History of the Diocese of Brisbane

The Diocese of Brisbane is coterminous with Southern Queensland. Its area is 542,000km<sup>2</sup>, and its population is about half of the entire population of the state which is estimated at four million. The members of the Anglican Church of Australia form about 25% of this number. There are 517 clergy and 303 churches.

On 14 June, 1859, Dr Edward Wyndham Tufnell was consecrated first Bishop of Brisbane, and arrived here in September 1860, to exercise Episcopal control in the newly formed Colony of Queensland. The Bishop arrived to find the work in the Diocese maintained by the utterly inadequate staff of three clergy. To these must be added the six clergy the Bishop brought with him. When, after 14 years' strenuous pioneer work, the Bishop resigned, he left a staff of 26 clergy and a Diocese equipped and furnished with all the needful machinery for Diocesan administration.

In 1874, when Bishop Tufnell resigned, with the Synod of the Diocese failing to elect a successor or to delegate the power of appointment to the Church at home, the appointment of his successor lapsed to the bishops of Australia and Tasmania, by whom the Right Rev'd Mathew Blagden Hale, Bishop of Perth, was nominated. Bishop Hale was translated to Brisbane in 1876. During the episcopate of Bishop Hale, which lasted eight years, the Diocese of North Queensland was formed. In the year 1878 the Rev'd George Henry Stanton, then Vicar of St Giles in the Fields, was consecrated Bishop of the new Diocese, and arrived in Queensland in 1879.

In 1884, when Synod was called upon to elect a successor as Bishop in succession to Bishop Hale, the choice was delegated to the Archbishop of Canterbury, which resulted in the consecration of the Rev'd William Thomas Thornhill Webber, on St Barnabas' Day, 1885. The Bishop was enthroned by the Primate in St John's Pro-Cathedral on 17 November 1885. When the Bishop arrived he found 33 clergy working in the Diocese; on his death, in the year 1903, the number had risen to 57. The episcopate of Bishop Webber is well remembered for two great outward achievements – the creation of the Diocese of Rockhampton and the successful launching of the Cathedral project. On SS Philip and James' Day 1889, the Ven Nathaniel Dawes, Archdeacon of Brisbane, was consecrated Coadjutor Bishop of the Diocese, with special oversight over the Northern portion, and when four years later the See of Rockhampton was formed, Dr Dawes was elected its first Bishop.

When, in 1903, the choice of Bishop was delegated to the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Rev'd St Clair George Alfred Donaldson was nominated to the vacant See.

Archbishop Donaldson resigned from 15 November 1921. The Right Rev'd Gerald Sharp was elected to fill the vacancy by the Archbishop Election Committee, and was enthroned in St John's Cathedral on 16 November 1921. He remained in charge of the Diocese as Archbishop until the day of his death, 30 August 1933.

In November 1933, the Archbishop Election Committee met in Brisbane and elected the Rev'd John William Charles Wand, Dean of Oriel College, Oxford. Archbishop Wand was consecrated in St Paul's Cathedral, London, on Tuesday, 1 May 1934, and on Wednesday, 5 September, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. He resigned on 31 July 1943, on his appointment as Bishop of Bath and Wells.

On 3 November 1943, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Right Rev'd Reginald Charles Halse, Bishop of Riverina, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. He remained in charge of the Diocese as Archbishop until the day of his death, 9 August 1962.

On 28 March 1963, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Right Rev'd Philip Nigel Warrington Strong, Bishop of New Guinea, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. He resigned on 30 June 1970.

On 10 July 1970, the Rev'd Canon Frank William Coaldrake, Chairman of the Australian Board of Missions, was elected to be the Archbishop of Brisbane. Unfortunately, he died suddenly on 22 July 1970 before he could be consecrated or enthroned.

On 17 October 1970, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Right Rev'd Dr Felix Raymond Arnott, Bishop Coadjutor of Melbourne, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. He resigned on 31 July 1980.

On 15 November 1980, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Right Rev'd John Basil Rowland Grindrod, Bishop of Rockhampton, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane.

His resignation took effect from 4 December 1989.

On 22 March 1990, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Right Reverend Peter John Hollingworth, Bishop of the Inner City of Melbourne, was enthroned in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane. His resignation became effective from 25 June 2001.

On 2 February 2002, having been elected by the Archbishop Election Committee, the Right Rev'd Dr Phillip John Aspinall, Assistant Bishop of Adelaide, was installed in St John's Cathedral, Brisbane.

History of St John's Cathedral

The Cathedral Church of St John the Evangelist is one of the great works of architecture stemming from the Victorian neo-gothic revival of the 19th Century.

The design, by eminent English architect John Loughborough Pearson, is a mixture of French and Early English neo-Gothic style, with many features reminiscent of Norman cathedrals in Caen and Coutances. Pearson had already designed a new cathedral for Truro in Cornwall, where he concentrated principally on English Gothic style, but for this building he planned a polygonal apse at the east end, and a double-aisled nave, providing a processional ambulatory around the central worship space.

The sexpartite ribs of the vault, rising from the major and minor piers of the nave and chancel give a unified sense of space and grace, with elegance of form and proportion. It is understood that this is the most extensive stone vault in the southern hemisphere.

The pillars which form such a notable feature of the cathedral are marvellously varied in form and scale – from the solid Romanesque piers of the southern chapels and the graceful columns of the nave and chancel, to the massive piers of the crossing, and the elegant columns in the Lady Chapel.

The outer walls of the cathedral are of pink porphyry from the O'Connell Town quarry in Windsor, four kilometres from Brisbane. The interior stone in varying shades of creamy brown is sandstone from Helidon, near Toowoomba. The external window dressings of the first stage were of stone from the Pymont quarries in Sydney, New South Wales, while those of the later stages are also from the Helidon quarries in Queensland.

The Lady Chapel and the Southern Chapels form delightful intimate spaces for smaller services and private prayer, and their different character is emphasised by the differing treatments – the Lady Chapel (originally intended as a Children's Chapel) is designed with a calculated lightness and grace which makes it at once a place to which children can relate without being over-awed. The children of the Diocese contributed towards the cost of this chapel, placing in the offertory at the Consecration Ceremony, gifts in specially-made silken purses. The Southern Chapels, with the solid Romanesque piers remind one of many a parish church with a side aisle (indeed the reference to the previous St John's in George Street, may be deliberate).

The High Altar is somewhat Byzantine in style with contrasting coloured marbles, and inlaid glass mosaics. The central panel of the front is made of quartz and agate. The rounded pillars are green Cornish marble, and the altar is inlaid with alabaster, and green quartz in the side panels. The mensa (table top) is made of three slabs of grey-green marble from Iona (the traditional birthplace of British Christianity). The altar is a memorial to Bishop Webber, whose inspiration led to the building of the cathedral. His body rests beneath the altar, having been translated from the Toowong cemetery in 1910.

Pearson's original design included an impressive baldachino (canopy) supported by four columns above the High Altar (similar to that he had designed for Peterborough Cathedral). The floor has been specially strengthened to carry the additional weight.

The pulpit, carved from Cornish soapstone, was imported from England and features a carved panel depicting Christ teaching the people.

The font, of grey black marble, rests on columns of Frosterley marble in which can be seen interesting fossils.

The carved choir stalls in the chancel were designed by Frank Pearson (John Pearson's son), and the initial sections were carved in Burmese teak, by Luscombes of Exeter. The carving of the remainder of the stalls was continued by Colin Blumson, one of Australia's first Churchill fellows, and completed in 1992.

The canopies on the north side of the choir contain representations of British saints, Alban, Patrick, Ninian and David, together with patron saints associated with diocesan schools. On the south side, are represented King George V and Queen Mary, together with founding Bishops of Australia and the province of Queensland.

The pipe organ, built by Messrs Norman and Beard in 1910, was rebuilt and enlarged in 1969-72 by Messrs Hill, Norman and Beard. The carved organ case of the north transept, designed by Frank Pearson, was donated by Herbert Jones in commemoration of the centenary of the City of Brisbane 1824-1924. At the time of the rebuild in 1972, carved wooden screens were provided for the swell organ facing into the chancel — these latter being designed by Arnold Conrad and executed by Colin Blumson, featuring a pair of ringtail possums in the middle of the screen.

