1.A. General Information

1.A.1. Policy

14 U.S.C. § 485 provides that: (a) the Coast Guard may purchase uniforms, accouterments, and related equipment for sale to officer personnel or cadets of the Coast Guard and; (b) the Coast Guard may purchase uniform clothing for sale to enlisted personnel of the Coast Guard. The actual cost of the clothing thus sold to enlisted personnel may be withheld from their pay. The cost of initial issue of enlisted uniforms is recovered from each member over time by way of a reduced clothing maintenance allowance.

This Manual provides descriptions of all authorized U.S. Coast Guard uniforms and components, and guidance for all Coast Guard activities prescribing uniform wear in order to present a consistent Coast Guard image worldwide. In cases when a further determination of the appropriateness of any uniform item, grooming, or appearance standard is necessary, refer the matter to Commandant (CG-122) for review and determination.

1.A.2. Implementation

These regulations define the composition of authorized uniforms and appearance standards. Coast Guard uniforms are distinctive visual evidence of the authority and responsibility vested in their wearer by the United States. The prescribing authority determines when and where the uniforms in this Manual are appropriate for wear. Coast Guard personnel must present a proud, professional, and consistent appearance that will reflect positively on the individual, the Coast Guard, and the United States. All personnel will comply with these regulations and serve as a positive example (A mentor) for the proper wearing of Coast Guard uniforms. Exemplary military appearance should be the norm for uniformed personnel.

1.A.3. Optional Uniform Items

Optional uniform items are items that are officially recognized and authorized to be worn, but are not required to be owned by members. For example, the wool pully sweater and the Service Dress Blue skirt are optional uniform items. The purpose for specifying some items as optional is to provide some flexibility of choice and individual comfort, while minimizing the cost incurred by individuals or the Government if all were required. Since members are not required to have optional items, those items may not be specified for wear by prescribing authorities. Additionally, optional items may not be appropriate for wear on all occasions or in all locations. Some restrictions on wear may be set by prescribing officials, who are responsible for determining appropriate uniforms for the various seasons, functions, and situations in their region. Individuals may wear optional items at their discretion, except when these regulations or prescribing authorities specifically prohibit their wear. Special clothing items authorized by CG-122 for safety, health, security, or law enforcement purposes may be issued as organizational clothing; see Chapter 4.D. for additional information on organizational clothing.

1.A.4. Command Authority and Responsibility

Commands have the authority and responsibility to render judgments regarding appropriate appearance and are ultimately responsible for enforcing these regulations in the spirit and intent described above. Interpretations will be made in accordance with the traditions and discipline inherent to the Coast Guard and the Armed Forces of the United States. Since it is impossible to predict, and therefore regulate, future fads and fashion, commands will maintain a conservative stance in interpretation of these regulations, while concurrently forwarding recommended changes via the Uniform Board process (see Section 1.C.) for those items and changes that are considered worthy of service-wide adoption. Nothing will interfere or take precedence over a command's discretion and responsibility to make an on-site, temporary correction when these regulations conflict with the health and safety of their assigned personnel.

1.A.5. Sources for Uniforms

Active duty, reserve, retired, and Auxiliary members may purchase uniform items at the Uniform Distribution Center (UDC), Woodbine, NJ; Training Center (TRACEN) Cape May, NJ; various Coast Guard Exchange System (CGES) stores and authorized commercial sources. Procurement from unauthorized commercial sources is prohibited, as these sources frequently do not meet Coast Guard certification. Ordering information is included in Chapter 5 of this Manual.

1.B. Authority to Prescribe

1.B.1. Setting the Uniform of the Day

The standard Coast Guard uniform of the day, regardless of season or location, is Service Dress Blue or Tropical Blue Long. For the Military District of Washington, D. C., the uniform of the day for Coast Guard members is established by the Chief of Staff. District commanders prescribe the uniform for the season, day, or special occasion for personnel within the geographical limits of their district, with the exceptions listed below. Commands in any locality within the district may amend the district's uniform of the day only with prior approval of the appropriate district staff element, and then only when necessary due to short-term local situations or variations in weather or climate. Other uniforms, such as the Operational Dress Uniform (ODU) or authorized organizational clothing must be worn as required by the work or duties being performed.

- a. Area, maintenance and logistics commands, district, and local commanders have the authority to require the wear of Service Dress Blue.
- b. The Superintendent, Coast Guard Academy, will prescribe the uniform for wear by all cadets and permanent detail.
- c. Commanding Officer, Training Center Cape May, will prescribe the uniform for wear by all recruits and permanent detail.
- d. The Coast Guard Ceremonial Honor Guard, Precision Drill Team, and Coast Guard Band are authorized distinctive uniforms as outlined in Chapter 4. Other distinctive uniforms, such as for local security forces, unit-level color guards, and funeral details, are authorized with approval of the cognizant district commander, and will conform to the special uniform standards outlined in Chapter 4.
- e. Coast Guard personnel serving with the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Air Force will wear Coast Guard uniforms commensurate to those prescribed for personnel of the service concerned. In combat areas or under other circumstances where the wearing of the Coast Guard uniform would be inappropriate, Coast Guard personnel may wear the expeditionary uniform of the other service provided that all members of that CG unit are outfitted uniformly. In these situations, the Coast Guard will either provide the uniform or reimburse the expense of the required uniforms upon approval by CG-122. When such clothing is authorized, appropriate Coast Guard insignia will be worn.

The following criteria will be used as a guide to determine when Service Dress Blue is more appropriate than Tropical Blue Long:

- a. When a participant or guest at ceremonies or functions for which the military or civilian host requires the use of their equivalent of Service Dress Blue.
 - b. When permanently or temporarily assigned at the facility of another military service that observes seasonal uniform changes.
 - c. When a participant or guest in any ceremony or function at which a higher level of formality is traditional or expected.
 - d. When attending official or social functions after 1800, Dinner Dress or Service Dress Blue may be more appropriate.
 - e. When participating in hearings at the local, state, federal, or international level.
 - f. When serving as a Coast Guard or military representative at military funerals. Service Dress Blue with combination cap is also the appropriate uniform for any funeral visitation, wake, funeral service, burial or memorial service. See Chapter 3.J for additional guidance.
 - g. Whenever the dignity, gravity, or grandeur of a situation indicates a need for a more formal appearance.
 - h. When honoring U.S. or foreign dignitaries.
 - i. When indicated by military protocol.
 - j. If otherwise unsure of the correct uniform for an occasion, direction from higher authority, or from Commandant (CG-122) should be requested.

1.B.2. When Uniforms are Optional or Prohibited

The table below describes the occasions when wearing a uniform is optional or specifically prohibited.

When	Optional ¹	Prohibited
On liberty	X
Traveling in U.S. Government vehicles, vessels, or aircraft	X
Traveling on orders in commercial conveyances	X
Traveling on orders in a foreign country	X
On Duty Under Instruction	X
Participating in traditional veteran's functions, parades, ceremonies, and other events honoring the United States or U. S. Armed Forces	X
Participating in public speeches, interviews, picket lines, marches or rallies not specifically approved or sanctioned by the Coast Guard		X
Participating in political activities, private employment, or commercial interests		X
Working in an off-duty civilian capacity		X
It would discredit the Coast Guard, Armed Forces, or U.S. Government		X

Note 1 - Although uniform wear may be optional, all uniforms must be worn to inspection-ready standards when worn in the above authorized circumstances. See Chapter 3 for guidance.

1.B.3. Donations of Uniforms (Obsolete and Current)

Uniform items that are serviceable, but no longer needed or wanted by active, reserve or auxiliary members, may be donated to other countries or organizations by following the below procedures. Sales or gifts, via the internet are strictly prohibited.

Donations of Federal (i.e. uniforms) property to foreign recipients are approved by the State Department in accordance with Title V of the Federal Property Act. Any requests for donations to foreign entities must be submitted to the Coast Guard Foreign Military Sales Program Manager at Commandant (CG-DCO-I). Any contact directly with the foreign government in giving excess Federal property away may cause an international incident, thus the protocol of the State Department handling the transfer is required by law. Any sales, action, or gifts, or sales via the internet is strictly prohibited.

The Civil Air Patrol (CAP) has been designated by the Secretary of Defense to be a Service Educational Activity, thereby eligible for donations of military surplus property. Any CAP unit interested in obtaining donations of surplus military equipment must contact their local State Agency for Surplus Property for assistance in acquiring needed property.

Currently donating or selling individual uniform type clothing to the public, as long as there are no military markings, including buttons, patches, logos etc., on the clothing is highly discouraged. Both shirts/tops and slacks/pants can be transferred/sold at the same time. If unsure of current policy, please check with Commandant (CG-842) for current policy.

Any unit wanting to donate Coast Guard surplus property, including uniforms, is required to send their SF 120 Reports of Excess Personal Property to Commandant (CG-842) as promulgated in policy in the Coast Guard Personal Property Management Manual, COMDTINST M4500.5(series).

1.B.4. Disposal of Uniforms (Obsolete and Current)

Uniform items that are no longer serviceable, not authorized for wear, or no longer necessary should be destroyed or disposed of properly.

Obsolete, worn, damaged, or unwanted uniform items must be disposed of properly to ensure they do not become available to the general public. Any markings or identification sewn onto the uniform that identify it as belonging to an individual or as a Coast Guard uniform must be removed before disposal. The uniform item must be rendered unserviceable (by burning, tearing, cutting, etc.) before disposal. Uniform items may not be merely thrown in the trash without taking such precautions first. In addition, uniform items may not be donated to relief agencies (Goodwill, the Salvation Army, etc.), sold to retail or consignment stores for further resale to the public, or provided to any organization, for any purposes, regardless of whether the intent is noble, unless it meets the criteria in 1.B.3.

