

NEW SCRIBNER BUILDING

Now in Course of Construction on Fifth Ave., Near 48th Street.

Plans for the new Scribner Fifth Avenue building, at 597 and 599 Fifth Avenue, just north of Forty-eighth Street, with a frontage of 53 feet 5 inches, were filed last week and the excavation about completed. The building will be large and higher than the firm's present building, but in general character similar to it. The elevation shows a ten-story building of granite, limestone and ornamental ironwork, and the architect, Ernest Flagg, who recently completed the Singer Building, has designed a facade that will compare favorably, artistically, with anything on the avenue.

The New York Times

Published: June 9, 1912

Copyright © The New York Times