni Ulema Union, the largest association of Sunni Muslim scholars in Iraq. POLITICAL

LIBYAN ARAB JAMAHIRIYA

GADDAFI, HIS EXCELLENCY COLONEL MUAMMAR

Colonel Muammar Gaddafi, also known as Brother Leader of the Revolution of the Great Socialist People's Libyan Arab Jamahiriya has been a central figure in the life of Libya since he seized power there in a bloodless coup in 1969. His stature and longevity in global politics, as well as a significant endowment to the World Islamic Call Society (Jamiat al Da'wa al Islamiya), make him one of the most influential people in the world proselytizing for Islam. He is a key figure in Africa, as chairman of the African Union, the leader of one Africa's key da'wa movements, and was named King of African Kings at a summit of Africa's royalty.

PALESTINE

ABBAS, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT MAHMOUD

Abbas, also known as Abu Mazen, is a co-founder of Fatah, chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization and president of the Palestinian National Authority. Considered a moderate, he advocated negotiations with Israel and initiated dialogue with Jewish and pacifist movements in the 1970s. Much was expected of his presidency of the Palestinian National Authority and his lack of ability to offer any significant progress has diluted his influence both as a political leader and as a peacemaker. However his position ensures that he remains a central figure in global politics.

HANIYAH, ISMAIL

Haniyah is a senior political leader of Hamas and one of two disputed prime ministers of the Palestinian Authority, a matter under political and legal dispute. After being dismissed by President Mahmoud Abbas, Haniyah continued to exercise prime ministerial authority in the Gaza Strip. Haniyah is a popular figure able to broaden the appeal of Hamas in Gazan politics.

SUDAN

AL BASHIR, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT OMAR

Al Bashir is the current president of Sudan and head of the National Congress Party. He came to power in a coup in 1989 and has since instituted elements of sharia law throughout the country, including in Christian and animist areas. The ICC issued an arrest warrant for al Bashir in 2009, indicting him on five counts of crimes against humanity (murder, extermination, forcible transfer, torture and rape) and two counts of war crimes (pillaging and intentionally directing attacks against civilians).

SYRIA

AL ASSAD, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT BASHAR

Al Assad is an Alawite Shi'a and president of the Syrian Arab Republic. He has broad appeal as a leader of a predominantly Muslim country through a number of reforms that he instituted. He changed the law soon after taking office to allow the wearing of hijab in public schools. He also began to allow soldiers to pray in mosques. Assad has also made an increasing amount of references to Syria's Islamic heritage in official speeches, signaling that Islam is not as feared as it once was by the Syrian government.

TUNISIA

BACCOUCHE, HIS EXCELLENCY PROF. DR HEDI

Dr Hedi Baccouche is former Tunisian Prime Minister (1987-1989). He has since gone on to become a vocal figure in promoting dialogue, and in criticizing any interaction based on violence and division. He was formerly the leader of the nationalist Neo-Destour Party, then party director of the Destourian Socialist Party during the 1980s.

GHANNOUSHI, RACHID

Ghannoushi has influenced Tunisian politics since the 1980s when he founded the Renaissance

POLITICAL

Party. The Renaissance Party is an Islamic political party whose principles and ideals have been widely accepted by Tunisians. He continues to lead the party in exile in London, and writes prolifically. Although seen as a radical in Tunisia he is respected throughout the world as a proponent of Islamic democracy.

UNITED ARAB EMIRATES

AL NAHYAN, HIS HIGHNESS SHEIKH KHALIFA BIN ZAYED

Al Nahyan is the president of one of the fastest growing nations in the world, the United Arab Emirates. He has significant power over the direction that the Emirates go in and has very clear opinions about Islam's role in the economic development of the UAE, saying that women are accorded the right to work where they please as long as they are accorded the right respect.

MIDDLE AFRICA

CHAD

BICHARA, AHMAT ISMAEL

Bichara is a 29-year-old Islamic spiritual leader. He is an influential figure with a small army of followers. He was arrested in 2008 for threatening to launch a holy war against Christians and atheists from Africa to Europe. Sixty-six of his followers were killed in a battle with Chad's armed forces.

DEBY ITNO, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT IDRIS

Deby is the president of Chad and the head of the Patriotic Salvation Movement. He took power in 1990, leading a predominantly Muslim army. Muslims make up around 55 percent of Chad's 11 million people. He holds great domestic authority through his ability to consolidate power in Chad. Chad was previously affected by a high frequency of coup d'états.

