PAST WINNERS

2017

ASCOT PARK HOTEL SOUTHERN STEEL

Ascot Park Hotel Southern Steel secured the inaugural ANZ Premiership title with a dominant 69-53 win over Te Wānanga o Raukawa Pulse in Invercargill. Unstoppable during 2017, the Steel were a class above all-comers, overcoming adversity to clinch an impressive 16th successive win in the season's showcase Grand Final.

ASCOT PARK HOTEL SOUTHERN STEEL

Ascot Park Hotel Southern Steel became back-to-back champions after coming from behind in a fairytale ANZ Premiership Grand Final. The Steel beat Te Wānanga o Raukawa Pulse 54-53 at Fly Palmy Arena in Palmerston North and did it in a dramatic fashion, netting the last seven goals of the game to spoil the hosts' party after the Pulse looked in control for much of the game.

TE WANANGA O RAUKAWA PULSE

Te Wānanga o Raukawa Pulse finally etched their name in New Zealand netball history as ANZ Premiership champions. Putting the nightmare of the 2018 Grand Final behind them, the Pulse held off a valiant effort from the Northern Stars to take out the match 52-48 in front of a rapturous home crowd in Porirua.

TE WANANGA O RAUKAWA PULSE

Defending champions the Te Wānanga o Raukawa Pulse put on a punishing display to end an unprecedented season with a 43-31 Grand Final victory over The Good Oil Tactix. Although they led by 10 at halftime, the experienced Pulse had to pull out all the stops in the final quarter to keep out a fast-closing Tactix.

NORTHERN MYSTICS

Creating a slice of history, the Northern Mystics won the ANZ Premiership for the first time when pipping the Mainland Tactix 61-59 in a gripping Grand Final. In front of a record domestic crowd of 5000, the Minor Premiership-winning Mystics delivered on their most successful season, putting a statement on a 14-year span to pocket their first-ever title, against last year's beaten finalists.

CELEBRATING

YEARS OF NZ ELITE NETBALL LEAGUE

1998 - 2022

CELEBRATING 25 YEARS OF ELITE NETBALL

When the first whistle blows in 25 days to start the 2022 ANZ Premiership, it will also mark the 25th season of elite level netball leagues in New Zealand [1988 – 2022].

The evolution of Netball New Zealand's [NNZ] flagship domestic competition has crossed many frontiers. Each era has produced key outcomes in pushing netball to new horizons, what has gone before setting the platform for the finely-tuned, professional, high octane sporting spectacle that has been shaped by over 500 players.

The first franchise-based competition was set up in 1998 with the introduction of the Coca-Cola Cup which featured ten teams: Western Flyers, Waikato Wildcats, Bay of Plenty Magic, Otago Rebels, Southern Sting, Auckland Diamonds, Northern Force, Cometz [Auckland], Capital Shakers, Canterbury Flames.

The Magic are the only team to have retained their original name over the 25 years in what is now a six-team competition.

The Rebels were the inaugural winners in the first edition of the new era before the Sting went on to dominate the Coca-Cola Cup and its successor the National Bank Cup, becoming the most successful team in modern times after winning seven titles between 1999 and 2007.

Between them the Sting and Southern Steel have been the most successful region over the past 25 years after accruing nine titles while former Silver Ferns captain Adine Wilson is the most decorated player with seven titles [one with the Rebels and six with the Sting].

A new-look semi-professional trans-Tasman competition featuring five teams each from New Zealand and Australia marked the dawn of the semi-professional era for netball in 2008 with the introduction of the ANZ Championship.

In 2017, NNZ returned to a standalone competition for its elite players when the ANZ Premiership was launched, the six teams continuing to grow and build their product while also developing their own unique culture.

Bridging the divide between the amateur and semi-professional eras after playing in the National Bank Cup and the ANZ Championship leagues between 2000 and 2015, shooting great Irene van Dyk left an indelible mark during her time with the Capital Shakers, Magic and Pulse. She looks back with great fondness at her involvement while marvelling at how far netball has come.

"I wouldn't change any of it for the world," she said. "It has taught me everything I know and it has given me this place in New Zealand that I call home and people call me home, and that is amazing.

"If you look at it holistically, every part of the game has grown, the athletes, the wider management and expertise, the media attention, the crowd involvement, sponsorship, it's just gone to another level in the last 10 years. Even in the last two years, it has grown immensely.

"When I started you had to do so much of your fitness on your own, now they have nutritionists, they have fitness trainers, strength and conditioning trainers, mental health experts, the shift has just been moving with the times, I suppose.

"One thing that stands out for me from the early 2000s to now is that back in the early days, coaches had their starting sevens and that was it. The only time the other five would have an opportunity to play was if something desperate went wrong or when you were miles ahead.

"Whereas now, it feels everyone in the team is under pressure and they're building strength throughout the whole 10."

As the longest serving partner of netball over many years, ANZ has been a key contributor to the growth and success of the sport in New Zealand.
