PART III : HOUSEHOLDERS SCHEDULE : ..... 39

PREFACE

This Report contains statistics tabulated from information collected in the Census of Population and Housing conducted in Norfolk Island on 6 August 1996, under Authority of the Norfolk Island Census and Statistics Act 1961.

It is intended that this Census provide up to date statistics for the island concerning the characteristics of the population and housing. This information is required to meet the needs of Government and private organisations for policy planning and research purposes.

As statistician for the Census, I take this opportunity to express my thanks to all those who contributed to the effort which results in the production of this Report.

Steve Mathews
Statistician for the Census
November 1996

PART I : EXPLANATORY NOTES

CENSUS DESIGN AND OPERATION

It was expedient to base design and operation of the Census on the principles and practices adopted in previous Census. Since 1981 Census of Housing and Population have been conducted in Norfolk Island every five years. There have been some modifications or enhancements based on experience including minor changes to the householders schedule to elicit more specific response and report format to highlight trends.

This census was fully processed locally by the Administration of Norfolk Island. Officers of this Administration performed the duties of Statistician and Field Supervisor. The island was divided into six Census Collectors' Districts for the purpose of the Census. Six Collectors were assigned the duties of distributing and collecting census schedules for private dwellings. The Field Supervisor dealt directly with the distribution and collection of schedules for Registered Tourist Accommodation, while a registered nurse assisted patients at the Public Hospital.

Confidentiality of Census information was maintained by arranging for householders to seal census schedules within envelopes before collection. Procedures ensured that this confidentiality was continued during processing of schedules. At the completion of processing all forms were destroyed by burning.

Schedules were manually coded and input in coded form for summarising by computer database, tabulation and final report were completed by word processor while charts were prepared with spreadsheet graphing capabilities.

Norfolk Island population has distinct groups, namely Residents and Visitors. As has been done in previous census reports, particular emphasis has been given to the Resident Population in this report. The Tourist and Visitor population section provides a cross section of visitors in the island on Census night. The Norfolk Island Government Tourist Bureau publishes tourist statistics providing similar information for the full financial year. This information has been provided to the Tourist Bureau by the Immigration section of this Administration for many years.

DEFINITIONS

Population : The population recorded in the Census comprises all persons who spent the night of 6 August 1996 in Norfolk Island (including neighbouring Nepean and Philip Islands) whether they normally reside in the island or were visiting on Census night. On this basis, persons who normally reside in Norfolk Island but were absent (on leave etc. or in transit to or from Norfolk island) on Census night were, of course excluded from the Census counts. By definition, persons (whether residents or visitors) arriving in Norfolk Island before midnight of 6 August 1996 were included in the Census totals, but were excluded if they arrived on or after 7 August 1996. Correspondingly persons were excluded if they departed from the Island prior to midnight of 6 August 1991 but were included if they departed on or after 7 August 1991.

Population Classifications : The population has been defined as persons classified themselves in one of the categories in Question 10 of the Householders Schedule as follows :-

Permanent Population

1. A RESIDENT within the meaning of the Immigration Act 1980.
2. The holder of a GENERAL ENTRY PERMIT (G.E.P.) under the Immigration Act 1980 (or Enter and Remain Permit under the repealed Immigration Ordinance 1968).

Itinerant Population

3. The holder of a TEMPORARY ENTRY PERMIT (T.E.P.) under the Immigration Act 1980.
5. Other.

Tourist and Visitor Population

4. A TOURIST or VISITOR to Norfolk Island.

As can be seen, in this Census, the Resident Population has been further classified into Permanent and Itinerant Populations. These groups have been tabulated separately (Sections B, C, D, E, F and G), to highlight different features and characteristics within these groups. For a number of tables these two groups have also been tabulated together and referred to as the Ordinarily Resident Population (Sections H, I and J).

Dwellings : For the purpose of this Census, dwellings (whether houses, flats or other dwelling units) were classified as either "private" or "non-private" dwellings. Private dwellings exclude all Registered Tourist Accommodation and the Hospital. This is the same classifications as used in previous Census of Population and Housing. It is intended that "Private" dwellings are those occupied by (or intended to be occupied by) the Ordinarily Resident Population. However experience has shown there are a number of visitors who stop privately with friends or house minding.

All statistical tables relate to occupied private dwellings with the exception of Table M1 which includes Unoccupied Private Dwellings. All figures in the Dwelling tables are for the 1996 Norfolk Island Census unless specifically stated otherwise.

GENERAL COMMENTS ON CENSUS RESULTS

By comparing Census figures of people on the island on Census night and those of the Immigration section of the Administration of Norfolk Island, it has been established that the Census achieved an almost perfect coverage of Ordinarily Resident population with very satisfactory coverage of the visitor population in Norfolk Island. District collectors were appointed areas of the island with which they were reasonably familiar, and as a result a full coverage of "private dwellings" (under the above definitions) has also been achieved.

Answers to individual questions were not obtained in all cases. Where possible gaps were filled during editing from local knowledge and information available from official sources. Particular care has been taken to avoid assumptions being made and where no answer was obtainable numbers are shown as "not Stated" in the accompanying tables.