The stained glass ranges from imported English glass of the early 20th Century (such as the great Wheel Window of the north transept, designed by Frank Pearson and executed by Burlisson and Grylls), through Australian designs by William Bustard to the more recent modern glass of the clerestory and nave by David Saunders and Glenn Mack, stained glass artists with a deep sense of spiritual vocation.

The completed cathedral is 79.2m long. The width of the nave is 10.6m, the outer aisles 9.6m, and the transepts 8m. The height of the ceiling vault is 18.2m.

Construction History

The first Church of St John 1843-1854 stood on the corner of what is now Queen Street and North Quay. St John's Church was then moved to a new site between William, George and Elizabeth Streets and the old building was used for a while as a school and also as the Brisbane Volunteer Fire Station. This Church was built in 1850-54 to a design by ET Blacket.

There were three stages to the building of the second St John, the first beginning with the laying of the foundation stone when a portion of the William Street nave was built; the second, when this was extended by the length of two bays, and the third when a duplicate nave with chancel were added. The church was dedicated to St John the Evangelist by Bishop Tyrrell on 29 October 1854. St John's remained the parish church of Brisbane until it became the pro-cathedral of the Diocese of Brisbane. The enthronement of Bishop Tufnell on 4 September 1860 gave a new status to the little St John's Church as pro-cathedral for the Diocese of Brisbane.

In 1876, a peal of eight bells was installed in a wooden tower at the original site of St John's Church in William Street. However they were housed in a timber belfry which only allowed them to be chimed not rung. This remained the case when the bells were transferred to the present cathedral site in 1906 and housed in a temporary timber bell tower.

In 1879-1880 the school was built. The last service in the second St John's was held on 7 August 1904. In that same year, St Luke's Church in Charlotte Street was opened and dedicated to serve as the pro-cathedral until the new cathedral was built.

The new cathedral was designed John Loughborough Pearson for his friend William Webber who had been appointed third Bishop of Brisbane in 1885. Bishop Webber promoted the idea of replacing the old church with a cathedral and he and John Pearson discussed plans for the cathedral in 1886. In September of that year, at his inaugural address to the Diocese, the Bishop reported that the Diocesan Council had agreed to invite Pearson to prepare the design. He commented: "Thus our citizens will see that we aim at giving to Brisbane nothing less than the best which highest modern art can produce."

Pearson's plans were approved in April 1889, although there were no resources in hand to attempt the commencement of such a grand project in the fledgling colony. The pro-cathedral site in William Street was clearly inadequate, and in 1899 an alternative site between Adelaide and Ann Streets at the northern entrance to the city was purchased, and a site plan was produced in 1900.

Construction work on St John's Cathedral commenced with the laying of the Foundation Stone on 22 May 1901 by the Duke of Cornwall and York (later King George V), on his way home from the opening of the first Federal Australian Parliament in Melbourne. It is located on the north side of the sanctuary, beside the altar rail, and can be seen from the ambulatory.

In 1904, the old St John's in Queen's Park was demolished and much of the material was used in the construction of the St John's Day School (now known as Webber House).

The building of the cathedral commenced on 22 April 1906. The first stage of the cathedral was built between 1906 and 1910 and consecrated on the Feasts of Saints Simon and Jude - 28 October 1910; it comprised the polygonal end (the east end), sanctuary and chancel, the side chapels, transepts and first bay of the nave. The organ, the pulpit and the rose window were in position in time for the Consecration of the Cathedral.

By the time the building commenced in 1906, both the architect John Pearson and the motivating Bishop Webber had died and the design development had passed to Pearson's architect son Frank Loughborough Pearson. He was never able to visit the site. The contractor for the first stage of building was Peter Rodger of Ballarat, Victoria.

Care has been taken to remain faithful to Pearson's concept and designs. The original plan envisaged a cathedral which would cost some £100,000 (and at that time the colony numbered some 100,000 inhabitants). It was a very grandiose scheme for its time. The first stage of the building (about one third of its bulk) was commenced in 1906 and completed in 1910, at a cost of some £37,000.

The clergy stalls were installed in June 1913. The sounding board over the pulpit was not installed until September 1916.

In 1944, it was resolved to make the completion of St John's Cathedral the Diocesan War Memorial. On 24 October 1946 an appeal was launched. On 15 July 1947, Field Marshall Viscount Montgomery of Alamein laid the corner stone (known as the Stone of Remembrance) of the extensions.

On Sunday 21 August 1955, the first sod was turned by His Excellency the Governor-General of Australia (Sir William Slim).

A Start-of-Building Service was celebrated on 21 November 1965 and work resumed. On 27 May 1968, HRH Prince Philip unveiled a stone in the new portion commemorating the completion of the masonry. The two bay extensions (1964-68) were completed and consecrated on Friday 22 November 1968. On the advice of structural engineers, added strength was given to the structure by incorporating within the piers a core of steel.

In 1988, two bells were added to the peal as a Bicentennial gift from the Friends of the Cathedral and the Cathedral Gift Shop, and the 10 bells were transferred to a steel frame intended to be the skeleton of the north west tower. Here they could be rung full circle, but only with a fair degree of difficulty because of excessive movement in the tower. In 2004, they were rehung in their final resting place above the nave crossing as Pearson intended, where they can be rung in full circle without compromise.

The final stage of construction to complete the cathedral commenced in 1989. Peter Dare of Exeter was appointed the master mason in the same year. After a time he also took over the role of construction manager, and has overseen the completion of the nave and the west end of the Cathedral.

Work took place on the south-west porch between June 1989 and 1990, and continued with construction of the fourth bay of the nave and the western front. The western front was opened in December 2006. Work then commenced on the construction of the western towers.

In 2000, the first stained glass window was installed in the west end; this commemorated Australian-United States of America comradeship during World War II; it was executed by Glenn Mack of Victoria.

In early 2000, a public competition was held for the design of the major window in the west front, known as the Millennium window. The design submitted by Scott Maxwell on the theme of "creation" was accepted by the Cathedral Chapter and executed by Warwick Blair of Brisbane.

In mid-2000 work on the cathedral, which had been previously supervised by Conrad & Gargett Pty Ltd, was transferred to architect Michael Kennedy because of his expertise in conservation architecture. The Cathedral Chapter at the same time established its own CAD drawing office and appointed an architectural draftsman to facilitate issues of drawing and cutting profiles for the computer-directed wire saw used to produce stone for the building. John Phillips, RIBA, of London acted as a consultant architect to the project until his death in 2006.

In late 2006, Peter Dare returned to England. He remained a consultant to the project, but the role of construction manager has passed to Terry McCallum. Cliff Lawrence was the foreman mason in charge of stone work.

The western spires were raised on the 1 March 2008 and the central spire on the 11 November 2008, complete with the installation of the last two bells. Both days received wide, national media coverage and were an historic achievement. This marked the end of the construction of the cathedral. The cost of the final stage of cathedral construction was $39.2m.

The West Windows were installed in March 2009 (a public competition for the design was held and was won by Mr Glenn Mack). The exciting design centers on the theme of the 'I am' saying from St John's Gospel, and includes symbolism which captures the desire to enter into dialogue with other faiths and the world of science. The Catholic Archdiocese (who celebrated 150 years of the Catholic Archdiocese in Brisbane in 2009) donated a pair of windows as their gift to us on the sesquicentenary of the Anglican Diocese of Brisbane. We also have a window commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Anglican Diocese of Brisbane as well as the State of Queensland.

The Cathedral was consecrated by the Most Rev'd Dr Phillip Aspinall on 29 October 2009, in an extremely moving and powerful liturgy. Music was provided by the cathedral choir, the Camerata of St John's and the Brisbane Chamber Choir. The service was attended by over 50 bishops, former Archbishops, Deans of the Cathedral, ecumenical friends and political figures. The preacher was the Very Rev'd David Richardson (Archbishop of Canterbury's Representative to the Holy See and Director of the Anglican Centre in Rome). The service incorporated a welcome by the traditional owners, a didgeridoo player and dancing the Gospel by representatives of the Torres Strait Islander group. A DVD of the Service was made and distributed at the end of the year.

It was fitting that we were able to consecrate the cathedral in the sesquicentenary year of both the State of Queensland and the Anglican Diocese of Brisbane.

The consecration dinner took place the following evening, 30 October, and was another successful event with wonderful musical content.