1.B.5. Uniform Wear by Retired or Separated Personnel

The table below describes the occasions when members who are not on active duty may wear the uniform per U. S. Code Title 14, Chapter 13, Section 483. Such individuals will at no time portray themselves as being on active duty with the Coast Guard. The uniform may be worn traveling to and from the event described in the table below. All retired or honorably discharged members, engaged as an instructor or student at an educational institution or military society, may wear the Coast Guard uniform but may not wear the Coast Guard insignia, devices, badges, or awards. Any insignia worn should distinguish the uniform as distinctly different from the Coast Guard. See 10 U.S.C. Section 773.

1.C. Coast Guard Uniform Board

1.C.1. Uniform Board Composition and Process

The Coast Guard uniform board convenes periodically to evaluate uniform change suggestions and make recommendations to the Commandant. The Chief, Office of Military Personnel, Commandant (CG-122), will convene the board as needed or at the direction of the Commandant. The uniform board evaluates uniform-related suggestions and makes recommendations for final decision at the appropriate level Commandant (CG-122, CG-12, CG-1, VCG or CCG) as delegated by the Commandant. The Chief, Office of Military Personnel, Commandant (CG-122) normally serves as the uniform board president. The uniform board president will prescreen all suggestions sent to the uniform board and disapprove, dismiss, or present to the board as appropriate.

The uniform board will consist of ad hoc representatives from Commandant staffs of CG-7, CG-5, CG-531, CG-4, Master Chief Petty Officer of the Coast Guard, Gender Policy Advisor, each Area, Training Center Cape May, CG Academy or Leadership Development Center, Coast Guard Auxiliary representative, and others, who will be solicited, as needed, by Commandant (CG-122). At their discretion, area commanders may designate their representative from operational field units. Representatives from the CG Clothing Design and Technical Office (CDTO), the Uniform Distribution Center (UDC), and Defense Supply Center Philadelphia (DSCP) may serve as non-voting board members in an advisory capacity as directed.

The uniform board will meet when numerous recommendations or complex issues must be addressed. Electronic consultations, teleconferencing, and/or video conferencing between board members will be the preferred method of reviewing a small number of uniform suggestions and to send recommendations to the appropriate levels for final determination.

Final determinations of uniform board recommendations have the force of regulation and will be promulgated as changes to this Manual.

1.C.2. Making Uniform Suggestions

Suggested changes to the Uniform Regulations will be submitted via memorandum through the chain of command and program manager to Commandant (CG-1221) using the following format:

- a. Uniform Issue - A brief statement addressing the topic.
- b. Suggestion - A full statement, including costs, describing your suggestion and how it benefits the Coast Guard.
- c. Alternatives - Other satisfactory ways to address the topic.
- d. Enclosures - Drawings, pictures, or graphics, if appropriate, may be included.

Chapter 2 – Appearance and Grooming

2.A. Military Appearance

2.A.1. Military Image

2.A.1.a. Tattoos and Body Alterations

2.A.2. Civilian Clothing Appearance and Standards

2.B. Grooming Standards

2.A. Military Appearance

2.A.1. Military Image

Appearance in uniform is a key element for how the public perceives the men and women of the Coast Guard, and how the Coast Guard men and women honor their country and the service. Coast Guard personnel are responsible for maintaining their personal appearance and their uniforms to reflect the long and proud history and traditions of the Coast Guard. Commands and personnel in leadership positions at every level are responsible to promote and enforce high standards for uniform appearance. Coast Guard personnel must maintain proper military decorum and present themselves with pride. For example, when walking from point to point in uniform, members will not smoke, eat, drink, or keep hands in their pockets. Use of hand-held electronic devices is discouraged, although limited use for official business is authorized. Personnel should consult with their chain of command before considering a tattoo, piercing, or body modification to be sure it is within standards. See Tattoo, Body Marking, Body Piercing, and Mutilation Policy, COMDTINST 1000.1 (series) for details. Guidance for alteration, fitting, and ordering special measurement clothing items is provided in Chapter 6 of this Manual and on the UDC web site at <http://www.uscg.mil/uniform>. 2.A.1.a. Tattoos and Body Alterations

For the authorized military appearance:

The Tattoo, Body Marking, Body Piercing, and Mutilation Policy, COMDTINST 1000.1 (series), contains guidance on what is authorized, what is considered excessive, what is unacceptable content, grandfathering existing markings, and personnel forms to document the location of tattoos, body markings, body piercing, and body mutilations.

2.A.2. Civilian Clothing Appearance and Standards

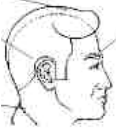

The following table describes the appearance and standards to be adhered to while military members are wearing civilian clothing.

Civilian Clothing	Wear:
While on Liberty Wearing or displaying clothing, jewelry, tattoos, etc. depicting drugs or advocating drug use, or of a sexual, crude, or racist nature is strictly prohibited.	Only the following uniform items which do not present a distinctive Coast Guard appearance may be worn with civilian attire: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Trench coat (w/o insignia) • Windbreaker (w/o insignia) • Foul weather parka (w/o insignia) • Work coat • Sweaters (cardigan or wooly-pully w/o shoulder boards) • Belts • Ball caps (w/o insignia) • Watch cap • Cold weather cap (w/o insignia) • Blue four-in-hand necktie and bow-ties • Shoes and boots • Gloves • White shirts
While on Duty Wearing or displaying clothing, jewelry, tattoos, etc. depicting drugs or advocating drug use, or of a sexual, crude, extremist, or racist nature is strictly prohibited.	Law specialists may wear civilian clothing when they appear in courts that prohibit attorneys from wearing the uniform when representing the United States. Marine safety personnel may wear civilian clothing when conducting prevention investigative or inspection duties that require exceptional cooperation of mariners in locations or situations that would inhibit open information sharing with uniformed law enforcement; or where destruction of clothing due to severe wear (even when supplemented with coveralls) make the cost of uniform replacement a hardship.

	Special agents may be exempt from image and grooming standards while assigned to investigative duties. Because the standard for haircuts may be conspicuous, special agents may be authorized by competent authority to wear hair and sideburns that are in keeping with local styles and the nature of their duties on a case-by-case basis.

2.B. Grooming Standards

Grooming standards are based on several elements including neatness, cleanliness, safety, military image, and appearance. Forms of altering an individual's appearance, such as the use of cosmetics, hair color or styles, colored contact lenses, fingernail color and length, tattoos, body piercing, branding, intentional scarring, etc., that are not in the keeping with the customs, traditions, and spirit of military appearance are not acceptable for Coast Guard personnel in uniform. It is the member's responsibility to confirm identity with their official ID card. It is impossible to provide examples of every appropriate or unacceptable hairstyle or "conservative" or "eccentric" grooming, therefore the good judgment of leaders at all levels is key to upholding the Coast Guard grooming policy. The Superintendent, Coast Guard Academy; Commanding Officer of Training Center Cape May; and Commander, Telecommunication and Information Systems Command (parent command for Coast Guard Honor Guard) are authorized to establish more restrictive grooming standards for cadets, officer candidates, enlisted recruits, members of the training command's permanent party, and Honor Guard members. Restrictive grooming standards are not applicable to tenant commands of the units authorized to establish such restrictive standards. The table below describes specific grooming details.

Grooming Item	Policy

3.C.6. Skirts

For women, Service Dress skirts and trousers are equivalent items that may be worn interchangeably. An individual Coast Guard woman may choose to wear either the skirt or trousers at her option, except for special occasions where either the skirt or trousers are specifically prescribed.

Women who are participants in official military formations (such as changes of command, award, or other ceremonies) that may require long periods of standing in place will wear trousers. Trousers will be worn if a sword is worn.

To facilitate personal safety, women will not normally wear skirts, on military ships, cutters, boats, or aircraft. However, skirts may be authorized during special occasions, such as receptions and open houses, when it would not pose a safety concern, violate rules of decorum, or would not cause embarrassment to the wearer.

3.D. Grade/Rank Insignia

3.D.1. Commissioned and Chief Warrant Officers

Officer ranks are represented by shoulder boards, sleeve striping, metal or embroidered shoulder and collar insignia. Shoulder boards show an officer's grade and branch of service and in the case of chief warrant officers their specialties. Hard and enhanced shoulder boards are available in full or $\frac{3}{4}$ size to better fit the shoulders of the wearer. Coast Guard flag officer shoulder boards consist of 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch gold lace on blue shoulder boards. The gold lace is embroidered with a silver fouled anchor with a silver shield superimposed on the shank. The fluke with the overlapped chain points to the front of the wearer.

Officer sleeve striping for O-1 through O-6 consists of $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{1}{4}$ inch gold stripes, and 2 and $\frac{1}{2}$ inch gold stripes for O-7 through O-10. Chief warrant officer sleeve striping consists of a $\frac{1}{2}$ inch gold stripe with blue breaks denoting the individual's grade. The stripes are placed on the sleeve parallel and 2 inches from the cuff with each subsequent stripe placed $\frac{1}{4}$ inch apart moving up the arm. Gold shields are sewn $\frac{1}{4}$ inch above the top most stripe, centered on the outside of the sleeve. The gold shield is not used on the Dinner Dress White Jacket, Dinner Dress White, Full Dress White, and Service Dress White uniforms. The CWO specialty insignia is not worn on the sleeve of the Dinner Dress Blue Jacket Uniform or Formal Dress Uniforms.

