1987 ADA VOTING RECORD

EVERY REASON FOR OPTIMISM

For the fortieth consecutive year Americans for Democratic Action, Inc. presents its 1987 ADA Voting Record. Inside you will find our comprehensive report detailing how each member voted on the crucial issues facing our nation, during the 1st session of the 100th Congress.

Overwhelming early victories brought high expectations. Following six arduous and defensive years dealing with the Reagan administration and its Republican-led Senate, liberals looked forward to 1987, particularly when taking into account the new Democratic majority in the Senate. The assault against the poor, working people, the elderly, minorities, and the environment, it was hoped, would end with an emboldened Democratic Congress, along with a lame duck President, weakened by the Iran-Contra scandal. It seemed as if it would be up to the Congress to identify the domestic programs that needed focus. With Ollie North fired, some even said the President no longer had a foreign policy.

Dramatic early veto overrides on Clean Water and Highway/Mass Transit seemed to reinforce the high expectations. In the end there were more roll call losses by Reagan in 1987 than at any other time in his presidency—by any president in the past 35 years.

What started with a bang, however, soon turned into petty partisan battles. Irangate hearings stalled the progress made early in the session. On some issues the Democrats could go it alone, but they soon found that the Republican minority was a feisty group that could prevent cloture and throw endless obstacles in the way of positive legislation, particularly in the area of the budget. The dynamics of Congress vs. the President, Democrats vs. Republicans, with everyone pointing their finger at everyone else finally came to a boiling point during the confirmation process surrounding Reagan's choice to fill retiring Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell's seat.

The defeat of Robert Bork restored our faith in the Senate hearing process, and, also, made great theater. While the fruits of victory over the past seven years had more often than not ripened in a defensive posture, none was ever sweeter than the dramatically decisive rejection by the Senate of Robert Bork. The highest of priorities, presidential prestige being put on the line, and a long sought-after dream of the fanatical right could not overtake the coalition of conscience that banded together to prevent this conservative ideologue from turning back decades of civil, women's and labor rights.

Bork was not the only bright spot in an otherwise petulant session:

- Catastrophic Health Insurance, which will provide a sustenance of care through the Medicare program, passed.
- Over the strenuous objections of the administration, which itself makes the strongest case for a strong ethics in government law, the Independent Counsel statute was extended for an additional 5 years.
- Trade Reform* legislation was finally brought to center stage with strong language attempting to combat foreign countries' unfair trade practices.
- Though it took a Black Monday and the announcement of an upcoming Summit - the President finally agreed to negotiate and talk compromise with Congress on a budget deficit-reduction plan, and an ABM Treaty interpretation.
- Comprehensive and emergency relief for our nation's homeless passed.
- Japanese-Americans* who were interned during World War II were finally voted long-overdue reparations.

Time after time, vote after vote, the Congress (many times including more than half the Senate Republicans) rejected the administration's position on crucial issues such as the Fairness Doctrine [though vetoed late in the session], SALT II, and nuclear testing.

While there were some setbacks, the stage seems set for even greater gains in 1988. Additional

Every Reason (Continued from P. 1)

Contra aid and SDI funding is threatened. The 2nd Session of the 100th Congress could turn from merely being rhetorical to truly historical if it finally addresses pay equity, family and medical leave, welfare reform, fair housing, civil rights restoration, supports the INF Treaty, and urges greater, more effective U.S. diplomatic efforts with respect to the Middle East and South Africa.

The Liberal Quotient is at its highest level in over 20 years! The reason for this increased optimism comes by simply looking at the numbers. The overall House ADA rating average rose 5% from 1986, while the Senate average increased over 8.5% from a year ago.

The greatest fluctuation came in the South where the newly elected freshmen Democrats scored an average of 71%, compared to the Republican incumbents they defeated in 1986, who had averaged only 9%.

To achieve greater success requires so very little. For example:

- The SDI funding vote, even with a Democratic majority ended in a tie being broken by the Vice President.
- The anti-abortion rights amendment passed by only a 10 vote margin in the House.
- A few more progressive votes in the Senate could make all the difference on such 1987 issues as outlawing plastic handguns, not producing chemical weapons, and increasing housing for the elderly and low-income Americans.

LIBERAL QUOTIENT BOX SCORE

HOUSE	Average	51%	SENATE	Average	53%
	Democrats	77%		Democrats	76%
	Republicans	15%		Republicans	25%
	Dem. Fresh.	80%		Dem. Fresh.	81%
	Rep. Fresh.	13%		Rep. Fresh.	8%

ABOUT ADA, INC.

Americans for Democratic Action, Inc. is the oldest and most influential liberal political action group in the country. Since our founding in 1947, ADA has played a pivotal role in setting forth a progressive, economically just and socially conscious agenda for all Americans. This is the 40th consecutive year the liberal quotient voting record of Congress has been published. The ADA rating has always served as a touchstone of American political thought and direction, differentiating liberal-conservative trends among the individual members of Congress.

In addition to this Voting Record ADA publishes other reference materials, sponsors seminars, and most importantly seeks to inform and motivate a more politically involved constituency. Through our tax-exempt Education Fund we seek to educate the public on the crucial issues of the day. We urge you to join us in achieving our goals.