Plans to develop the northern precinct in sympathy with Pearson's vision continued during 2009. Permission was sought from Brisbane City Council to amend our successful development application to allow for staging the project, i.e. stage one is to refurbish St Martin's, Webber and Church Houses for office accommodation and build the three-story annexe behind Webber House and stage two is constructing the car park. We await the outcome of discussions.

Cathedral Coin Collection

In 2010, a donor, who wishes to remain anonymous, donated an extensive collection of ancient coins to St John's Cathedral. Some coins in the collection date back to the time of Christ. Jack Barnes made a secure showcase for the coins that are on public display near the southern chapels. The core collection is supplemented by the temporary addition of coins and other items of interest that refer to a specific event.

Northern Precinct Development

Plans for the construction of an extension to Webber House firmed as 2011 progressed. Groundbreaking ceremonies were conducted by the Dean for the cathedral congregations on 24 July, and by the Archbishop for staff on 7 September. Hutchinson's Builders commenced work on Monday 28 November. Work was completed in 2012, allowing for many of the diocesan services to be co-located in the Cathedral grounds and allowing for the centralising of functions for the diocese and the cathedral.

After consideration, chapter named the site St John's Cathedral Precinct. Chapter wished to create a welcoming environment not only for staff, but also for all visitors to the cathedral and precinct. Both Webber House and the annexe are collectively known as Webber House.

A blessing of Webber House and the commissioning of the people of St John's Cathedral Precinct was conducted by the Archbishop on 4 October 2012.

Refurbishment of St Martin's House commenced in early November 2012, and was completed during 2013 by Hutchinson's Builders. During the work extensive termite damage was identified and treated. There will be ongoing work in order to avoid future infestations. The public toilet block was also refurbished.

Stage two, the development of the cloisters and the construction of a car park remains on the table and will only proceed at a time when sufficient funds are available. Parking on site is increasingly problematic and visitors are encouraged to take public transport.

BHP Billiton Building, 380 Queen St – Grocon Constructions

Grocon, the builders, and Nexus, the owners, opened this building mid-2015. Aspects of the building are in sympathy with the cathedral such as the building being designed to reflect the porphyry and sandstone of the cathedral.

Hobbs Park is located in the building and was named by the Right Honourable Graham Quirk, Lord Mayor of Brisbane on 12 March 2015. There are plans to construct a pedestrian bridge connecting Hobbs Park to the east end of the cathedral, thus establishing a connection between the Brisbane River and historic Adelaide House (The Deanery). A pedestrian bridge will be a great benefit attracting people to St John's Precinct. The cathedral and 380 Queen Street management have a very good ongoing working relationship.

Storm 27 November 2014 – Precinct Damage

On 27 November 2014, a ferocious storm cell hit Brisbane causing extensive damage to St John's Precinct.

All buildings on the site sustained substantial damage to roofs and windows. The cathedral suffered large amounts of water ingress which affected the organ and other areas. Fortunately the damage was covered by insurance. The repair works cost a total of $6m and continue into 2018. Work undertaken included: replacement of roof tiles on the cathedral, St Martin's House, Webber House and Church House, replacement of the copper sheeting on the western towers and the central tower, replacement of the cathedral lighting control system and external lighting. Replacement of roofing on the Deanery and Webber House annexe, installation of new stainless steel box guttering and 13 new dormer vents around the ambulatory roof of the cathedral. The chapels sustained water damage during the storm. As a result the chapels floor underwent restoration work in 2015 and 2016, the carpets were removed and the floors polished. This work dramatically improved the acoustics in these chapels. Extensive repair work was carried out on the organ and was completed in 2018.

The Lady Chapel and southern chapels also sustained water damage following the storm on 27 November 2014. As a result the chapels underwent floor restoration work in 2015 and 2016, the carpets were removed and the floors polished. This work dramatically improved the acoustics in these chapels.

Cathedral Stained Glass Windows

Post-storm, the upper ambulatory windows on the east end of the cathedral have been repaired and cleaned, protective glass was installed to prevent future damage. The protective glass was not covered by storm damage insurance.

The seven lower ambulatory windows (Bustard Windows) were taken out, restored and replaced. Again, protective glass was installed. This work was not covered by storm damage insurance but was undertaken to utilise the scaffolding that was erected for storm damage repair work.

The repair work on the remainder of the stained glass window on the eastern side of the cathedral was completed in 2017.

Church House Refurbishment

In August 2016, refurbishment work on Church House commenced and was completed in December 2016. NPS Commercial was the contractor. Church House is now back to its original state. The building has been totally rewired, painted, recarpeted, reglazed and new air conditioning installed. The main entrance is now at the southern face of the building and allows for disabled access.

During 2017, the diocesan archives moved into the ground floor of Church House and the Anglican Schools Office moved into the upper floor.

Tapestry Cushions from the Cathedral including the Lady Chapel Cushions

The collection of 400 cushions was cleaned and restored in 2015, and catalogued in 2016. The cushions are currently being displayed in the glass cabinet in the northern transept. A new lighting system was installed in the display cabinet to highlight the cushions. The display changes monthly.

Refurbishment of Blessed Sacrament Chapel

In 2015, Jack Barnes was commissioned to craft a new tabernacle for the Blessed Sacrament Chapel and to restore the altar. The tabernacle is now in place and enhances this space. In 2017, Jack Barnes developed a proposal to further enhance the altar. A faculty for the work has been granted and Jack Barnes commenced work in 2018.

Chapter is delighted that the new altar piece was completed and installed in time for the Tenth Anniversary of Completion Celebrations in October 2019.

West End Statues

The first three statues were installed in their niches on the west end of the cathedral on 28 January 2015. The Christ: Holy Wisdom; John the Baptist; and Mary Magdalene were the first of the series of 13 statues to be lifted into place. Statues in the west end are part of Pearson's plan for the cathedral. The statues are being carved by Dr Rhyl Hinwood AM, as funds are available and will be lifted in sets of three. Funds to complete all the statues were received in 2018.

Mary, Mother of Jesus and Joseph of Nazareth; Lazarus of Bethany, Mary of Bethany and Martha of Bethany; and James and John the Evangelist were dedicated on 6 May 2016.

On 29 November 2017, Matthias & Judas Iscariot; Peter & Paul; Luke & Matthew and Thomas & Mark were blessed by the Archbishop. The lifting of the statues into their niches was delayed until 15 December due to wet weather.

On 12 April 2019, James the Just & Bartholomew and Jude & Simon and Phillip & Andrew were raised into place. This completes the statue set.

Our thanks to Dr Rhyl Hinwood for her carving of these statues.

Oratory Floor

The designs for the oratory (the space left vacant when the font was moved to the west end) floor and for the associated furniture have now been finalised. The project will be funded through a bequest from Dianna and Elizabeth Luker. Jack Barnes was commissioned to construct the mosaic floor and work will commence in 2020 now that the Blessed Sacrament Chapel altar piece has been completed.

Cathedral Sound System

As reported in previous years, the cathedral's 10-year-old sound system was problematic and in need of a complete overhaul. After much consideration Chapter commissioned Brisbane Sound to install a Dante mixing console and processor, and 38-speaker system that is zoned so that sound can be in the whole cathedral, or directed to particular areas, thus giving flexibility for different worship, liturgies, groups and concerts.

The project was challenging as St John's Cathedral had a sound delay of six seconds, the usual sound delay is 1-1.5 seconds. Another challenge was to install aesthetically pleasing speakers and cabling, and this was achieved.

The first large service when the sound system was used was the Ordination of Priests and Deacons on 2 December 2017, with approximately 1,150 people in attendance. The sound was excellent.

Queens & Regimental Colours & Guidons Display Project

Discussions were initiated last 2016 with Steve Taubert, author of Preserving our Proud Heritage, to preserve and display the damaged guidons and regimental colours which at present are stored in St Martin's House. Steve has offered to be the champion for the project and will coordinate grant applications etc. This project is ongoing.

St John's Cathedral Girls' Choir

The Girls' Choir was introduced mid-2018 and is going very well.

Michael Dodson

In late 2017, Michael retired from the cathedral after 42 years as Verger/Groundsman. In late 2018, Michael was diagnosed with oesophagus cancer which spread to other organs. He died in early 2019.

Queensland Government Anzac Centenary Grant

During 2018, Chapter successfully applied for a Queensland Government Anzac Centenary Grant our application has been successful. Chapter published a booklet, St John's Cathedral and the Anzac Legend which was launched on 19 December 2018. The booklet is on the military of memorabilia in the Cathedral including the ANZAC flag which hangs in the Southern Chapels. It has been established that the flag in our possession was the last Allied flag to fly at ANZAC Cove.