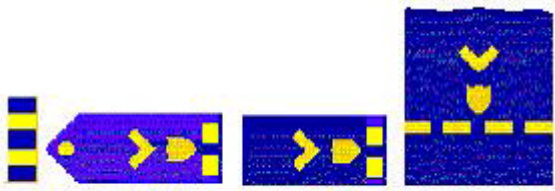

For Chief warrant officers only, the right collar insignia denotes the individual's grade, and the specialty insignia is worn on the left collar as seen on page 3-50, Section 3.D.1.c.

During wartime or other emergency conditions, the senior officer present may require subdued insignia for all personnel when the wearing of normal bright finish insignia would be considered hazardous.

- ◆ Operational Dress Uniform

3.F.1. Plastic Nametags

The nametag will be $\frac{5}{8}$ " x 3 and $\frac{3}{16}$ " of Air Force blue-colored plastic material. The standard for nametags requires the last name only. The nametag will have the individual's last name and the legend "U. S. COAST GUARD" directly below it. Both the name and legend will be centered. Lettering size will be $\frac{1}{4}$ " for the individual's last name and $\frac{3}{16}$ " for the legend.

Nametags with first names and unofficial but Coast Guard recognized insignia, such as SAR and NATON school pins attached, are authorized as an optional uniform item if space permits. Insignia will be placed to the left of the name. Full name and "U. S. COAST GUARD" legend letter sizes must be the same as for the standard nametag. Commands have the authority to require the standard nametag when a higher level of uniformity is necessary.

Crewmembers serving on the oldest cutter in the fleet are authorized to attach the gold hull numbers of that cutter to their nametags using a permanent adhesive. The numbers will be of block style and must fit within a one half-inch square space. The numbers will be attached to the far right (the wearer's right) of the nametag. The numbers will not obscure the individual's name. The authorization is limited to the duration of the assignment to the oldest cutter in the fleet. The gold numbers should be purchased by individuals or with the unit morale funds from local sources.

Nametags will be worn centered $\frac{1}{4}$ inch above the top of the right chest pocket.

On the women's light blue overblouse, the nametag will be worn so that it is level and centered on the right side of the shirtfront in the same approximate position that it would be worn on a properly fitting light blue shirt with pockets. Individuals are to adjust placement of nametag to allow for shirt size and individual body proportions to achieve appropriate appearance.

3.F.2. Cloth and U.S. Coast Guard Nametapes

Both the wearer's nametape and the "U.S. COAST GUARD" nametape will be worn on the ODU. The cloth nametape with the wearer's name will be centered directly above the wearer's right chest pocket. The "U.S. COAST GUARD" nametape will be centered directly above the wearer's left chest pocket. Nametapes will not be shorter than or extend beyond the width of the ODU breast pocket. The cloth nametapes will consist of a nylon/cotton poplin material matching the Operational Dress Uniform (ODU) in CG Blue 3362 and white block letters $5/8 \pm 1/16$ inch high by $5/16$ inch wide military block letters. Only the last name will be represented on the wearers right name tape. Surnames that have a combination of upper and lower case letters are authorized (i.e. McDONALD). Both nametapes will be one inch in height and eight inches wide. For last names that exceed 15 characters, the letter width will be reduced to allow the name to fit on the tape. Tapes will be sewn on with matching blue thread $1/16$ inch from the edge with a minimum of six stitches per inch. Sew-on stitching will not run through the embroidered lettering.

3.F.3. Direct Embroidery

Direct embroidery of name or "U. S. COAST GUARD" identification is not authorized on the Operational Dress Uniform (ODU) shirt.

3.H. Sword and Sword Accessories

Sword, scabbard, sword belt, and sword knot are required of all officers on active duty for wear with Full Dress uniforms. Chaplains and U.S. Public Health Service personnel serving with the Coast Guard do not require swords.

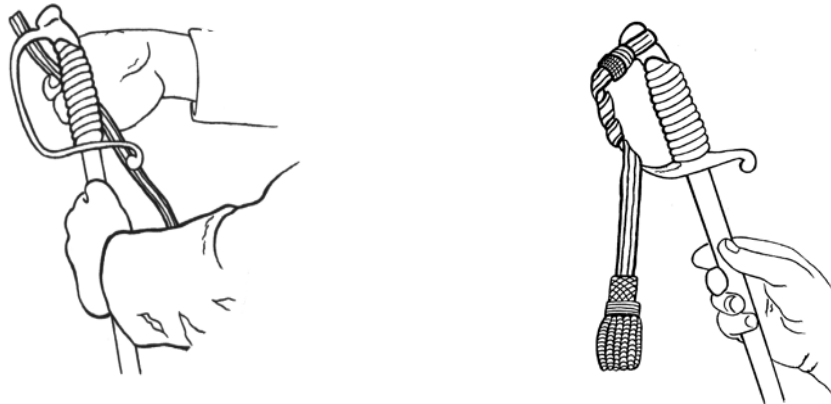

The senior officer present may prescribe the wearing of the Full Dress uniform without the sword for certain individuals, or on specific occasions when the wearing of a sword is considered inappropriate or undesirable.

The sword has a cut and thrust blade, from 26 to 32 inches long, half-basket hilt, and fits in a scabbard of plain black grain leather or synthetic material presenting the same appearance.

The sword belt is of plain black grain leather or synthetic material presenting the same appearance as the scabbard. It is 1-3/4 inches wide with 3/4-inch wide sling straps of the same material. The buckle is two inches in diameter with gold plate mounting. The sword knot consists of a 1/2-inch gold lace loop; 24 inches long with slide and tassel.

3.H.1. Preparing the Sword Knot

To prepare the sword knot:

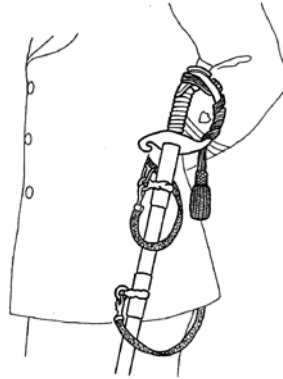

- a. Hold the sword with the blade pointing down and the handle to the left. Pass the end of the lace upward through the slit in the guard of the hilt.
 - b. With the knotted end, take one turn (right to left) around the handle outside the guard and pass it through the eye of the hilt. Adjust the lace slide as illustrated above.
 - c. Take two or more additional turns down around the guard and let the knot (tassel) hang free.

3.H.2. Manner of Wear for Sword and Sword Accessories

The sword belt is worn under the dress coat. As a reminder, the sword belt is worn approximately six inches higher than the waistline, and sword belt sizing measurements should be taken from that position. The short belt strap and lock swivels are passed through the coat opening on the left side and the longer strap hangs free.

To attach the sword and scabbard to the belt, hold the sword with the right hand and attach the back swivels to the scabbard rings. The shorter strap is attached to the upper ring and the longer strap to the lower. Twist the sword one-half turn in a clockwise direction and suspend on the sword hook with the uppermost scabbard ring so that the sword handle faces aft.

4.C.3. Prisoner Uniforms

Coast Guard members are required to have a full seabag prior to reporting to a military brig. Shower thongs, toiletries, and towels may also be required. Missing or unserviceable items are replaced at the member’s expense. If the member is not able to pay for the needed items, then the member may receive a gratuitous issue of the needed items.

Once the member is incarcerated, the Personnel Service Center (PSC), Topeka, Kansas, assumes the duties of managing Coast Guard uniform replacement. Gratuitous replacements should be on an individual “as needed” basis with an estimated maximum outlay of $200.00 per person per year. Submit replacement requests on Form CG-3019 to PSC (Admin).

For all gratuitous issues, PSC will use the following accounting string to procure items: 2/P/Y01/299/11/0/UD/70050/2613. Note: “Y” denotes fiscal year of expense. If and when the member is able to repay the cost of the gratuitous issue, that cost should be recovered.

4.D. Organizational Clothing

14 U.S.C. § 477 provides that the Coast Guard may make expenditures as are deemed appropriate for promotion and maintenance of the safety and occupational health of, and the prevention of accidents affecting, personnel of the Coast Guard, including the purchase of clothing, equipment, and other materials necessary thereto.

14 U.S.C. § 477 provides that appropriations available for the procurement of supplies and materiel or equipment are available for the purchase and maintenance of special clothing and equipment for the protection of personnel in the performance of their assigned tasks.

In order for an item of safety or special clothing to be authorized under the general authority of 14 U.S.C. §477 as organizational clothing, it must meet all three tests below:

- a. The item must be special and not part of the ordinary and usual furnishings an employee may reasonably be expected to provide for him/herself.
- b. The item must be for the benefit of the government, that is, essential to the safe and successful accomplishment of the work, and not solely for the protection of the employee, and
- c. The employee must be engaged in hazardous duty.

