

RIVALRY UNCOVERED!

THE RESULTS OF THE LARGEST EVER SURVEY INTO CLUB RIVALRIES

The Football Fans Census (FFC) Survey contains fascinating insights into the most passionate part of our game - the nature of club rivalries.

- The survey was conducted online at www.footballfanscensus.com in December 2003 and contains the views of over 2,800 football fans
- Headline statistics include:
  - Less than half (44) of the 92 league clubs were involved in a two-way rivalry (i.e. both sides agree about being each other's main rival)
  - A table of clubs that have the most rivals is topped by Manchester United (the only club to be considered the main rival by 5 other clubs) followed by Burnley, Leeds, Chelsea and Sheffield Wednesday
  - Gillingham, Macclesfield, Stockport, Torquay and York had the least number of other fans seeing them as their rivals
  - 45% of fans see history / tradition as the reason why their main rivals are so – for 35% it's because they're the closest club geographically
  - 22% of fans say their current main rival is not the same as their 'traditional' rival. This is particularly prevalent at the top of the Premiership where Liverpool and Arsenal have 'dumped' their traditional rivals – Everton and Spurs respectively – for Manchester Utd. Chelsea have done the same - replacing Spurs and Fulham with Arsenal
  - Fans think the Celtic / Rangers is the fiercest rivalry in the UK and that Everton / Liverpool is the most amicable
  - Although 37% of fans feel that rivalry plays a significant part in leading to football violence, 71% feel on the whole the positives of rivalry outweigh the negatives
  - 71% would support the opposition if their main rivals were playing in Europe but 59% of fans would miss their rivals if they weren't there

REQUIRED RIVALRY

Surprisingly, perhaps, less than half (44) of the 92 league clubs were involved in a two-way rivalry (i.e. both sides agree about being each other's main rival)

Aston Villa & Birmingham City	Colchester & Wycombe	Newcastle & Sunderland
Blackburn & Burnley	Darlington & Hartlepool	Oxford Utd & Swindon Town
Blackpool & Preston	Derby County & Nottm Forest	Port Vale & Stoke City
Brighton & Crystal Palace	Exeter City & Plymouth	Portsmouth & Southampton
Bristol City & Bristol Rovers	Ipswich Town & Norwich	Sheff Utd & Sheff Wed
Cambridge Utd & Peterborough	Liverpool & Man Utd	West Brom & Wolves
Cardiff City & Swansea	Luton Town & Watford	Wimbledon & AFC Wimbledon
Chesterfield & Mansfield	Millwall & West Ham

TEAMS WITH THE MOST RIVALS

		Clubs that consider them to be their main rivals	Clubs that consider them to be their second main rivals
1	Man Utd	Arsenal, Bolton, Leeds, Liverpool & Man City	Everton & Newcastle
2	Burnley	Blackburn, Halifax & Stockport	Preston, Rochdale & Blackpool
3	Leeds	Bradford & Hull	Huddersfield, Sheff Wed & Sheff Utd
4	Chelsea	QPR & Fulham	Spurs, Leeds & AFC Wimbledon
5	Sheff Wed	Barnsley, Rotherham & Sheff Utd	Hartlepool & Chesterfield
6	Bolton	Bury, Tranmere & Wigan	Blackburn
7	Sheff Utd	Sheff Wed	Barnsley, Ipswich & Rotherham
8	Millwall	Charlton, Gillingham & West Ham	Crystal Palace
9	Wolves	Walsall & West Brom	Norwich City
10	Bristol City	Bristol Rovers	Cardiff, Plymouth, Swansea & Swindon

TEAMS WITH THE LEAST RIVALS

The following ten clubs had the least number of other fans seeing them as their rivals:

Gillingham	Bournemouth
Macclesfield	Coventry
Stockport	Leyton Orient
Torquay	Walsall
York	Yeovil

- 40% of fans don't have a second team and 43% wouldn't follow another club if their own one ceased to exist
- Liverpool, Arsenal and Man Utd are the most popular second teams
- Liverpool, Arsenal and Chelsea would be the most popular choices if a fan's own club didn't exist

WHAT ARE THE ROOTS OF RIVALRY?

