- (2) No question may be raised in any court as to whether or not the rules referred to in clause (1) have been observed.

Part-8

Federal Legislature

83. Federal Legislature: There shall be a Federal Legislature consisting of two Houses to be known as the House of Representatives and the National Assembly, which shall be called as the Federal Parliament.

84. Composition of House of Representatives: (1) The House of Representatives shall consist of a total of two hundred and seventy five members, as follows :-

(a) One hundred and sixty-five members to be elected through the first past the post electoral system, with one being elected from each of one hundred and sixty-five election constituencies delimited in Nepal ► on the basis of population and geographical convenience and specificity;

(b) One hundred and ten members to be elected through the proportional electoral system where voters vote for political parties, with the whole country being considered as a single election constituency.

(2) The federal law shall provide that in filing candidacy by political parties for the election to the House of Representatives under the proportional electoral system, representation shall be ensured on the basis of a closed list also from women, Dalit, indigenous nationalities (Aadibasi Janajati) Khas Arya, Madhesi, Tharu, Muslims and backward regions, on the basis of population. In so filing candidacy, regard shall also be had to geography and regional balance.

Explanation: For the purposes of this clause, "Khas Arya" means Kshetri, Brahmin, Thakuri, Sanyasi (Dashnami) communities.

(3) In filing candidacy pursuant to clause (2), political parties shall provide for representation of the persons with disabilities as well.

(4) Election to the House of Representatives referred to in clause (1) shall be held through secret ballots in accordance with law.

(5) Each citizen of Nepal who has completed the age of eighteen years shall have the right to vote in any one election constituency as provided for in the federal law.

(6) A person who is qualified pursuant to Article 87 and entitled to vote in an election to the members of the House of Representatives may, subject to the federal law, be a candidate in any election constituency.

Provided that a person shall not be a candidate in more than one election constituencies at the same time.

(7) In case the seat of any member of the House of Representatives falls vacant while its term still remains for more than six months, the vacancy shall be fulfilled in the same manner of electoral system as in which such seat was fulfilled.

(8) Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Part, at least one third of the total number of members elected from each political party representing in the Federal Parliament shall be women. In case women are not so elected as to constitute one third of the elected members of any political party pursuant to sub-clause (a) of clause (1) and sub-clause (a) of clause (2) of Article 86, such political party must, in electing members under sub-clause (b) of clause (1), so elect that women members constitute at least one third of the total number of members elected to the Federal Parliament from that party.

(9) Election to the House of Representatives and other matters pertaining thereto shall be as provided for in the federal law.

85. Term of House of Representatives: (1) Unless dissolved earlier in accordance with this Constitution, the term of the House of Representatives shall be five years.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1), the term of the House of Representatives may be extended by a Federal Act for a period not exceeding one year in cases where a proclamation or order of a state of emergency is in effect.

(3) The term of the House of Representatives extended pursuant to clause (2) shall ipso facto expire upon the expiry of six months from the date of revocation of the proclamation or order of the state of emergency.

86. Composition of National Assembly and Term of Office of its Members: (1) The National Assembly shall be a permanent House.

(2) The National Assembly shall consist of fifty-nine members as follows: -

- (a) Fifty six elected members consisting of at least three women, one Dalit and one from persons with disabilities or minorities, from each Province by an electoral college consisting of members of the Provincial Assembly, chairpersons and vice-chairpersons of the Rural Municipalities, and Mayors and Deputy-Mayors of the Municipalities, with different weightage of vote by members of the Provincial Assembly, chairpersons and vice-chairpersons of the Rural Municipalities, and Mayors and Deputy-Mayors of the Municipalities, as provided for in the federal law,
- (b) Three members consisting of at least one woman nominated by the President on the recommendation of the Government of Nepal.

(3) The term of office of the members of the National Assembly shall be six years. The term of office of one third of the members of the National Assembly shall expire in every two years.

Provided that, for the first time after the commencement of this Constitution, arrangements shall be made by drawing lots to retire one-third of the members on the expiry of two years, another one-third on the expiry of four years, and the final one-third on the expiry of six years.

(4) In computing the term of office of the members of the National Assembly for the first time after the commencement of this Constitution, the term of office of all members shall be deemed to have commenced on the day on which the first session of the National Assembly is held.

(5) Any vacancy of seat in the National Assembly shall be fulfilled for the remainder of the term of office in the same manner of election or nomination as in which the seat of the vacating member was fulfilled.

(6) Other matters relating to election to the members of the National Assembly shall be as provided for in the federal law.

(2) Election pursuant to clause (1) shall be so held that there is one woman out of the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker, and the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker of the House of Representatives shall be representatives from different parties.

Provided that in case there is no representation of more than one party in the House of Representatives or no candidacy is filed by more than one party in spite of representation, nothing shall prevent the members of the same party from being the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker of the House of Representatives.

(3) In case the office of the Speaker or the Deputy Speaker falls vacant, the members of the House of Representatives shall fulfil the vacancy by electing the Speaker or Deputy Speaker from amongst themselves.

(4) The Deputy Speaker shall, in the absence of the Speaker, preside over the House of Representatives.