Organizational clothing is an unusually sensitive procurement area. Individuals responsible for purchasing organizational clothing are strongly advised to consult with their servicing procurement official to verify the appropriateness of intended organizational clothing purchases whenever there is any cause for doubt. All purchases of organizational clothing must be made in accordance with this Manual, Financial Resource Management Manual (FRMM), COMDTINST M7100.3 (series), Federal Acquisitions Regulations (FAR), Government Accounting Office (GAO), Principles of Federal Appropriations Law, Vol. 1, Article 4.C.13, and any subsequent Comptroller General Decisions. All purchases must be documented citing why the regular required uniform items do not meet needed health or safety requirements. Once the unit and procurement office have determined that organizational clothing is appropriate, a Determination and Finding outlining the rationale should be placed in the procurement file in order to ensure the decision history is available. Purchases not in accord with these policies and decisions may result in a ratification action or the purchaser being held personally liable for the inappropriate purchase. Under the Financial Resource Management Manual policy, COMDTINST M7100.3 (series), commanding officers may no longer authorize special clothing without the approval of Commandant (CG-1221 and CG-843).

Organizational clothing is Coast Guard unit-owned clothing that is issued to individuals. Generally, organizational clothing remains the property of the issuing unit and will be returned to the unit unless for sanitation reasons would not be reused. Items that are considered intimate, worn next to the skin, exposed to unsanitary conditions, chemicals, body fluids or sweat, or soiled beyond serviceability would not be reused. All organizational clothing items issued to personnel are accountable and will be entered on a Personal Clothing and Equipment Record (AF Form 538) and returned to the unit when member is transferred. Items may be transferred with personnel to other units with appropriate documentation accounting on a Requisition and Invoice/Shipping Document (DD-1149) for transfer to another unit. A copy of the AF Form 538 will be forwarded to the reporting unit when the member is transferred.

Unless otherwise required, organizational clothing should be either black or a dark blue similar to the Coast Guard blue. Organizational clothing will not include unit specific markings, logos, or other decorative items unless specifically authorized in this Manual, or a waiver is granted by Commandant (CG-1221) with (CG-85) and (CG-83) concurrence. Submit requests for organizational clothing waivers to Commandant (CG-122). Requests may be submitted by mail or email, with use of email encouraged. Organizational clothing with identification markings is authorized for personnel serving in positions where immediate identification is desirable for safety or to facilitate the performance of critical duties. The authorization for identification markings includes personnel serving as instructors or trainers such as firearms or law enforcement self defense trainers, fire and damage control trainers, and other training positions involving potential safety or health dangers. It includes personnel serving in specifically designated primary law enforcement or emergency/rescue positions, and others with a specifically defined need for identification. Identification markings are intended to identify the function of the wearer and are separate and different from unit specific markings or logos.

Organizational clothing for Coast Guard civilian employees, contractors, or other Government agency civilian personnel is strictly limited to health and safety purposes and is not within the purview of this Manual.

4.D.1. Boat Crew

Boat crew protective clothing and equipment is worn by personnel who routinely work as a member of a boat crew or as a member of a boarding team or inspection team. 4.D.2. Coveralls

Coveralls may be authorized for wear in those situations where normal work clothing would be rendered unserviceable due to irreparable damage or soiling. Coveralls will not be authorized for convenience, nor are they to merely replace work uniforms for normal daily use, but are authorized to be worn without ODUs at command discretion when working in heated environments and/or safety is a concern. The coverall will be the standard Navy coverall available through Federal supply sources, coveralls available from the Coast Guard Uniform Distribution Center (UDC), or coveralls of similar style and color available from commercial sources at lower price. White coveralls are authorized for Marine Safety Inspectors. If identification is considered essential, such as on law enforcement and marine inspection missions, it will be as directed in CGHQ program instructions or when no program instructions exist, it will consist of the initials "USCG" placed above the left breast pocket and across the back of the coveralls. The lettering will be white block letters, one inch high for the front, and three inches high for the back. 5.B. Uniform Care and Maintenance

All wearing apparel and insignia obtained from the Uniform Distribution Center (UDC), other Coast Guard clothing lockers, and government-issue items sold through the Coast Guard Exchange System stores will be considered regulation. Articles purchased elsewhere must conform to the military specifications in outward appearance and must not be of lower quality than that specified.

Uniforms will perform and last longer when they are properly maintained and cared for. First of all, read the label. If it specifies dry cleaning, the garment should never be washed. If it states that it is washable, follow the suggested guidelines for washing, bleaching, drying, and ironing on the label. When not wearing the uniform, keep it on a hangar. When storing for a long time, it is best to clean the uniform and then pack it in an airtight container with desiccant, a drying agent.

It is equally important to own a sufficient number of uniforms so that the garments may be rotated rather than worn day after day. Garments should rest at least 24 hours after wearing. Steaming or light sponging can help remove wrinkles. Wearing the same garment five days in a row will decrease its life substantially. Constant rubbing and sliding against rough surfaces break down the fabric surface. Repetitive work induced stress will affect the fabric's longevity.

5.B.1. Care of Operational Dress Uniform (ODU)

The ODU is machine washable on a permanent press setting. Wash uniforms in warm water with a mild detergent. Do not use chlorine bleach. If hand washing, wring gently and rinse with warm water. For best results, dry ODU items at a low heat or tumble dry for 10 minutes, then hang on a rust proof hangar to finish drying. Uniform may be pressed but be sure to set iron to the cooler setting for nylon/cotton blends. A pressing cloth is helpful to avoid shiny spots from the iron.

5.B.2. Care of Buttons

When the gold-plated buttons are exposed to moist air, they sometimes become covered with green copper carbonate. Carbonate can be removed by rubbing gently with acetic acid or any substance containing this acid, such as vinegar or Worcestershire sauce, followed by a thorough washing in fresh water.

5.B.3. Care of Gold Lace

Gold lace will rapidly tarnish and deteriorate if in contact with or hung near any substance containing sulfur, such as rubber or ordinary manila or brown wrapping papers. Gold bullion lace should be cleaned by an experienced tailor, although liquid non-toxic preparations and certain commercial liquid cleaners may be used if applied in conformance with the manufacturer's instructions.

5.B.4. Care of Metal Insignia

Use soap and water to clean the gold-filled parts and the sterling silver rhodium finished parts of metal insignia

The polishing or high gloss plating of Coast Guard qualification insignia originally finished in a single color (completely gold, silver, satin antique pewter or satin antique gold colored finishes) is authorized. Personnel must make this modification at their own expense. Polished or high gloss plated insignia are authorized for optional wear unless prohibited by the uniform prescribing authority.

5.B.5. Care of Medals

The plating or polishing of medals is prohibited.

6.A. Uniform Fitting

The wearing and appearance of the Coast Guard uniform should be a matter of personal pride to all Coast Guard personnel. Coast Guard personnel are representatives of the United States. Thus, their dress and uniform appearance should be of a quality to reflect credit upon the United States, the Coast Guard, and themselves.

The Coast Guard designs its uniforms to present a neat, comfortable, and functional military appearance. Adherence to the procedures contained herein will enhance the appearance of Coast Guard personnel.

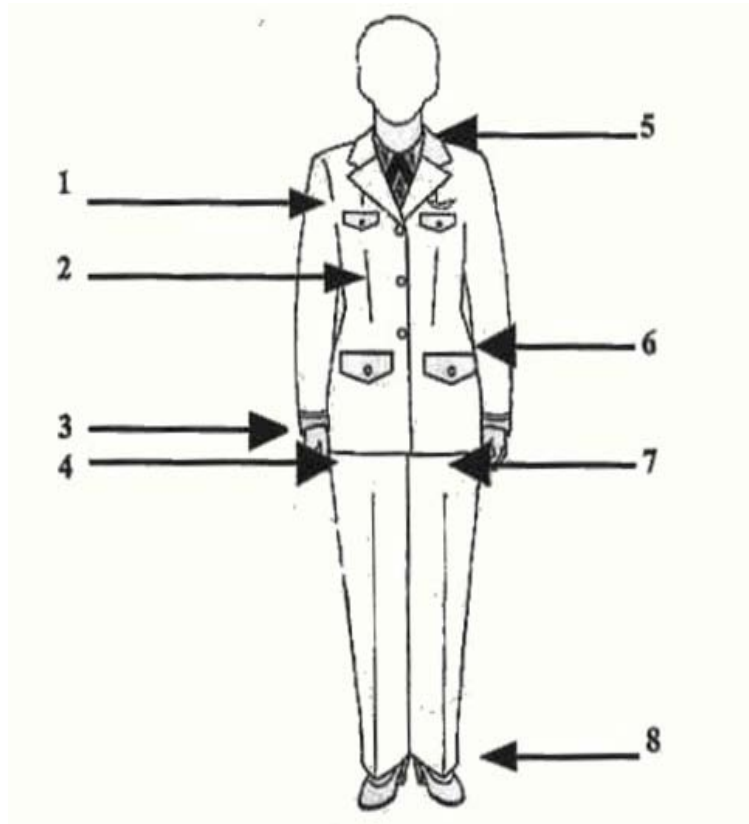

Fit of Men's Uniform Coat and Trousers

1. Coat fits easily over chest and shoulders.
2. Sleeves fall 1 inch below bottom of wrist bone covering the shirt sleeve.
3. Bottom edge of coat extends below the crotch (approximately to the tip of the thumb)
4. Shirt collar shows at least $\frac{1}{4}$ inch to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch above coat collar at the center back of the coat.

5. Trousers have no breaks in the front.
6. The bottom of the front crease of the trousers will reach the top of the instep and be cut on a diagonal.
7. Back edge of the trousers will fall approximately midway between the top of the heel and the top of the standard shoe in the back.

Fit of Women's Uniform Coat and Slacks

1. The coat will fit comfortably across the bust. There will be no binding around the armholes when arms are moved. The front collar, lapels, and flaps will present a smooth appearance.