- 45% of fans see history / tradition as the reason why their main rivals are so – for 35% it's because they're the closest club geographically
- Only 7% feel the rivalry is mainly based on competitive closeness/ league position

CHANGING RIVALRY

- Rivalry is not always set in stone, indeed, rivalry has changed at 18 clubs
- 22% of fans say their current main rival is not the same as their 'traditional' rival – this is mainly due to one of the following two reasons:
  - the 'traditional' rival no longer being in the same division
  - that they are seen to occupy a different strata within the same division (i.e. not competing for the same prize)

See the table below for clubs that exhibit this trend:

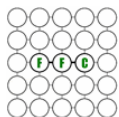

Team	Current Rival	Traditional Rival
Arsenal	Man Utd	Tottenham
Aston Villa	Birmingham City	West Brom
Bournemouth	Reading	Southampton
Brentford	QPR	Fulham
Chelsea	Arsenal	Tottenham / Fulham
Huddersfield	Bradford City	Leeds
Leicester City	Nottm Forest	Derby
Leyton Orient	Southend	West Ham Utd
Liverpool	Man Utd	Everton
Peterborough	Cambridge Utd	Northampton
Rochdale	Bury	Burnley
Rushden & D's	Northampton	Kettering Town
Scunthorpe	Hull City	Grimsby
Shrewsbury	Telford Utd	Wrexham
Walsall	Wolves	Shrewsbury Town
West Brom	Wolves	Aston Villa
Wycombe	Colchester	Slough Town
York	Hull City	Scarborough

RIVALRY – STRENGTH OF FEELING

- Fans think the Celtic / Rangers is the fiercest rivalry in the UK and the Everton / Liverpool is the most amicable
- 83% of respondents feel intensely or very intensely about their main rivals
- Over three-quarters of fans would rather thrash their rivals than beat them with a last minute winner
- Three-quarters of fans would support the opposition if their main rivals were playing in Europe – only 9% would support their main rival
- Over two-thirds of fans would be angry to some degree if a player / manager from their team would go their rivals. Only 15% would be angry to some degree if the move was in the other direction
- However, 59% of fans would miss their rivals if they weren't there

RIVALRY – GOOD OR BAD?

- 37% of fans feel that rivalry plays a significant part in leading to football violence, just over half feel it plays a small part
- However, 71% feel on the whole the positives of football rivalry outweigh the negatives – only 4% think it is the other way round

UNREQUITED RIVALRY

Rivalry isn't always a two-way street. You might regard a particular club as your main rival but they might think their main rival is someone else.

Fans supporting this team...	see this club as their main rival...	but they see their main rival as this team
Grimsby Town Lincoln City	Scunthorpe	Hull City
Brentford	QPR	Chelsea
Fulham QPR	Chelsea	Arsenal
Scunthorpe York	Hull City	Leeds
Huddersfield	Bradford City
Rochdale	Bury	Bolton
Chelsea Tottenham	Arsenal	Man Utd
Bury Tranmere Wigan	Bolton
Oldham	Man City
Bradford Hull	Leeds
Everton	Liverpool	Man Utd
Arsenal Bolton Leeds	Man Utd	Liverpool
Charlton Gillingham	Millwall	West Ham Utd
Leicester City Notts County	Nottm Forest	Derby
Barnsley Rotherham	Sheff Wed	Sheff Utd
Rushden & D's	Northampton	Peterborough
Bournemouth	Reading	Swindon Town
Leyton Orient	Southend	Colchester
Reading	Swindon Town	Oxford Utd
Walsall	Wolves	West Brom
Coventry	Aston Villa	Birmingham
Stockport Halifax	Burnley	Blackburn
Kidderminster	Cheltenham	Gloucester City
Southend	Colchester	Wycombe
Middlesbrough	Newcastle	Sunderland
Northampton	Peterborough	Cambridge Utd
Torquay	Exeter	Plymouth
Doncaster	Rotherham	Sheff Wed
Crewe Alex	Stoke City	Port Vale

I.e. Crewe Alex regards their main rival as Stoke City, however, Stoke City regard Port Vale as their own main rival