EAST AFRICA

SOMALIA

AHMED, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT SHEIKH SHARIF SHEIKH

Ahmad is the ninth president of Somalia and former commander in chief of the Islamic Courts Union—a previously militaristic organization that had significant control over the country, which has now reformed into a Somali political party. He was educated in sharia in Sudan and Libya. He is a Hafiz al Qur'an and the spiritual leader of the Idriseeyah order of Sufi Islam in Somalia.

AWEYS, SHEIKH HASSAN DAHIR

Aweys is an influential Somali leader. He is a Salafi and the former head of the Shura Council of the Islamic Courts Union of Somalia. In April 2009 Aweys returned to Somalia declaring a war on the African Peace Keeping Forces (AMISOM). WEST AFRICA

MALI

TOURÉ, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT AMADOU TOUMANI

Touré is the president of Mali. Mali has a 95 percent majority of Muslims. He overthrew the military ruler, Moussa Traoré in 1991, then handed power to civilian authorities the next year. He won the presidential elections in 2002, with a broad coalition of support and was easily re-elected in 2007.

POLITICAL

NIGERIA

YAR'ADUA, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT UMARU MUSA

Yar'Adua is the president of Nigeria, a country with an estimated 74.6 million Muslims. He served as governor of Katsina State in northern Nigeria from 1999 to 2007, where in 2000, during his administration, Katsina became the fifth northern Nigerian state to adopt sharia (Islamic law). He was declared the winner of the controversial Nigerian presidential election held on 2007. He is a member of the ruling People's Democratic Party (PDP).

ASIA

AFGHANISTAN

KARZAI, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT HAMID

Hamid Karzai was elected as president of Afghanistan for a full five-year term in September 2004, becoming the first directly-elected president in the country's history. Karzai has been able to build up considerable support from the Afghans and under his presidency, Afghanistan's economy has been growing rapidly for the first time in many years. His administration does however suffer from widespread allegations of corruption.

MOJADDEDI, HIS EXCELLENCY SIBGHATULLAH

Mojaddedi served as the first president of the Islamic State of Afghanistan after the fall of the communist regime in 1992, and is currently the president of the Meshrano Jirga (Upper House), head of the Afghanistan National Independent Peace and Reconciliation Commission, for which he is widely respected by pro- and anti-government parties, and is also the leader of the Afghan National Liberation Front.

AZERBAIJAN

ALIYEV, HIS EXCELLENCY PRESIDENT ILHAM

ISSUES OF THE DAY

HOUTHİ REBELLİON

YEMEN

HOUTHİ, ABDUL-MALİK

Houthi is the leading figure in an insurgency in Sadah province in northern Yemen which has been continuing from 2004 to the present day. The uprising has been called the Houthi Rebellion due to his leadership. The Zaidi community comprises around half of the population of Yemen, concentrated in the north. In traditional Zaidi religious belief if there is no clear leader for the Zaidi community a Caliph can emerge through armed struggle. Yemen was formerly under the control of a Zaidi Caliph; the Zaidi Caliphate ended in 1962. His brothers Yahia Badreddin and Abdul-Karim are also leaders in the insurgency.

GAZA SIEGE

PALESTINE

HANIYAH, ISMAIL

Haniyah is a senior political leader of Hamas and one of two disputed prime ministers of the Palestinian National Authority, the matter being under political and legal dispute. President Mahmoud Abbas dismissed Haniyah from office on 14 June 2007 at the height of the Fatah-Hamas conflict, but Haniyah did not acknowledge the decree and continues to exercise prime ministerial authority in the Gaza Strip. Haniyah was a key figure in Palestinian leadership during the Gaza siege.

POVERTY

BANGLADESH

Muhammad Yunus is a Bangladeshi banker and economist, as well as the founder of Grameen Bank, and is known for his pioneering efforts in microcredit. He is a founding member of Global Elders, a group of global leaders dedicated to solving global problems, and serves on the board of directors of the United Nations Foundation, a public charity. Yunus was awarded the 2006 Nobel Peace Prize for his efforts to create economic and social development. His banking is not strictly sharia compliant since it is based around taking interest, but some commentators have called it sharia-based because of the pro-poor nature of the bank's work. He is currently seeking an endowment to make a sharia compliant micro-credit institution.

HIJAB RIGHTS

BELGIUM

OZDEMİR, MAHİNUR

Ozdemir is a young politician and Europe's first hijab-wearing minister of parliament. She was sworn in to parliament, while wearing a headscarf, in Belgium. The event garnered mass interest in Turkey, where Merve Kavakçı was denied the right to swear her oath of office because of her hijab. Ozdemir is of Turkish origin. She is a member of the Francophone Christian Democrat party.