2. There will be sufficient looseness in the coat to permit a pinching of 2-4 inches of material at the bust.

3. Sleeve will fall 1 inch below bottom of wrist bone, covering shirtsleeve.

4. Bottom edge of coat extends below crotch (approximately to tip of the thumb)

5. Collar will fit closely at neck and smoothly at back. Shoulder padding should extend $\frac{1}{2}$ inch beyond edge of shoulder seam.

6. There will be sufficient looseness in the coat waist to permit a pinching of 2-4 inches of material at the waist.

7. The rise will allow 1 inch looseness to assure comfort and stride in normal movement.

8. The hem will be marked $\frac{1}{4}$ inch above the front of the shoe and $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches below the top of the back of the shoe. The hem of the slacks will have a 2-inch turn-up.

6.B. Body Measurements

All body measurements, except height and feet, are taken with a tape measure and the subject clothed, wearing the appropriate undergarments, and without shoes. Foot measurements are taken with a special foot-measuring device. Measurements are to be snug but not binding, constricting, nor deforming.

6.B.1 Tools Required for Taking Measurements

- Standard vinyl tape measure and/or narrow steel tape.
- Standard height measuring device or wall chart.
- Scale for weight
- Hard Ruler, T-Square or L-Square.
- Adhesive dots, tape, or marker to mark measuring points on the body.

6.B.2. Height

The height measurement is taken with a hard measuring device such as a ruled wall or the ruler on a weight scale; measurement is taken with the individual in bare feet. Measure the height from the top of the head to the floor. Measurement must be exact, as it regulates the length of the coat and the depth of the waist.

6.B.3. Weight

With weight evenly distributed on both feet, record the measurement to the nearest pound.

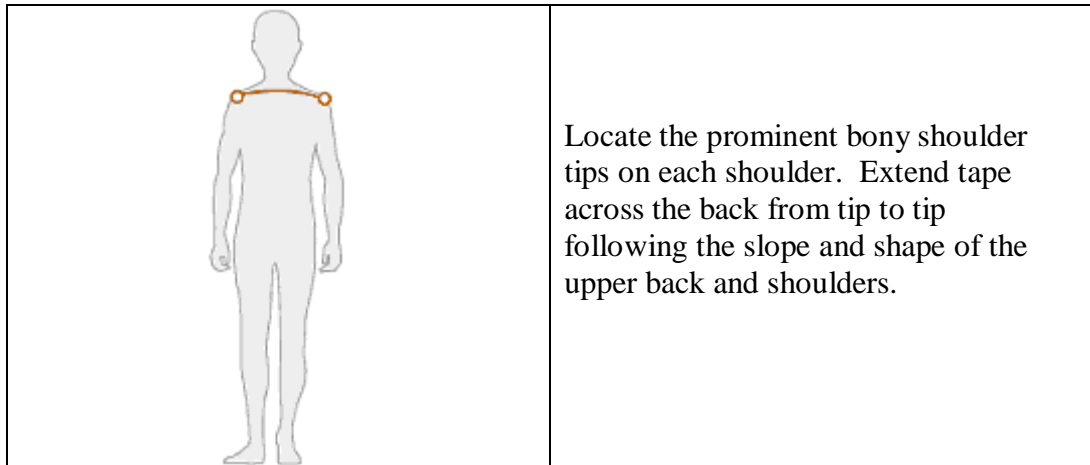

6.B.4. Head

Measure the circumference of the head with the tape placed across the forehead and over the temples.

6.B.5. Neck

With the head down, locate the prominent bony bump at the base of the neck at the top of the spine. Starting at that point, wrap the tape around the base of the neck, back to the starting point.

6.B.6. Across Shoulders

6.B.7. Shoulder Circumference

Wrap the tape around the body at the widest part of the shoulders and biceps. The tape will pass across the broadest part of the back and around both arms.

6.B.8. Chest (Men Only)

Wrap the tape around the body at the largest part of the chest. Keep tape parallel to the floor.

6.B.9. Upper Chest (Women Only)

Measure the circumference of the chest with the tape placed well up under arms and over the shoulder blades on a horizontal line, taking the floor as level. This measurement is taken snug, there should be no slack in the tape measure, nor should it be held too tightly. Take the measurement from the center of the back instead of the front, with the subject standing in a natural position and not with the chest fully expanded.

6.B.10. Bust (Women Only)

Measure the circumference of the bust with the tape placed level across the back, under the arms, and over the fullest part of the bust. This measurement is taken snug, there should be no slack in the tape measure, nor should it be held too tightly. Take the measurement from the center of the back instead of the front, with the subject standing in a natural position and not with the chest fully expanded.

6.B.11. Upper Abdomen

With tape parallel to the floor, wrap the tape around the body at the fullest part of the abdomen above the waist.

6.B.12. Waist

6.B.13. Lower Abdomen

With the tape parallel to the floor, wrap the tape around the body at the fullest part of the abdomen below the waist.

6.B.14. Seat (Men Only)

Wrap the tape around the body at the fullest part of the seat/buttocks. Keep tape parallel to the floor.

6.B.15. Hips (Women Only)

6.B.16. Thigh

Standing with feet apart, wrap the tape around the leg at the fullest, widest part of the thigh.

6.B.17. Left and Right Sleeve

The subject stands erect with the arms hanging naturally. Measure the length from the center of the back (top bone of the spine) across the shoulders, around the outside of the arm, and over the tip of the elbow to the wrist bone.

6.B.18. Biceps

With arms relaxed at the sides, wrap the tape around the upper arm at the fullest part of the biceps.

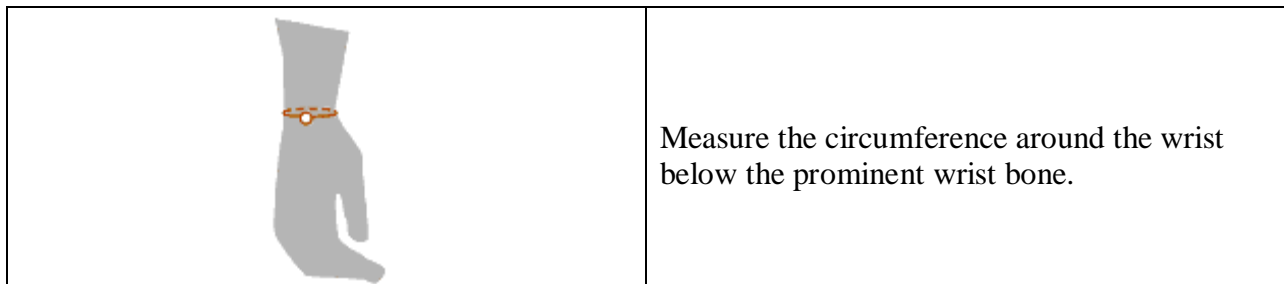

6.B.19. Right and Left Arm Inseams

Use adhesive tape to attach the 0" end of a tape measure to the broad edge of a ruler. Have the individual hold the prepared ruler comfortable under the armpit with the tape measure hanging straight down toward the floor.

The broad edge of the ruler should lie against the side of the body with the tape measure hanging from the middle of the armpit.

Have the individual relax the shoulders. Measure to just below the prominent wrist bone of the wrist.

6.B.20. Wrist

6.B.21. Back Waist Length (Women Only)

The subject stands erect with the arms hanging naturally. Measure the length from the center of the back (top bone of the spine bone) to the natural waist.

6.B.22. Back Coat Length

Have the individual place a ruler just under the buttocks. Place tape measure at the prominent bone at the neck base at the top of the spine.

Holding the tape measure in place, extend the tape straight down the center of the back, past the waist, and continue to the ruler placement. Measurement will be taken from the neck base to the top of the ruler.

6.B.23. Front Waist Length Over Bust (Women Only)

Place the tape measure at the bony bump at the back of neck base. Hold the end of the tape measure in place and extend the tape around one side of the neck to the front of the body. Continue to the fullest, prominent tip of one breast. Continue straight down from that bust point to the bottom of the waistband.

