

Press release

Media statement

Dublin, 24 June 2013

Telefónica today confirmed that it has reached agreement to sell its 100% stake in Telefónica Ireland, which operates the O2 brand, to Hutchison Whampoa. The agreement is subject to final competition approval by the relevant authorities. During that period O2 will continue to operate as normal, providing market leading products and services to its 1.6 million customers.

[Ends]