Adelaide House (The Deanery) Balcony

In 2018, Chapter was successful in obtaining a grant of $50,000 from the Community Sustainability Action Grants Heritage Conservation to restore the balcony of the Deanery to its original state. The total cost of the work is $110,000 and further application has been made to the National Trust for an appeal to fund the shortfall. The initial work is on hold until we receive the funding shortfall. Jack Barnes is undertaking the work and Ivan

McDonald is the Heritage Architect overseeing the project. Adelaide House is a significant building in the history of Queensland as the balcony was where the declaration of Queensland as a separate State from New South Wales was declared in December 1859.

Restoration work to the balcony was completed in 2019. It has now been restored to its original glory.

National Trust Appeal – Adelaide House

In November 2018, Chapter submitted a National Trust Heritage Appeal Application for restoration work to Adelaide House. Chapter's application was successful, and the Appeal continues.

National Trust Appeal – Cathedral Completion Program and Cathedral Restoration & Repair

In November 2018, Chapter submitted a National Trust Heritage Appeal Application to combine completion and maintenance of the cathedral. Chapter's Application for an Appeal called, Cathedral Completion Program and Cathedral Restoration & Repair was successful.

Dean David Thomas

It was our privilege to host the funeral liturgy for Dean Emeritus David Thomas on 8 August 2019. Peter is of the view that David will be remembered as the Dean who began the process of making the ministry of the Cathedral financially sustainable. During his time bequests for the general purposes of the cathedral began to be capitalised. The future-focused funds he initiated will be a blessing for future generations. May David rest in peace and rise in glory.

Dean Arthur Grimshaw

Arthur died on 6 September 2019. Arthur was the Dean of St John's Cathedral from 1985 to 1998. His funeral was held at Holy Trinity, Fortitude Valley on 16 September. We recall with deep gratitude that Arthur was the Dean who drove the Cathedral completion project and give thanks for his encouragement of the music ministry. He is fondly remembered by long-term Cathedral community members as a good friend. May Arthur rest in peace and rise in glory.

Deans' Conference 1-5 August 2019

It was a delight to host the Deans for Australian Cathedrals for their annual conference. We explored the role of irony in the understanding and proclamation of the faith, the intentional community movement including The Community of the Way, the life of Archbishop Strong, The Beatitudes as a way of following The Way of Jesus, Anglican Identity, the Covenants of the Prophet Mohammad, and held a Compassion Cafe. We also spent time reflecting on the ministry of Cathedrals and their communities. All this was interspersed with prayer, worship and fellowship over meals.

Jan Reid – Receptionist

Jan, our much-loved receptionist around the diocese, retired in December 2019. Jan started working in the diocesan accounts department in 1993 and transferred to the cathedral offices in her role as receptionist approximately 14 years ago in 2005.

Tenth Anniversary of Consecration Festival Weekend Celebrations

A variety of celebrations were offered during our Weekend Festival Celebrations, 25-27 October 2019.

The Very Rev'd Dr Peter Catt, Dean of St John's Cathedral, said: "On Sunday afternoon, as well as celebrating the consecration we will remember that on that day ten years a long-held dream came true.

Our task over the past 10 years has been to put the building phase behind us, and to discern what the dream looks like now. On Sunday we will celebrate the way the dream has been unfolding during this past decade.'

Among the festival weekend's special guests was The Right Rev'd John Parkes AM, presently Bishop of Wangaratta – and Dr Catt's predecessor as Dean when the Cathedral was completed – who preached at the Sunday morning Eucharists.

The Archbishop of Brisbane, The Most Rev'd Dr Phillip Aspinall, remembers well the consecration event: "Thursday 29 October 2009 was a deeply joyful occasion, when some 1,500 people gathered to give thanks to God for the completed cathedral, 108 years after the laying of the foundation stone. Personally, it was a unique privilege to be the consecrating bishop."

The Most Rev'd Dr Aspinall preached at the Sunday evening Choral Evensong at 6pm, before a wine-and-cheese gathering and the book launch by His Excellency.

The program is below.

Friday 25 October

7pm Wine and cheese with the Official Launch by the Governor of the fully-revised and expanded (utterly gorgeous!) second edition of St John's Cathedral: THE WINDOWS

St John's Cathedral: THE WINDOWS (Second Edition)

As mentioned above, this book was launched by the Governor after Evensong at the Tenth Anniversary Celebrations on 27 October 2019.

The book – St John's Cathedral: THE WINDOWS – is a fully-illustrated guide to the Cathedral's collection of more than 60 magnificent stained-glass windows, and has been fully-revised and updated for this special commemorative edition.

Role of Regional Bishops, Archdeacons & Area Deans

Gifts are given ... to equip the saints, for the work of ministry, for building up the Body of Christ.

Ephesians 4.12

The role descriptions below outline some of the expectations of Area Deans, Archdeacons and Regional Bishops. These expectations are not exhaustive, and each person is able to shape further the role they hold.

Area Deans, Archdeacons and Regional Bishops work with the Archbishop in encouraging, serving and building up the People of God. They extend pastoral care to the clergy of the Diocese and work with all to realise our vision of 'Going for Growth in Christ'.

The Role of Area Deans

Area Deans draw the clergy and laity in the Deanery together for mutual consultation, support and action to encourage effective ministry in the Church and in the wider community.

In particular, Area Deans:

- convene meetings of clergy in the Area Deanery for peer support, mutual encouragement and further education. Area Deaneries should meet at least four times a year.
- offer counsel and pastoral support to all clergy in the Area Deanery and foster fellowship for them and their families, taking care to include retired clergy, chaplains, locums, clergy widows, etc.
- oversee arrangements for commissioning services of new parish priests and chaplains in collaboration with parish lay leaders and submit the draft order of service for the Regional Bishop's approval in good time.

Area Deans are usually priests of busy parishes, so expectations of the time they have available need to be realistic.

The Role of Archdeacons

Archdeacons work with their Regional Bishop to support the Area Deans, clergy, parishes and other ministry agencies to enable the diocesan vision of 'Going for Growth in Christ' to be fulfilled.

Archdeaconries are usually defined geographically, although from time to time the Archbishop might create an Archdeacon with a particular ministry portfolio.

In particular, Archdeacons:

- are part of the ordained leadership team in the diocese and within the region. The Archdeacon is a channel of communication between diocesan officials, the Regional Bishop, Area Deans and clergy.
- are responsible for the Parish Review, at least every five years as prescribed by the relevant regulation, or when a parish becomes vacant.
- inspect church property, including rectories (by negotiation with the parish priest) every five years, and consult with church wardens about required repairs and refurbishments.
- consult with parishes about plans for new buildings or alterations to existing buildings, and indicate agreement or otherwise report on the prescribed form seeking building approval.
- receive from clergy, on the prescribed form, notification regarding leave or other absences and arrangements for the continuance of pastoral and liturgical ministries; and convey such arrangements to their Regional Bishop.
- welcome locum clergy during a parish interregnum and keep in touch with them during the length of their locum.
- consult with the Regional Bishop in finding pathways for the resolution of any parish conflict.
- work with the Regional Bishop and others in the development of strategies for church growth in the Archdeaconry, and in the implementation of good management procedures in parishes and other ministry agencies, such as record keeping, accounts, policies, etc.
- participate in the Archbishop's regular meeting with the Bishops, Archdeacons and Dean of the Cathedral.

Archdeacons are also usually priests of busy parishes, so (as with Area Deans) expectations of the time they have available need to be realistic. Recognising the additional workload and responsibilities of Archdeacons, an annual allowance equal to 10% of the Minimum Rate of Stipend (MRS) will be paid by the diocese to the Archdeacon at the end of the year, (or for those who have not served a full year in the role a pro rata amount).

Provision is also made for a contribution to an Archdeacon's parish for expenses incurred by the parish because of the Archdeacon's ministry. Payments will be made annually to the parish as follows:

Archdeaconry	Percentage of MRS
West	8%
Cunningham, The Downs, Sunshine Coast, Burnett	6%
Brisbane, Lilley, Oxley, Moreton, Gold Coast	4%

The Role of Regional Bishops

The Regional Bishops form, with the Archbishop, an episcopal team serving the Diocese. Assistant Bishops undertake functions or roles requested or authorised by the Archbishop. This might include serving on one or more commissions from time to time.