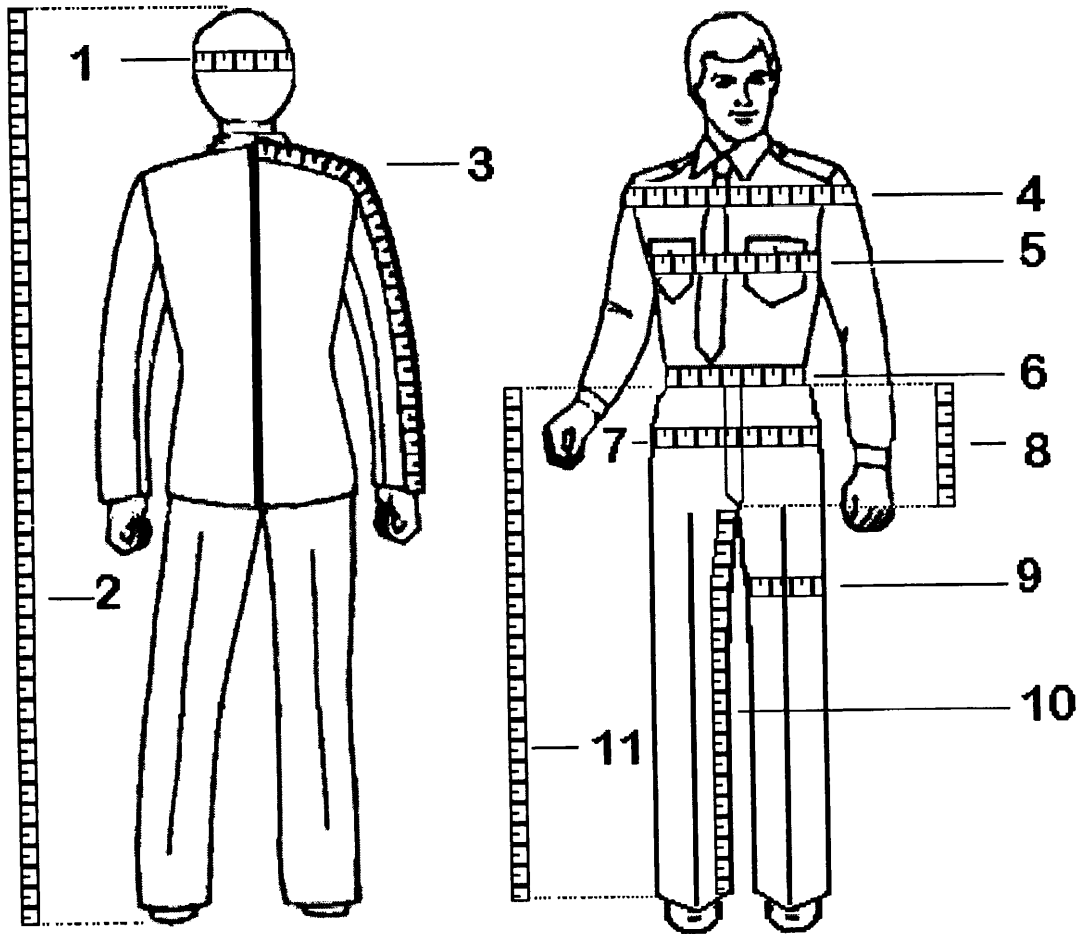

6.B.24. Leg Outseam

Have the individual stand without shoes. Hold the end of the tape measure in place at the lower edge of the waistband. Let the tape hang downward, over the hipbone, and extend to the floor. Measurement will be taken from the waistband to the floor.

6.B.25. Leg Inseam

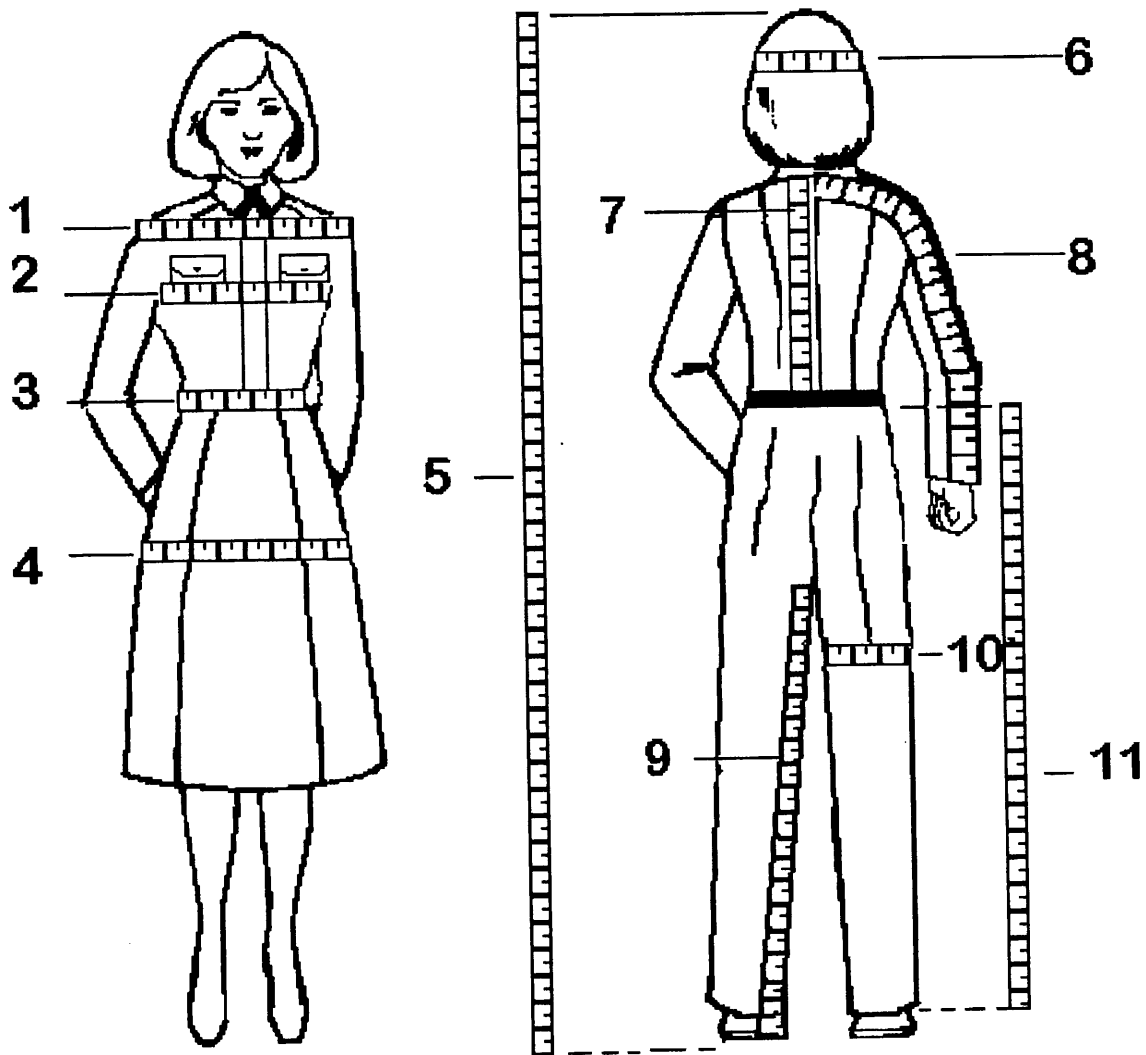

Have the individual stand without shoes. Hold the broad edge of the ruler against the inner thigh, comfortable up and in the crotch. Let the tape hang downward against the leg, from the middle of the crotch to the floor. Keep the ruler parallel to the floor. Measurement will be taken from the crotch to the floor.

6.D. Men’s Fitting Guide

Personnel must try on each garment that is issued or bought. Every effort will be made to obtain the best possible fit from stock. This will reduce official and personal alteration costs.

The proper fit of any uniform cannot be made with the individual standing at the rigid position of attention. Therefore, when fitting is performed, personnel will stand erect without stiffness, keep their feet slightly apart, and hang their arms naturally at the side.

The following table lists alterations that are authorized. NO ALTERATIONS OTHER THAN THOSE SPECIFIED ARE PERMITTED.

6.D.1. Authorized Alterations to Men’s Uniform Items

Trousers will be of sufficient looseness around the hips and buttocks to preclude gapping of the pockets and visible horizontal wrinkles with 2 inches of ease.

The fly of the trousers will hang in a vertical line without gapping.

The fit of the waist is secondary to a proper seat fit. If the seat fits well, the waist may be altered accordingly.

The length of the trousers must hang straight from the seat so the bottom of the front of the trousers will reach the top of the instep and be cut on a diagonal line to reach a point approximately midway between the top of the heel and the top of the standard shoe back. Trousers will have no breaks in the front.

Check to see that the crotch of the trousers has sufficient ease to allow comfort for the wearer. The properly fitted crotch in a trouser will exhibit no vertical breaks, display no drooping or appear to have a tight binding to the wearer.

ALTERATIONS:

The bottoms must be hemmed.

The waist may be increased or decreased.

6.E. Women's Fitting Guide

Personnel must try-on each garment that is issued or bought. Every effort will be made to obtain the best possible fit from stock. This will reduce official and personal alteration costs.

The proper fit of any uniform cannot be made with the individual standing at the rigid position of attention. Therefore, when fitting is performed, personnel will stand erect without stiffness, keep their feet slightly apart, and hang their arms naturally at the side.

The below table lists the alterations that are authorized. NO ALTERATIONS OTHER THAN THOSE SPECIFIED ARE PERMITTED

See Section 6.D.6. This is a Unisex item. Fitting is the same for both men and women.

6.E.5. Service Dress Blue Slacks

The fit of the service dress blue slacks is determined by height, waist, and hip measurements. Determine size of slacks by using the following table.

FITTING:

The slacks will be fitted over undergarments, while wearing the dress shirt and service shoes.

The proper position for the fitting of all slacks is by placing the lower edge of the waistband squarely atop of the natural waist.

The slacks will fit comfortably around the waist, hips, and crotch.

There will be sufficient looseness around the hips and buttocks to prevent horizontal wrinkles with 2-3 inches of ease.

The fit of the waist is secondary to hip girth. If the hip fits well, the waist may be altered accordingly.

The rise is that measurement from the crotch to the bottom of the waistband. The rise of the slacks will allow 1 inch to 1 3/4 inches looseness to assure for comfort and stride in normal movements such as sitting down, ascending steps, and marching.

The hem will be marked at the front of each leg at a point that is even to 1/4 inch above the front of the shoe. A separate hem mark will be made at the back of each leg at a point which is 1 1/2 inches below the top of the back of the shoe. The hem of the slacks will have a 2-inch turn-up. These procedures will create finished slacks, which fall without a break.