ISSUES OF THE DAY

YOUTH UNEMPLOYMENT

QATAR

YOUNIS, AHMED

Younis is the young former national director of Muslim Public Affairs Council in the United States (MPAC). His current job is to create strategic partnerships at Silatech, an organization that recently started to push for greater youth employment in the Middle East and North Africa. These regions in particular have some of the world's highest youth unemployment rates.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

SOUTH AFRICA

PATEL, EBRAHIM

Patel is currently one of South Africa's most important figures. He is the minister for economic development, and former spokesperson for COSATU, the umbrella organization for South African Trade Unions. His experience and position are critical at present because of the huge unemployment rates in South Africa.

BARACK OBAMA ADMINISTRATION

UNITED STATES

Pandith was the senior adviser on Muslim engagement in the European and Eurasian region at the State Department. This position was created for the first time in US history. Prior to the State Department, she served on the National Security Council at the White House where she worked on Muslim engagement and combating extremism. She worked at the US Agency for International Development in the early 1990s and again in 2003. She also served in Kabul, Afghanistan in 2004. Pandith immigrated to the United States with her parents from Srinagar, India. She has said that she sees her personal experience as an illustration of how Muslim immigrants to the US can successfully integrate into American society.

UIGHUR-CHINESE RELATIONS

CHINA

KADEER, REBIYA

Kadeer is the de facto leader of the movement for social justice for the 8 million strong Uighur ethnic-population of China. She was formerly a successful businesswoman but was imprisoned in 2000 for leaking state secrets and now lives in exile in the United States. She is well known for her work in Europe and North America publicizing the plight of the Uighur ethnic group, and is partially responsible for raising the issue's status both in China and abroad. The Chinese government sees Kadeer as an agitator.

GLOSSARY

Al Fatiha: Meaning 'the opening', this is the title for the first chapter of the Holy Qur'an which is recited as a fundamental part of Muslims' daily prayers.

Allah: The Arabic Name for God.

Aqida: Creed; this refers to the theological and doctrinal beliefs of Muslims.

Ash'ari: The school of Sunni Orthodoxy named after the followers of the 9th century scholar Abu al Hasan al Ash'ari (874-936 CE).

Azaan/Adhan: The call to prayer.

Bid'a: Literally 'innovation'; this refers to the act of creating superfluous, or non-prescribed traditions in the practice of Islam. It is used in common speech as a denunciation toward those not acting in accordance with the prescriptions of Islam. The prescriptions of Islam are however open to scholarly interpretation due to perceived ambiguities in the Qur'an, or to scientific or technological innovations which present new questions to scholars.

Caliph: The head of the entire community of Muslims, either current or in the past. Is also used by certain sects to refer to their own leader.

Chador: A loose cloth traditionally worn by Muslim women which usually covers the body from head to foot.

Da'i/ Da'ee: Missionary.

Da'wa: Islamic missionary work; literally 'making an invitation' to the religion.

Emir/Ameer: A title accorded to a leader, prince, or commander-in-chief.

Fatwa : Islamic legal ruling, or legal pronouncement. It is not synonymous with a death sentence as is sometimes thought in the West.

Fiqh: Islamic jurisprudence (the philosophy of law). This is the scholarly pursuit that enables individuals to have an educated understanding of Islamic law.

Hadith: Literally 'sayings'. These are a set of references to the life of the Prophet Muhammad. There are numerous Hadith, and the practice of verifying them is an Islamic scholarly practice of its own that has been carried out since the life of the Prophet.

Hafiz (or Hafiza) al Qur'an: A person who has committed the entire Qur'an to memory, and can recite the Qur'an at will. This is important in Islam because the Qur'an was originally revealed as an oral text.

Hajj: The pilgrimage to Mecca. It is mandatory for every Muslim who is able to do it, and can afford to do so. It is one of the five pillars of Islam. The pilgrimage occurs from the 8th to 12th day of Dhu al-Hijjah, the 12th month of the Islamic calendar.

Haram: Sanctuary.

Hijab : Headscarf worn traditionally by Muslim women.

Hijaz: The region along the west coast of the Arabian Peninsula.

Ibadi: The Ibadi school has origins in and is linked to the Kharijites, but the modern day community is distinct from the 7th century Islamic sect. It was founded after the death of Prophet Muhammad and is currently practiced by a majority of Oman's Muslim population. Also found across parts of Africa.

Ihsan : Virtue through constant regard to, and awareness of God.

Ijaza: Certification.

Ijtihad: Independent reasoning.

Imam: (1) In both Sunni and Shi'a Islam this the leader of congregational prayers who may also deliver the Friday prayer (Jum'a) sermon; more generally, a person of authority within the community. (2) In Shi'a Islam this exclusively refers to a series of people, descended from the Prophet Muhammad, who by lineage are considered divinely guided spiritual leaders.

Imamate: The position or institution, in Shi'a Islam, that is comprised of a series of divinely guided Imams.