Except for the responsibilities of decision and appointment that are specifically the Archbishop's, they carry out the role of a Bishop to the clergy and people in the episcopal region they serve. This is often a pastoral responsibility and will involve them closely in consultation with the clergy and people of the parishes. As "shepherds of the shepherds" they seek to encourage the development of ministry and the witness of clergy and laity in their region. They teach and defend the faith, encourage all Christians and foster hope for the future as we 'Go for Growth in Christ'.

The Bishops realise it is fundamental that they pray and plan together. For this purpose they meet together with the Archbishop each week.

Other roles and responsibilities of the Regional Bishops include:

- visiting parishes and other mission agencies regularly and spending time with clergy and people, for it is in the parishes and other mission agencies that the fundamental and continuing life and witness of the Church takes place.
- chairing, at the Archbishop's request, meetings of the Presentation Board.
- regular consultation with the Region's Archdeacons and Area Deans, especially in relation to new appointments, to strategies that might grow the church in faith, service, generosity and numbers, and to pastoral care especially of the clergy.

- keeping in touch with clergy who have recently accepted an appointment to a parish within the region and particularly with clergy in their first charge.
- responsibility for ecumenical relationships at the regional level, and the exploration, where appropriate, of possible co-operative ventures.
- responsibility for the making of locum tenens arrangements in the case of vacancies.
- being available to clergy and laity who seek an appointment and attentive to their needs and issues.

Therefore ... let us run with perseverance the race that is before us, looking to Jesus the pioneer and perfecter of our faith.

Synod Sermon

by The Most Rev'd Dr Phillip J Aspinall
Archbishop of Brisbane

Preached at the Eucharist of the 2019 Synod
Friday 28 June 2019

Peter and Paul, Apostles and Martyrs

Firstly, let me say what a privilege and joy it has been to be on retreat this week with Beryl and Kate, now to be ordained priest and deacon. Congratulations to you both and be assured of my continuing prayers as you transition into your ordained life in the places where you are licensed.

And what a day this is for such a milestone moment in your lives – the day when we celebrate the preeminent early Christian leadership and witness of faith of Peter and Paul – Apostles and Martyrs.

The prayer, the collect for this day, has us pray that inspired by their teaching and example, and knit together in unity by the Spirit, we may ever stand firm upon the one foundation, Jesus Christ.

We, and all of us here are leaders, find inspiration in their witness.

I can't think of any church group I've ever been part of where we all haven't felt a strong connection with Peter. He's so obviously flawed, so human, so us – his transformation from Simon the fisherman, to Peter the post-Pentecost Apostle who witnesses to the Lordship of Christ is made very painfully and very publicly.

He steps out on the water with faith, then doubt sets in and he sinks; he names Jesus as Messiah – the anointed one – then shows he has no understanding of Jesus and the subversive realm of God he was bringing to light. He shows loyalty (but no understanding) as he tries to resist Jesus' arrest by cutting off Malchus' ear, but then he runs off into the darkness; then later as Evangelist John records, when he is asked 'aren't you one of his disciples', he denies knowing him and answers 'I am not'.

And the infant communities retold his story, and all the evangelists included his fears and failures in their written accounts, so that today we draw so much from him – particularly that our fears and our failures aren't barriers that shut us off from God and God's dream for creation.

Remember the Gospel we've heard?

Jesus commissions Peter to care for God's people – I know who you are Peter, says Jesus, I see through the protective covers you've worn, seen your growth in faith, seen your heart, your true self. And I love you.

You are the disciple I need, the disciple the world needs. What you do matters.

Beryl, Kate, all we Christian leaders here tonight – pay attention to this – Jesus is talking to us today too. Listen to him.

I want you to feed my sheep, to be a leader, to look out for others, to devote yourself to this community.

Be to them as I have been to you. I want you to Follow me/my way...

Do you know the Mary Oliver poem, Wild Geese?

She begins: You do not have to be good.

You do not have to walk on your knees for a hundred miles through the desert repenting.

You only have to let the soft animal of your body love what it loves.

Augustine of Hippo wrote that our restless hearts find their peace when we stop running from God, allow God's love to fill our lives and so find ourselves in an intimate relationship where we know and are known by our creator. The soft animal of our body loves what it loves, because it comes to its true home, the place where it is in intimate relationship with God, open to all that God has for us, and our lives have meaning and purpose.

It's certainly a left-field image to have in our minds as we turn from Peter to consider Paul and his dramatic change from Saul, the black-and-white, fire breathing persecutor of the followers of the Way, the defender of Jewish orthodoxy – to the mystic Paul – one of the most zealous, dynamic and courageous ambassadors of Christ that the Church has ever known.

There's a poem in Les Murray's Anthology of Australian Religious Poetry (1986). It's written by the Marist Brother Xavier, named Presence XII.

It's a poem that speaks to my own life and faith journey, and, I think, to Paul's life.

The poet first reminds us of Christ's great promise that he will send the Spirit, then, even though the writer has just reminded us of the promise, he starts this section with a YET (I hold my head in my hands at such blind arrogance!) Br Xavier writes:

Yet, I go searching bookshelves for paper boats to sail to heaven.

Across the years, I chart a course and navigate, I think shoals unaided, to arrive among the harbour lights and like Camu's Tarrou, be a saint without God.

*Still, when I reach the wharf,
I must jettison my brilliant concepts,*

*and in faith, wait humbly, till you stretch down a hand to rescue me
and lead me home.*

God stretched down a hand to the Pharisee Saul, rescued him and then led him not only to wrestle with the big existential questions of faith and life – God; conflict in community; who is included in God’s love; union with Christ and the cost of discipleship; hope –... but also to talk and write and argue about them with such dramatic freshness and passion that he took the message of Israel’s God to the nations, in the process breaking down barriers at the grass roots level as he preached that in baptism there are no racial, gender or social divisions (Gal 3: 26-28)

Of course, that’s when his writing isn’t dense, convoluted, dry, abstract, repetitive, authoritarian, misogynist – well you know. We’ve all heard and read at least parts of Paul’s letters!

And here tonight we’ve heard the powerful imagery he used in his letter to Timothy.

It’s his moving self-testimony – packed full of imagery of priestly sacrifice, of athletics, sporting contest; of keeping the faith/holding honestly to his unshakeable confidence in the Lord, his rock solid faith that nothing would separate him from God’s love and mercy and his great legacy of bringing the Gospel to Europe. What a witness.

Can I ask you to think back to the Mary Oliver Poem – Wild Geese – that I partly quoted a few minutes ago – it was talking about grace, about God’s great love for each of us – of what it means to accept who we are, how to live into the truth of our created being.

And it ends: Whoever you are ... the world offers itself to your imagination, calls to you like the wild geese, harsh and exciting – over and over announcing your place in the family of things.

The Holy Spirit, the Wild Goose in Celtic imagery, calls us to passionate engagement with the world, loving God, loving our neighbours, loving ourselves.

Beryl, Kate, Christian leaders all – our baptism, vocatio in the Greek – is our commissioning to give faithful and true witness to the love of God with Jesus-like testimony, following the footsteps of Peter and Paul.

Find your place in the places where you are, call out with passion and excitement of the truth that has set you free, and let the love of God so flow through you that it overflows your lives to bring joy and blessings to those around you.

The Lord be with you.

Amen.

You do not have to be good.
You do not have to walk on your knees for a hundred miles through the desert repenting.
You only have to let the soft animal of your body love what it loves.
Tell me about despair, yours, and I will tell you mine.
Meanwhile the world goes on.
Meanwhile the sun and the clear pebbles of the rain are moving across the landscapes, over the prairies and the deep trees,
the mountains and the rivers.
Meanwhile the wild geese, high in the clean blue air,
are heading home again.
Whoever you are, no matter how lonely,
the world offers itself to your imagination, calls to you like the wild geese, harsh and exciting -- over and over announcing your place in the family of things.

President's Address

by The Most Rev'd Dr Phillip J Aspinall
Archbishop of Brisbane

To the third session of the 79th Synod of the Diocese of Brisbane
Friday 28 June 2019

Welcome to this Third Session of the 79th Synod of the Diocese of Brisbane.