ALTERATIONS:

The bottoms must be hemmed.

The waist may be increased or decreased.

The crotch may be increased or decreased.

The hip may be increased or decreased.

6.E.6. Skirt, Service Dress Blue

The fit of the women's Service Dress Blue skirt is determined by height, waist, and hip measurements. The size selection for women's Service Dress Blue skirt is the same as for the Service Dress Blue trousers. Determine size of trousers by using the previous table.

FITTING:

The skirt will be fitted over undergarments (including a slip) and a long sleeved light blue shirt.

The proper position for the fitting of the skirt is by placing the lower edge of the waistband squarely atop of the natural waist.

The skirt will fit comfortably around the waist.

There will be sufficient looseness around the hips and buttocks to prevent horizontal wrinkles.

The hem will be marked at a point that ranges from the crease of the back of the knee to 3-5 inches below the knee. If a trench coat is worn with the skirt, ensure the skirt does not extend beyond the length of the coat.

The hem of the skirt will have a 2-3 inch turn-up and the finished bottom of the skirt will be parallel to the floor.

ALTERATIONS:

The skirt must be hemmed.

The waist may be increased or decreased.

6.E.7. Coat, Women’s Service Dress Blue

The fit of the women's Service Dress Blue coat is determined by hip and bust measurement, e.g., 36 inch bust and 38 inch hip = 10M. The length of the coat extends to the crease of the buttocks. It has a loose fitting chest, bust, shoulder, back waist, sleeve, and biceps. Determine coat size by using the following table.

6.E.10. Combination, Garrison, and Ball Caps

The Combination, Garrison, and Ball Caps are provided in a numeric sizing system.

FITTING:

It is important that the fitting of all caps be made by the try-on method.

The caps must be fitted over hairstyle that will normally be worn. Caps should be fitted to the hairstyle within regulations and not to the head size. The caps must fit squarely, snugly, and comfortably.

COMDTINST M1020.6F

6.F. Unisex Fitting Guide

6.F.1. Gloves, Black Leather and White Cotton

The black leather gloves are provided in numeric sizing, while the white cotton gloves are furnished in small, medium, and large sizes.

FITTING:

Finger lengths are of a standard length for each width of the glove; therefore, additional length that may result must be of secondary consideration to the width.

Gloves will be fitted for correct width to allow freedom of movement of the hand. There will be sufficient looseness to allow the hand to close and open without difficulty.

ALTERATIONS:

No alterations are authorized.

6.F.2. Shoes, Athletic, Dress, and Safety

Proper fitting of Coast Guard footwear depends on the effectiveness and knowledge of the fitter. The following principles are provided as a basis for proper fitting methods and techniques.

6.F.2.a. Foot Construction

The foot is so constructed that each of its parts contributes directly to support and transportation of the body weight, structure, shape, and size. The size of feet varies considerably with some feet long and narrow, while others are short and wide. An individual's two feet are also seldom exactly alike. Despite these normal differences, most individuals can be correctly and comfortably fitted with standard Coast Guard footwear.

6.F.2.b. Concept of Fit

The basic goals of proper fitting are to ensure maximum comfort and to prevent foot injury. Properly fitted footwear will hold the foot securely from the lacing at the instep to the heel and have sufficient room in the front for the foot to be free from restriction.

6.F.2.c. Improperly Fitted Footwear

Improperly fitted footwear may cause many ailments, not all of them confined to the foot. The continual wearing of improper footwear may affect health, morale and efficiency. Fallen arches, calluses, corns, blisters, ingrown toenails, distorted toes and aching feet often result.

6.F.2.d. Short Footwear

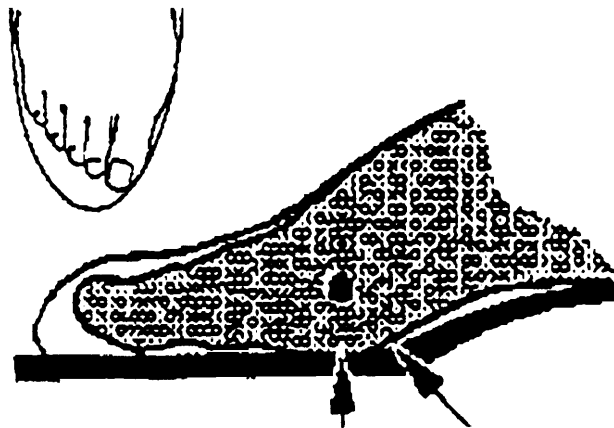

Short footwear prevents natural expansion of the foot; backpressure of the forepart of the foot transmitted to the arch jams arch bones out of normal position and contributes to fallen arches. Pressure forces a spreading of the toe joints, irritates the great and little toes, and contributes to ingrown toenails and the formation of bunions.

6.F.2.e. Tight Footwear

Tight footwear presses the toes together so that they often overlap and restrict the flow of blood. Frequently, the bottom of the foot is extended over the edge of the innersole, gradually pressing a groove into the flesh. This pressure causes the flesh to become sore and painfully callused. Corns may form between and over the toes and the feet may become weakened, distorted, and permanently injured.

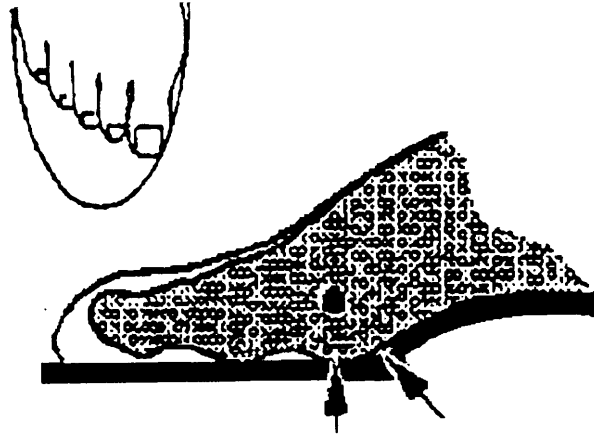

6.F.2.f. Oversize Footwear

Oversize footwear prevents normal foot function by failing to provide adequate support. As the foot spreads, it throws the weight-bearing portion of the foot out of position and abnormally expands the arch. The foot tends to ride forward and sideways, causing chafing at the heel, toes, bottom, and outside of the foot. When worn for running or long marches, oversize footwear will cause discomfort and fatigue.

A. THIS FOOT IS IMPROPERLY FITTED

The toes are cramped and twisted. This condition stops ventilation and causes excessive perspiration, which results in rotting of inner soles, linings, and upper leather. Short shoes such as these cause enlarged great-toe joints and bunions, as well as general foot discomfort. Each step strains the foot arch. Without support under its entire arch span, the foot sags down; nerve and blood vessels are pinched, thereby interfering with circulation.

B. THIS FOOT IS PROPERLY FITTED

The arch base of shoe and ball joint of foot meet at the same point. Foot arch rests comfortably on the shank of shoe, full length. Foot and shoe bend at same place-no sagging. Toes are straight. There is ample space in front of the toes-no crowding of toes, ample ventilation. These feet should be comfortable.

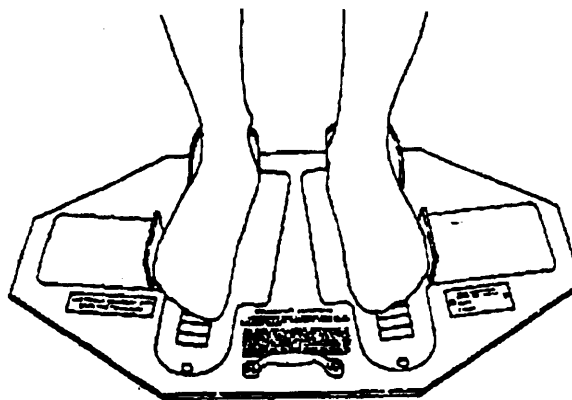

6.F.2.g. Fitting of Socks

Check socks when the individual is standing, weight evenly distributed on both feet. Socks should fit with no apparent tightness or fullness (wool socks should be fitted slightly larger to allow for shrinkage). The Size Correlation Chart below is only a guide for selecting the initial try-on size. Socks should be tried on and checked for proper fit.

Size Correlation Chart for Socks
Shoes/Boot Size	Sock Size
3 through 8 1/2	X-Small
9 through 10	Small
10 1/2 through 11 1/2	Medium
12 through 13 1/2	Large
14 and over	X-Large

6.F.2.h. Foot Measuring Device

A foot-measuring device is used to measure the individual's feet for the initial try-on size. The device measures the "heel to ball" length and the "ball" width. Even though the device has proven to be 75% accurate, the actual size to be issued must be determined after the footwear has been tried on and checked for proper fit.

To ensure an accurate measurement, make sure the individual is wearing properly fitted socks; boot socks for safety boots and dress socks for dress oxfords. Women's dress oxfords should be fitted while wearing nylons and dress socks. There should be no apparent tightness or excessive fullness of the material. Following are the operation procedures for the foot-measuring device.

Seat the individual being fitted so the foot-measuring device is located directly below the knees. In this position, the legs and feet are relaxed and can be easily placed on the device.

Place hands over the instep and position both feet on the device making sure the feet are fitted snugly against the heel stop.

Have the individual stand and remove hands from the instep.

Adjust the "heel to ball" measurement bar until it fits properly against the ball joint of the great toe, slide in position and slide the ball width bar until it gently presses against the outer ball of the foot.