Because of the central importance of Residency Status in tabulation of this Census, where question 10 was not answered or incomplete information was given, all were classified according to information from official sources. Persons answering "5. Other" were persons either awaiting permits or persons not requiring permits. As a result, they have been classified as Itinerant Population under the Ordinarily Resident Population.

For personal questions other than age or residency status, the level of non-response (Not Stated) was lower for the Ordinarily Resident Population than for the Tourist and Visitor Population.

In all tables which have the column "Percent Of Total" included, where a discrepancy between totals and sum of components occurs, that discrepancy is due to rounding.

INDIVIDUAL TOPICS

Residency Status (Table A1): This table indicates a static Permanent Population. It also shows a further decrease in Itinerant Population over the last five years continuing the trend of the 1991 Census. There are some identifiable trends in the Permanent population age groups (Table B1), notably a 30% increase in 15-19 year olds, probably as a result of the introduction of Years 11 and 12 at the Norfolk Island Central School. There is also a 24% decrease in the 20-34 years old group, possible indications of the dwindling job market and the continued push to higher education. A 17% increase in the 50 and over age group continues the trend from the 1991 Census.

Investigation of individual tables within the Itinerant Population section (Tables E1, E4 and F1) highlights some significant changes in the nature of this group. There is a 42% drop in the 0-9 year age group and a 46% decrease in the 20-39 year old age groups. A 66% increase in the 45-54 year age brackets when viewed with the overall decrease and the specific decreases mentioned above shows a significant change in the nature of the itinerant population. Comparisons with the 1991 Census should keep in mind the results of Table H5, which indicate that nearly the whole itinerant population arrived after that census. This result being a reflection of the immigration laws for the itinerant population.

Country of Citizenship (Tables B3, E3 and H4) : A number of persons omitted to state their country of citizenship. In these cases it was assumed that the country of citizenship was Australia if born in Australia or Norfolk Island, and New Zealand if born in that country. There were also a few dual and triple citizenship answers which were classified under the first stated citizenship.

Religion (Table H6) : This question was optional and therefore the level of non-response was high. Persons who responded with "none" or similar were classified as No Religion, however those left blank are shown as Not Stated.

Usual Major Activity (Tables B4, E4 and H7) : After the 1991 Census results it became evident that some persons who were retired, classified themselves as "2. Engaged in Unpaid Home Duties". Other retired persons classified themselves as "Other Activity". Therefore the question was changed to allow a retired option. The tables in this report reflect the new option.

Of note in the responses to this question was the usual major activity of a young infant as " sleeping" .

Look for Work (Table I3) : On examination of the answers to this question it became evident that not all those persons who had responded "Yes - looked for work" were unemployed. In fact one person who answered "yes" was already working over sixty hours a week. It should be noted that this includes persons looking to change employment, self-employed persons seeking work and relatively few unemployed persons. This table has therefore been refined from the 1991 Census to highlight whether the person who looked for work was in a job or business last week as per question 17 of the Householder's Schedule.

Gross Weekly Income from All Sources (Tables C3, F3, and L1) : There are no comparisons of Income tables with the previous Census due to the difficulties of comparing dollar values over a period of time. Persons who responded "nil", "none" or similar were classified as No Income, however those left blank are shown as Not Stated.

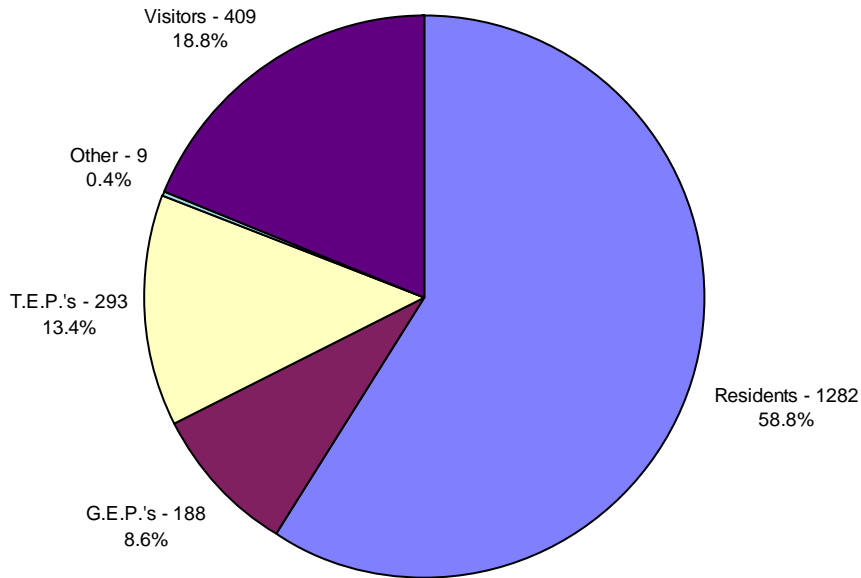

Fuel or power used for Household Purposes (Table N9) : the large number shown as "Not Stated" in secondary use for all purposes in this table is because most people indicated only one fuel or power for each household purpose.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS USED IN TABLES

- $ - Australian Dollars.
- n.e.i. - Not elsewhere included (classified)
- - Nil or less than half the digit shown.