Some people dread going to Synod. Some find it boring or just plain irrelevant to what they see as the real work of the kingdom of God. Others find the conflict and politicking destructive. Still others ask how a body the size of our Diocesan Synod can hope to achieve anything.

I can appreciate these sentiments and similar thoughts have crossed my own mind on occasions. And yet I have also experienced some profoundly positive moments in Synods. There have been moments when courageous people naming the truth have helped the church to face its responsibilities. There have been moments when Synods have caught new visions and committed themselves to step out in faith. There have been moments of forgiveness and grace that have been reconciling and healing and touched people deeply.

A great deal depends on the attitudes with which one comes to Synod, on the perspective one adopts, on one's frame of mind and sense of expectation and anticipation.

The word itself comes from two Greek terms. The first is the prefix syn, which means together: so synthesis is bringing together ideas; synoptics is seeing or viewing things together, synonym is a word that goes together with another word because it has a similar meaning. So 'syn' meaning together. And the second term is hodos, meaning a road or a route or a way. So, in conjunction, those two terms mean that synod is to do with being on the road together, journeying together on the way, finding a way together, discerning together a way forward.

Remembering that underlying meaning casts Synod in a bit of a different light, and points to possibilities of different ways of going about being on the road together or finding a way together.

The way we're most familiar with is a kind of parliamentary model with rules for operating loosely modelled on what happens in our Westminster-based parliaments. We have standing orders that mean things are done in a certain order, and in a particular way. Motions are moved, seconded and debated. Laws are made in the form of Canons following a special procedure. Sometimes the Synod resolves itself into a committee that has different rules again. And, by and large, this way of working serves us pretty well.

Decisions get made reasonably efficiently and once you learn the rules and get used to how it all works you can follow proceedings and understand what's going on.

But there are some downsides to this traditional way of doing things. Some people become skilled in the procedures and can be tempted to use the procedures to silence or outmanoeuvre others. Some are slower to get on top of the rules, or less experienced, and can be reluctant to enter the fray in case they make a mistake.

The parliamentary approach can also feel very adversarial with people being required to speak in favour of a motion or against it, when at times what they want to do is contribute something they think is important without necessarily having come to a final position on the motion. The adversarial character of debate can get in the way of coming to a common mind, coming together. Winning and losing can seem more important than discerning a way forward.

Some people can feel a bit daunted at the prospect of getting to their feet and putting into words something they feel deeply about, with four to five hundred people looking on. Public speaking isn't everyone's cup of tea.

On the other hand some are very comfortable and practised at speaking in Synod and are very generous in sharing their views on virtually every topic discussed, if you know what I mean. So sometimes fewer than the full range of voices are heard.

Another aspect of our traditional way of working with motions and Canons is that a debate at Synod is launched by a clear, well thought through, proposal of some kind, which people are invited either to agree with or to oppose. But what about topics that seem to be important but are complex or unclear or not sufficiently understood yet, so that there is no concrete, specific, thought out proposal to consider? It can be tricky to deal with those complex things in motions or canons.

So while our traditional way of doing Synod usually works pretty well, it's not without its shortcomings and limitations.

Over the last few years, following the annual Synod, members have been invited to provide feedback on the experience. They've been asked to reflect on whether they felt engaged in the Synod and with the topics discussed. Last year people said, more or less, yes, they did feel engaged. But it was commented that we finished at lunchtime on the Sunday and we had more time available which could have been used constructively. Some observations concerned the way we deal with reports and whether that could be more engaging. And a question was raised about whether we use all the gifts and abilities that Synod members bring to the best advantage.

Diocesan Council considered all the feedback and comments and looked at options to ensure Synod provided ways for all members to be asked for and given opportunities to contribute their views; and ways in which Synod could tap into the vast array of knowledge, expertise, gifts and experience present in the members of Synod to further God's mission in this Diocese and beyond.

As a result of this feedback Diocesan Council is recommending that a significant part of our time during this session of Synod be given to coming together in a different way, to an experiment. And the framework for the proposed experiment is what's known as open space dialogue.

You've already received pre-reading material about Open Space so you have some idea of the principles and intention of it, but let me underline some of the ideas that strike me as key.

We are all being invited into a space for conversation that is open. There is some structure and some process, and we will be guided through it by our two expert facilitators Michael Wood and Brendan McKeague, but openness is the key. You are invited to identify topics that you are passionate about and to meet with others who share that passion to see if conversation leads to a way forward together.

It's open because you can raise any topic you wish and you can move from one topic to another if you wish during the Open Space sessions. How this happens Michael and Brendan will explain, but the essence is you choose what would like to invest yourself in.

And investing yourself is another key principle of Open Space. The point of the conversations tomorrow is not to generate motions for Synod. That's not completely ruled out. It could happen, but it's not the goal. The goal is that you speak with others about a shared passion and actively claim your own God-given gifts and capacity to do something about it. Open Space is intended to be an empowering experience. You can act, together with others, to make a difference. Open Space invites each one of us to claim our own agency, to be proactive, to take responsibility in collaboration with others to make a difference in relation to something we're passionate about.

It's true that we are all operating within frameworks of various sorts. There are church rules and Canons and Diocesan Council and commissions and all that. But there is still enormous space for Synod members in collaboration with others to take action together without needing permission from anyone else or decisions of any formal body. True, some actions will need formal decisions but many more do not. You are free agents in many respects to discern God's call and respond to it. So I hope our Open Space experiment empowers you to claim your own agency, to take the initiative, to take responsibility and to make a difference.

I think probably the shortest Open Space experience in history is recorded in the gospels. It's actually there in all four gospels. Remember when the apostles came to Jesus worried about the crowds who had been with them all day but had nothing to eat? How could they possibly be fed? Jesus asked the apostles, 'Why are you asking me? You give them something. What do you have? What's to hand? Use that.' And Jesus gave thanks to God for five loaves and two fish, the apostles divided what they had among the people, everyone ate and had enough and they collected 12 baskets of left overs (Mark 6.30-44 and parallels). Amazing. Take responsibility. Use what you have to hand. Act together with those who share your concern. You'll be amazed at the results.

So the goal is not to produce motions for Synod, or recommendations for the Archbishop or Diocesan Council. The goal is not to dream up a long list of things for someone else to do. The main thing is about you, and collaborators who share your concern, deciding to take steps together.

It's Open Space because no one knows exactly what conversations will emerge. It's open because you can participate in as many conversations as you choose. It's open because no one knows what the outcomes of any conversation will be. It's open because conversations don't end with the end of the time allocated for the process on Saturday. Conversations will continue throughout the rest of the Synod, through the breaks, while you're travelling to and from Synod and even after Synod is over.

This ongoing process of dialogue and shared exploration at many different levels is close to the heart of Anglicanism. Anglicans are deeply devoted to the scriptures because we believe that, through many and various ways, God has given them to us and they reveal God to us. But the scriptures need to be approached with care and understood properly. We believe that God has also created human beings with the capacity to reason. Richard Hooker, probably the greatest Anglican theologian of all time, said that reason is not simply the ability to draw logical conclusions. It's much more than that. It's the God-given capacity to discern, to apprehend divine wisdom in the scriptures, in creation and in society. And as we engage in deep dialogue it's important to remember that we belong to a church in which things can change; things can happen for the first time. We need only to think of the remarriage of divorced people in church, the admission of children to Holy Communion, prayer book revision, the ordination of women and so on. But as Richard Hooker reminds us just because change is possible doesn't mean change is desirable. In fact we should be slow to change what's in our heritage and in antiquity and do so only when there is a very good public reason.

So the architect of Anglican ecclesiology, Richard Hooker, saw clearly this dynamic of dialogue at the heart of Anglicanism. Human reason moved, shaped and guided by the Holy Spirit can apprehend the divine wisdom that permeates all things. But, because of human blindness, sin and frailty, humans still need the revelation of God in Christ that comes through the scriptures. And this relationship is very nuanced because the scriptures themselves need to be approached carefully and, what Hooker called, 'collected' by human reason. And all of this happens in the context of, in dialogue with and with profound respect for Christian antiquity and heritage.

We will begin our experiment with Open Space dialogue tomorrow with a very broad, open question. It doesn't close off any possibilities or fence off any no-go areas. 'What is God calling us to be and to do, at this time?' And each of us can begin to tease that out in the light of what concerns us at the moment in our church and society.