First read the "heel to ball" length measurement, then find the same length numbers on the ball width bar and determine the appropriate width. For example: if the "heel to ball" length measures size 8, and the number 8 on the ball width bar is in the "R" width block, the try-on size would be 8R. If the number on the ball width bar is near the dividing line of two widths, select the larger width for the try-on size.

Repeat on opposite foot.

6.F.2.i. Determining Length Size

Measure each foot separately and select initial try-on size by comparing the measured length of each foot. Select the initial try-on size as follows:

If both feet measure the same length size, select that size for the initial try-on. For example, if both feet measure size 8, select size 8 for initial try-on.

If one foot measures one-half size longer than the other, select the longer size for initial try-on. For example, if one-foot measures size 8 and the other 7, select size 8 for initial try-on.

If one foot measures a full size longer, select the size halfway between the two sizes that were measured. For example, if one foot measures 8 ½ and the other 7 ½, select size 8 for initial try-on.

When an individual cannot be properly fitted with one tariff size, try-on two different sizes. If the proper fit is achieved with two different sizes, there is no need for special measurement footwear.

6.F.2.j. Determining Width Size

Measure each foot separately and compare the measured width of each foot as follows:

If both feet measure the same width, select that width for initial try-on. For example, if both feet measure a regular (R) width, select the regular width for initial try-on.

If one foot measures a full width wider than the other, the wider measurement is used to select the try-on size.

If one foot measures two widths wider than the other, select the width halfway between the two measurements. For example, if one foot measures regular (R) and the other measures extra narrow (XN), select narrow (N) for initial try-on.

If the foot measures more than halfway between two widths, select the larger width for initial try-on. If the foot measures less than halfway, select the smaller width.

When an individual cannot be properly fitted with one width of a specific footwear item, try on two different widths. If the proper width is achieved, special measurement footwear is not required.

6.F.2.k. Fitting of Footwear

During the initial fitting, the fitter should take as much time as necessary with each individual to ensure a correct fit. Misfits are not only expensive, but continued wear may result in physical injury to the wearer. To minimize the number of misfits, the fitter should first make sure the individual is wearing properly fitted socks and the shoes/boots are completely laced and tied (boots must be laced at least through the bottom five eyelets). With the individual standing, weight evenly distributed on both feet, the fitter should use the below checks for fit.

6.F.2.l. Arch Fit

To check arch fit, position the right hand over the instep of the individual's right shoe/boot, press the fingers firmly against the inner arch close to the sole, making sure the leather fits snug, but not tight, against the under arch. The arch area of the shoe/boot should be free from wrinkles or excessive fullness. Check the left shoe/boot in the same manner, using the left hand.

6.F.2.m. Ball-Joint Position

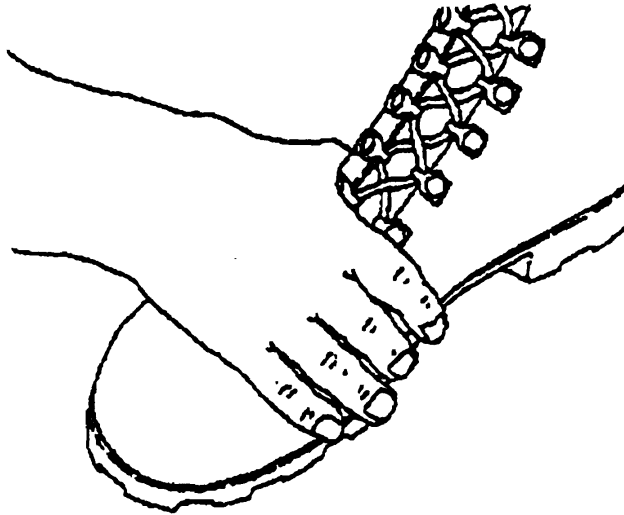

Locate the ball-joint position with the thumb of each hand. When correctly positioned, the ball-joint will be opposite the widest part of the shoe/boot, and the vamp will fall directly across the toe joint. The ball-joint position should also be checked while the individual is in the "full knee bend" position. With the individual in this position, heels off the floor, the ball-joint should be in line with the break in the shoe/boot.

6.F.2.n. Width

To check the shoe width, place a thumb on each side of the shoe near the ball-joint, press thumbs firmly, working each thumb towards the center of the shoe/boot until they almost meet. The foot should fill the shoe/boot without tightness; however, excessive fullness should be avoided. It is better to allow a slight fullness of the leather at this point, rather than the shoe/boot fitting too snugly.

6.F.2.o. Length

To check toe clearance, depress the front of the shoe/boot with the thumb: There should be at least $\frac{1}{2}$ inch of clearance between the longest toe and the end of the shoe/boot. The toe clearance should also be checked with the individual in the "full knee bend" position. The toe clearance in this position should remain $\frac{1}{2}$ inch.

6.G. Uniform Appearance Problems

Poor uniform appearance is a matter of concern to all Coast Guard personnel. Poor uniform appearance reflects badly on individuals, their commands, and the Coast Guard. This chapter illustrates many of the commonly observed uniform appearance problems. It also explains the probable cause of the problem and provides the suggested corrective action to be taken.

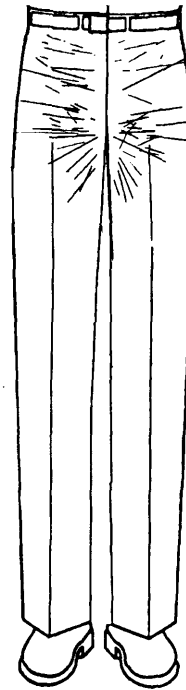

6.G.1. Trousers

The horizontal wrinkles at the waist and the tightness in the crotch area indicate that these garments are too small. This problem can also be detected by observing "bulging" side-pockets, horizontal wrinkles across the top of the rear of the garments, and tightness in the seat of the garments.

These individuals should be fitted with a larger garment.

Men's Trousers

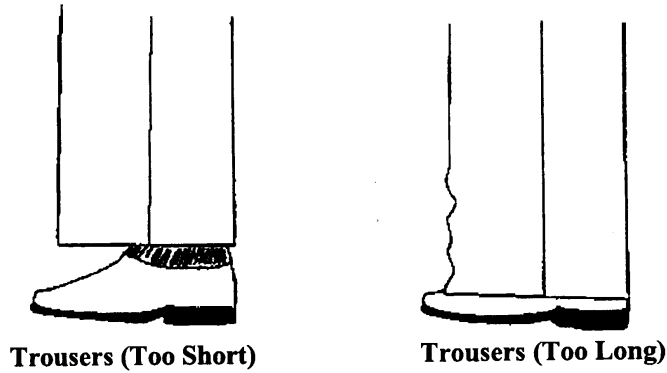

Women's Trousers

6.G.2. Trouser Hem

The trousers shown on the left are too short; the trousers shown on the right are too long. Either situation presents an unsightly appearance.

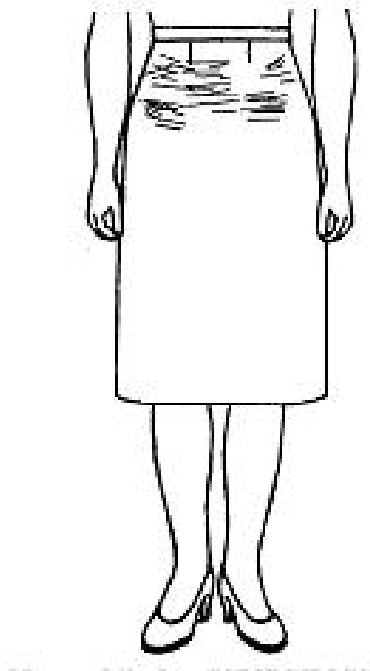

These garments need an alteration of the trouser hem to the proper length.

6.G.3. Skirt

The horizontal wrinkles in the front of this skirt and the open front pleat indicate that this garment is too small. This problem can also be detected by observing horizontal wrinkles in the hip area.

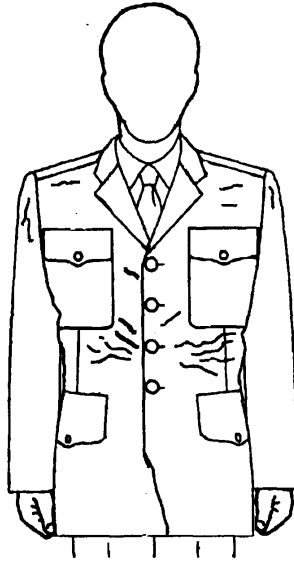

This individual should be fitted with a larger garment.

6.G.4. Service Dress Coat

The horizontal wrinkles at the waist and the crooked front indicate that these coats are too small. This problem can also be detected by observing horizontal wrinkles across the top of the back of the coats.

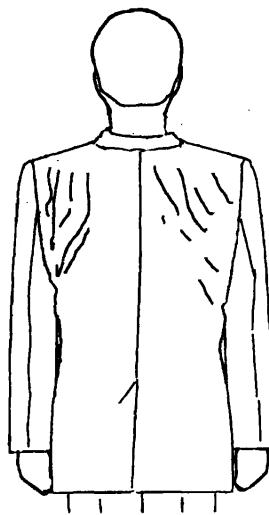

This individual should be fitted with a larger garment.

SDB Jacket (front)

The floppy wings, excessive fullness, and vertical waves indicate that these coats are too large.

This individual should be fitted with a smaller garment.

SDB Jacket (back)