Iman: Faith in God.

Islam: Submission to God's will.

Ka'ba: The large cubic building in the Grand Mosque in Mecca, adorned in gold embroidered black fabric, referred to by Muslims as the 'House of God'. This structure marks the direction in which Muslims pray and is central to the Hajj pilgrimage when it is circumambulated, a practice rooted in pre-Islamic Arabia when it contained idols subsequently removed by the Prophet Muhammad.

Khateeb: One who traditionally delivers a sermon; orator.

Khawerij : A group of Muslims in early Islamic history who went against the larger community and became outsiders. A term used to describe political deviants.

Khums: Literally, 1/5 in Arabic; a religious tax of 1/5 of one's income owed by followers of Usuli Twelver Shi'a to a very senior cleric.

Madhabs: Traditional schools of Islamic legal methodology (e.g. Hanbali, Maliki, Shafi'i, Hanafi, Jafari), that draw on the teachings and followers of four highly regarded scholars.

Madrassa: The Arabic word for 'school'. Can refer to a religious school.

Marja/Marjaiyya: The highest position of authority in the Usuli school of Twelver Shi'i fiqh. Also referred to as marja taqlid, meaning literally one who is worthy of being imitated.

Masjid: Arabic word for 'mosque'.

Maturidi: The school of Sunni Orthodoxy named after the followers of the 9th century scholar Muhammad Abu Mansur al Maturidi (853-944 CE).

Nasheed: Religious song traditionally performed without musical instruments.

Qibla: The direction in which Muslims make their five daily prayers; the direction of the Ka'ba in Mecca.

Ramadan: Holy month of fasting.

Salafi: A movement of Sunni Muslims that places great emphasis on literal interpretation of the Qur'an and Hadith, with skepticism towards the role of human.

Shahadatayn: Testimony of faith.

Sharia: Literally, 'the way to the source', this refers to Islamic law. Islamic law is not, as is widely perceived, a standard set of written rules, but is rather an unwritten text that is interpreted by legal scholars in specific instances, drawing on the Qur'an and other reliable religious sources relevant to the tradition followed.

Sheikh: (1) A position of authority granted to people who are respected in society. (2) A religious official.

Shi'a: The second-largest denomination of Muslims referred to as Shi'atu 'Ali or 'the party of 'Ali,' the fourth caliph of Islam and first Imam in Shi'ism.

Sunna: Literally 'the trodden path'; this refers to the ways and practices of the Prophet Muhammad. Reference to these practices can be found in the Qur'an and in the Hadith.

Sunni: The largest denomination of Muslims referred to as Ahl as-Sunnah wa'l-Jama'h or 'people of the prophetic tradition and community'—with emphasis on emulating the life of the last Prophet, Muhammad.

Tafsir: Interpretation of the Qur'an, either by commentary or exegesis.

Taqlid: The practice of following rulings without questioning the religious authority. This is a core tenet of the Usuli school of Islamic law.

Velayat-e Faqih: A position of both spiritual and temporal powers in the Republic of Iran. Literally, Guardianship of the Jurists, referring to the fact that while the Mahdi (awaited one) is in occultation, the jurists should have guardianship over the earth.

NOTE ON FORMAT

- All dates are of the Common Era (CE) unless otherwise stated. The abbreviations CE (Common Era) and AH (Anno Hegirae: years after Hijri) are used for clarity with very old dates.
- Names are presented as individuals refer to themselves, or as they are most frequently used; therefore some professors and doctors do not have the honorifics Prof. and Dr in their title. This is except in the Top 50 where full formal titles are written out completely. Royalty and nobility are accorded their traditionally used honorifics.
- The honorific His Eminence is given to figures of religious importance, such as state-level Muftis or Muftis of high stature, and also to Ayatollahs. His Royal Eminence is used for the Sultan of Sokoto, who has a combination of spiritual and regal honors.
- Other honorifics are presented where they apply, such as Ambassador, Representative, and Lady, among others.
- The title His/Her Excellency is accorded to heads of state, heads of government, and senior diplomats only—as per established usage of these terms. Rarely, individuals wish to avoid such titles, in such cases, we have adhered to the individuals' preference.
- Names are presented surname-first for ease of navigating and indexing, except in cases where first names are more relevant—such as for some royalty.
- Spelling of names is, where possible, as the individuals spell their own name. In other cases we have adhered to the most common usage.
- Specific terms in languages other than English have been italicized, and described. Further explanations for terms are presented in a glossary at the rear of this publication.
- For ease of reading we have adhered to the more widespread and straightforward transliterations of Arabic words into English, such as: Sheikh, Sharia, Hadith, and Ayatollah.