It might be the vitality and health of our faith communities. In our recent history the church has been rocked, shocked. We are all concerned about church decline. It's been going on for a long time, more than a century, but in recent decades it has accelerated and we know many of our small faith communities are struggling to survive. We haven't helped ourselves at all by our own shocking failures revealed in abuse scandals.

You might be passionate about the vital leaders we need to lead us into the future – lay leaders and clergy. What sort of leaders do we need? Where will we find them? Can we interest the intelligent, capable, energetic young people in our schools in the possibility of lives of service, ministry and even ordination?

Your concern might be that the church seems to be completely polarised and stuck on issues around gender and human sexuality. It seems almost impossible to have a conversation without things boiling over. Can we find a way forward or will these issues see the church fracture and split?

Or your concerns might be more with the world around us rather than internal issues.

The shifting place of the church in the wider community might worry you. It seems many want to marginalise the church, push it to the edge, and silence its voice. How come what we have to say doesn't sound like good news to many in our society these days?

Can Australians find ways to reconcile with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, heal the wounds of the past and address the ongoing legacy of poorer outcomes in education, incarceration, health and well-being?

In a world of terrorism and conflict, how can people of all faiths, and none, live together in harmony and peace? And what role might the church have to play in that?

Environmental issues and climate change are a top priority for many.

In the face of all these big questions, and many more besides, 'What is God calling us to be and to do, at this time?

Every Synod, but especially this one, is about 'Can we find ways forward together?'

The emphasis on 'together' is crucial. It affirms the nature of the church as the body of Christ and the unity of the church as something fundamental. As St Paul reminded the church in Corinth (1 Cor 12), no one part of the church can say to another, 'We don't need you.' And as he reminded the church in Rome (Romans 12) we who are many are one body in Christ. Individually we are members of one another. God gives diversity and variety so that the one body can be full, complete, healthy and vital.

This is a fundamental attitude we're invited to adopt as we enter into Open Space dialogue. Our minds and hearts need to embrace the expectation that each other person here bears gifts from God for building up the body of Christ to serve God's mission in the world. We should look expectantly for those gifts in each other and see each other as gifts to the body.

The emphasis on 'a way' reminds us, as does the epistle to the Ephesians (2.19), that we are citizens of a heavenly kingdom trying to spread the civilisation of heaven on earth. This requires us to order our own life together faithfully and to respond faithfully to the challenges thrown up by our day. Thinking those questions through sometimes will be difficult, even painful. But the way is something we discern together by speaking the truth in love.

At root, Synod is not an exercise in power or politics. At a fundamental level it is a spiritual endeavour in which we open ourselves to God and seek to discern together God's will for us.

What is God calling us to be and to do, at this time?

“That this Synod:

1. affirms with thanksgiving the Anglican Tradition, its historic formularies, Anglican Method in theology, and the rich and dynamic diversity of expression in Anglican prayer, theology, and ethical living.
2. notes with profound concern the serious strains within the Anglican Communion.
3. re-commits this diocese to living in communion with all provinces of the Anglican Communion, respecting their autonomy, boundaries and cultural contexts, affirms the Instruments of Communion, including the Archbishop of Canterbury, and encourages closer relationships, especially with provinces in the Global South in their struggles for peace, justice and ecological sustainability.

4. calls on all Anglicans worldwide to recommit themselves to dialogue, including ‘indaba’ and other collaborative processes, in order to contribute faithfully and constructively to the ‘continually contested conversation’ which is historic Anglicanism.
5. encourages all Diocesan members to engage more deeply with the variety of Anglican identities, and commends the Being Anglican short course, the Praying in Anglican Ways 360 course, Anglican Foundations, and other resources available through St Francis College.
6. requests Diocesan Council to work with the MEC and PMC in exploration of further means to enable a deeper understanding and commitment to Anglican unity and diversity within the Diocese.
7. requests the Archbishop and regional bishops to develop means by which all members of the Diocese can be involved in prayer for, learning about, and contributing to, the work of the Lambeth Conference in 2020.
8. requests the Archbishop to communicate this resolution to the Archbishop of Canterbury, and to the Primate and all bishops in the Anglican Church of Australia.”

Carried

Budget 2020

The General Manager moved; Mr David Sneesby seconded:

“That this Synod approves the Budget for the year ending 31 December 2020 as detailed in the attached summary and in so doing notes that:

- this Budget has been prepared eight months in advance of the year of operation;
- the Budget will need revision and approval by Diocesan Council in the light of any unforeseen external economic factors and more up-to-date estimates of revenue and costs which may emerge in the intervening period; and

- whilst Synod acknowledges that the budget may require a refresh in light of changed circumstances, the intent of operational initiatives included in the budget as submitted will be honoured where possible.”

Carried

Nicene Creed

The Rev'd Dr Cathy Laufer moved, the Rev'd Canon Richard Tutin seconded:

“That this Synod set up a committee comprising the Rev'd Dr Cathy Laufer, Canon Dr Jim McPherson and Canon Richard Tutin, with power to co-opt, to investigate the possible cessation of saying the filioque clause in the Nicene Creed in worship in the Diocese, to liaise with the General Synod Ecumenical Relations Committee on this matter, and to report back to Synod 2020.”

Carried

Professional Standards Canon Amendment Canon

The Very Rev'd Dr Peter Catt moved, the Right Rev'd Jeremy Greaves seconded:

“This Synod requests that the Legal Committee brings to the next session of Synod a Canon to amend the Professional Standards Canon in such a way that will ensure that amendments to Faithfulness in Service are adopted by this Synod.”

Carried

Conversion Therapy

The Right Rev'd Jeremy Greaves moved, the Rev'd Dr Ann Solari seconded:

“That this Synod:

1. acknowledges that every person is made in the image of God;
2. acknowledges the pain and damage conversion therapy and sexual and gender orientation change efforts have caused in people's lives;
3. will not advocate the practice of conversion therapy or propagate conversion/reparative ideology;
4. calls on the Australian government to protect youth and families by banning conversion therapy and asking for stricter regulations for counsellors in this area.”

Carried

Synod was adjourned at 9.30pm.

SUNDAY 30 JUNE 2019
Present: Clergy 120, Lay 210

Thanks to the Rev'd John Milburn

The Rev'd Michael Uptin moved, the Rev'd Nicholas Whereat seconded:

“That this Synod:

- a. records its thanks to the Rev'd John Milburn for his service to the Diocese as Diocesan Director of Ordinands;
- b. notes that during his 13 years as an Examining Chaplain and his 10 years as Director of Ordinands, numerous helpful changes have been made to both the process of selecting and forming priests and deacons, and to the recognition of the crucial ministry of the laity in our joint mission;
- c. prays that John might continue to serve God and contribute to the life of our Diocese in his retirement.”

Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse

Mr Julian Glasscock moved, Ms Pamela Rae seconded:

“That this Synod:

1. humbly thanks survivors of sexual abuse in institutions of this Diocese who made submissions to the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to child Sexual Abuse for their courage and perseverance in telling the truth of their experiences, and that the Diocese communicate this message to survivors in an appropriate way;
2. acknowledges the toll these contributions have taken on survivors, their families and loved ones;
3. reiterates its sincere apology to those harmed by sexual abuse in our institutions and by our inadequate and at times unhelpful responses when abuse was reported and justice and/or redress was sought;
4. expresses the hope that eventually survivors may come to trust our sincerity and that we can be reconciled with them;
5. commits itself to carefully discern the ongoing lessons that the Final Report of the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse offers, so that we can respond helpfully and lovingly to all those harmed by sexual abuse and strive to be a beacon of hope and strength to those who carry this unfair and undeserved burden.
6. records its thanks to the Archbishop for his diligent efforts with regard to the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse;
7. expresses its gratitude for his leadership of our Diocese in responding to the Royal Commission and in putting protocols and procedures in place which help to safeguard children now and in the future;
8. records its thanks to those clergy and lay persons within the Diocese who have supported survivors over the years and in particular during the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse and who have championed reform within the Diocese;
9. acknowledges the journey ahead and that it is the Mission of the Church to ensure that the lessons learnt from the past be applied to ensure ongoing best practice prevention, detection, reporting and response to child sexual abuse within the Church.

This includes ensuring that this mission is paramount in the way in which the Diocese responds to survivors and their claims for redress or compensation.”

Marriage, Same-Sex Marriage and the Anglican Church of Australia

The Rev'd Lynda Johnson moved, the Right Rev'd John Roundhill seconded:

“That this Synod

- a) notes that the General Synod Doctrine Commission, in response to General Synod resolution 48/17, has published the book Marriage, Same-Sex Marriage and the Anglican Church of Australia.
- b) notes that this book is available for free download from the website of Broughton Publishing at the following link:
<https://www.broughtonpublishing.com.au/marriagedoctrineessays/>
- c) encourages all members of the church to engage closely with the essays in this book, which seek to inform and facilitate a respectful conversation in our church about marriage, same-sex marriage and the blessings of same-sex unions.
- d) notes and commends to Synod that the PMC and others are curating resources to assist Diocesan deliberations on these issues; and
- e) encourages Anglicans to listen to the voices of LGBTI people in these matters.”

*CarriedRecommitting to Jesus Christ

The Rev'd Peter Palmer moved, the Rev'd Michael Uptin seconded:

“That this Synod recommit ourselves to Jesus Christ as our Lord and Saviour.”

*CarriedQuestion from the Rev'd Jan Crombie

What practical steps has the Archbishop -in-Council taken to remind Synod of its commitment to equal representation on the basis of gender in elections and appointments in the Diocese, particularly noting the election process for General Synod members?

Answer:

The Synod resolution of 2016 encouraged the Synod in all elections to nominate representative numbers of women and men to all positions, having regard to gender as one of a number of qualifications for election.

The resolution is part of the Synod record and does not call on Archbishop-in-Council to take any specific action.

Announcement of Election Results

The President announced the Election Results.

Thanks of Synod

By leave of Synod, the Right Rev'd Jeremy Greaves moved; the Right Rev'd John Roundhill seconded:

“That this Synod acknowledges with thanks the contribution of Mr Alan Gallimore to the Synod over the 23 years that he has been a Synod representative.”

*Carried with acclamationThanks of Synod

By leave of Synod, the Right Rev'd Jeremy Greaves moved; the Right Rev'd Cameron Venables seconded:

“That the thanks of Synod be accorded to –

- His Grace the Archbishop as President of Synod and for his charge which is available in printed and electronic forms
- the Chair of Committees,

- the Deputy Chair of Committees,
- Mr Dan O'Connor for sitting in for the Chancellor & Deputy Chancellor
- the Chaplain to Synod,
- the Clerical and Lay Secretaries of Synod,
- the Minutes Committee,
- the Committee of Elections and Qualifications,
- the Timekeeper,
- the Deputy Timekeeper,
- the General Manager,
- those assisting, particularly with the secretarial work
- those who facilitated the Open Space processes esp. Brendan McKeague & his team for their care and attention to the conduct of Synod and the preparation thereof.

Carried with acclamation

Thanks of Synod

By leave of Synod, the Right Rev'd Jeremy Greaves moved; the Right Rev'd Cameron Venables seconded:

“That the thanks of Synod be accorded to –

- the Headmaster Dr Alan Campbell, and staff of the Anglican Church Grammar School, in particular Ms Diane Cross, Mr Brian Bowen and the Rev'd Brian Gadd for the use of facilities of the School;
- Scholarest for their nourishing catering at the school;
- the audio-visual staff and student volunteers especially those involved in the efficient movement of chairs in Morris Hall;
- the many volunteers who provided informative displays during the Synod;
- all of the Diocesan staff who have made themselves available during Synod and for all their work in the preparations for Synod; and
- the Dean and Cathedral personnel for the inspiring Service on Friday evening.

Carried with acclamation

Adjournment

The President adjourned the Synod at 3.20pm.

*J Phillip Brisbane

PARTICIPATION BY PERSONS OF CONCERN IN PARISHES CANON

A Canon to facilitate the implementation of the standards for safe ministry with a Person of Concern prescribed under the Safe Ministry to Children Canon 2017 of General Synod.

Short Title

1. This Canon may be cited as the "Participation by Persons of Concern in Parishes Canon".

Interpretation

2. In this Canon unless the context otherwise requires:
  - (1) "Safe Ministry Canon" means the Safe Ministry to Children Canon 2017 of General Synod and any amendments to that Canon adopted by this Diocese from time to time;
  - (2) "Persons of Concern Policy" means the policy from time to time identified in the Second Schedule to the Safe Ministry Canon;
  - (3) "Churchwarden" has the meaning as in the Parishes Regulation Canon, and includes "Cathedral Warden" as in the Cathedral Congregation Canon.
  - (4) Words and expressions defined in the Persons of Concern Policy and used in this Canon have the same meaning given to them in the Persons of Concern Policy.
  - (5) "Direction" means a direction made under the Persons of Concern Policy by the Archbishop (or other person authorised by the Persons of Concern Policy in consultation with the Archbishop) that a Person of Concern not participate in the life of the parish, and may include a prohibition from entering some or all of the property used by, or for the operation of, the Parish (the Specified Property).
  - (6) "Parish" includes the "Cathedral" as in the Cathedral Canon.

Authority to Exclude Persons of Concern

3. In any application of the Persons of Concern Policy which results in a Direction:
  - (1) The Archbishop or, at the Archbishop's election, either the Minister or Churchwardens of the Parish may issue a written notice to the Person of Concern containing the Direction.
  - (2) A Direction will be taken as given to a Person of Concern when the written notice is:
    - a. delivered in person;
    - b. left at the person's last known residential address;
    - c. sent by pre-paid post to the person's last known postal address;

- d. emailed to the person's last known email address; or
  - e. sent by text message to the person's last known mobile phone number.
4. Where a Direction is given to a Person of Concern, the Direction:
- (1) has the effect of prohibiting the Person of Concern from entering the Specified Property;
  - (2) will remain in force indefinitely unless and until it is revoked.
5. If a Person of Concern enters the Specified Property whilst a Direction remains in force, the Person of Concern will be deemed to be a trespasser.

Archbishop's Authority to Exclude Persons of Concern

6. Despite the terms of the Persons of Concern Policy, if at any time the Archbishop decides that a Direction should be given in the interests of protecting people in a Parish from the risk of harm from sexual abuse by a Person of Concern, the Archbishop may give a Direction without complying with the Process of Assessment or any other requirement under the Persons of Concern Policy.

I certify that this copy of the Canon is in accordance with that passed by the Committee. }

INSURANCE CANON REPEAL CANON 2019

A Canon to repeal the Insurance Canon.

The Archbishop, Clergy and Laity of the Diocese of Brisbane assembled in Synod prescribe –

Short Title

1. This Canon may be cited as the "Insurance Canon Repeal Canon 2019".

Repeal

2. The Insurance Canon 1997 is repealed with effect from the date determined under section 3.
3. The repeal in section 2 will take effect on a date declared by Diocesan Council.
4. Regulation I - Sickness and Accident and Maternity Leave Compensation Scheme (Regulation I) made by the Archbishop-in-Council under the Insurance Canon is repealed with effect from the date that the repeal of the Insurance Canon takes effect.

Transitional

5.
  - (1) Expressions defined in the Insurance Canon or in Regulation I - Sickness and Accident and Maternity Leave Compensation Scheme have the same meaning when used in this section.
  - (2) Nothing in this Canon affects the validity of any action taken in reliance on the Insurance Canon or Regulation I before their repeal.
  - (3) Any direction, obligation or requirement given, made or created under the Insurance Canon in respect of a Responsible Person may be preserved or continued by regulation made by Archbishop-in-Council under the Diocesan Governance Canon.
  - (4) The Fund may be continued by regulation made by Archbishop-in-Council under the Diocesan Governance Canon.
  - (5) The Sickness and Accident and Maternity Leave Compensation Scheme may be continued by regulation made by Archbishop-in-Council under the Diocesan Governance Canon and in such case:
    - (a) the rights, benefits and obligations of Enrolled Members and Remunerating Bodies that have been created under Regulation I will be preserved and continue unaffected in the continued scheme despite the repeal of Regulation I; and
    - (b) the exercise of any powers and any decisions or determinations made by the Board of Management under Regulation I remain in full force and effect and will apply to any continuation of the Sickness and Accident and Maternity Leave Compensation Scheme, unless, in each case, otherwise affected by a regulation made by Archbishop-in-Council under the Diocesan Governance Canon.

Insurance Canon Repeal Canon 2019

I certify that this copy of the Canon is in accordance with that passed by the Committee. }