(5) In case election to the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker is not held or in case both the positions fall vacant, the attending member who is by age the senior-most shall preside over the meeting of the House of Representatives.

(6) The office of the Speaker or Deputy Speaker of the House of Representatives shall fall vacant in any of the following circumstances:-

- (a) In case he or she ceases to be a member of the House of Representatives;

Provided that, in the event of dissolution of the House of Representatives, the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker of the House of Representatives holding their respective offices shall continue in office until the previous day of the filing of nominations for another election to the House of Representatives;

- (b) In case he or she tenders resignation in writing;
- (c) In case a resolution is adopted by a majority of two-thirds of the total number of the then members of the House of Representatives that his or her conduct is not compatible with his or her office.

(7) The Deputy Speaker shall preside over a meeting at which deliberations are to be held on a resolution that the conduct of the Speaker of the House of Representatives is not compatible with his or her office. The Speaker of the House of Representatives may take part and vote in the deliberations on such resolution.

92. Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson of National Assembly: (1) The members of the National Assembly shall, within fifteen days of the date of holding of its first meeting, elect the Chairperson and the Vice-Chairperson of the National Assembly from amongst themselves.

(2) Election pursuant to clause (1) shall be so held that there is one woman out of the Chairperson and the Vice-Chairperson of the National Assembly.

(3) In case the office of the Chairperson or Vice-Chairperson of the National Assembly falls vacant, the members of the National Assembly shall fulfil the vacancy by electing its Chairperson or Vice-Chairperson from amongst themselves.

(4) The Vice-Chairperson of the National Assembly shall, in the absence of its Chairperson, preside over the National Assembly.

(5) In case the election to the Chairperson and the Vice-Chairperson of the National Assembly is not held or in case both the positions fall vacant, the member who is by age the senior-most out of the attending members shall preside over the meeting of the National Assembly.

(6) The office of the Chairperson or Vice-Chairperson of the National Assembly shall fall vacant in any of the following circumstances:-

- (a) In case he or she ceases to be a member of the National Assembly;

- (b) In case he or she tenders resignation in writing;
- (c) In case a resolution is adopted by a majority of two-thirds of the total number of the then members of the National Assembly that his or her conduct is not compatible with the office.

(7) The Vice-Chairperson of the National Assembly shall preside over a meeting at which deliberations are to be held on a resolution that the conduct of the Chairperson of the National Assembly is not compatible with his or her office. The Chairperson of the National Assembly may take part and vote in the deliberations on such resolution.

93. Summoning and Prorogation of Session: (1) The President shall summon a session of the Federal Parliament within thirty days of the declaration of final results of the election to the House of Representatives. Thereafter, the President shall, from time to time, summon sessions of both or either of the Houses in accordance with this Constitution.

Provided that the interval between the two consecutive sessions shall not exceed six months.

(2) The President may prorogue the sessions of both or either of the Houses of the Federal Parliament.

(3) In case, during the prorogation or recess of the session of the House of Representatives, one-fourth of the total number of its members submit a requisition in writing that it is appropriate to convene a session or meeting, the President shall specify the date and time for such session or meeting. The House of Representatives shall meet or commence its session at the date and time so specified.

94. Quorum: Except as otherwise provided for in this Constitution, no question or motion shall be presented for a decision in a meeting of either House of the Federal Parliament unless one-fourth of the total number of its members are present.

95. Address by President: (1) The President may address either a meeting of any House or a joint sitting of both Houses of the Federal Parliament, and may summon the members for that purpose.

(2) The President shall address the first session after election to the House of Representatives and a joint sitting of both Houses of the Federal Parliament after the commencement of the first session of each year.

96. Deputy Prime Minister, Minister, Minister of State and Assistant Minister entitled to take part in both Houses: The Deputy Prime Minister, Minister, Minister of State and Assistant Minister shall be entitled to attend and take part in the proceedings and deliberations of either House of the Federal Parliament or its committees.

Provided that he or she shall not be entitled to vote in a House or its committee of which he or she is not a member.

97. Constitution of Committees: (1) The House of Representatives and the National Assembly may constitute committees as provided for in the federal law.

(2) In case a resolution is adopted by either House demanding that a joint committee of both the Houses be constituted for the purpose of managing the working procedures between the two Houses of the Federal Parliament, resolving disagreement on any Bill or for any other specified function, a joint committee thereon shall be constituted. The joint committee shall consist of a maximum of twenty-five members in the ratio of five members from the House of Representatives to one member from the National Assembly on the basis of inclusion.

98. Transaction of Business In case of Vacancy of Seat of a Member: Either House of the Federal Parliament shall have the power to transact its business notwithstanding any vacancy in a seat of its member. No proceedings of either House of the Federal Parliament shall become invalid even in case it is subsequently discovered that a person who was not so entitled took part in such proceedings.

99. Voting: Except as otherwise provided for in this Constitution, any motion submitted for decision in either House of the Federal Parliament shall be decided by a majority vote of the members present and voting. The member presiding over the meeting shall not have the right to vote.

Provided that he or she may exercise the casting vote in case of a tie of votes.

100. Provisions relating to Vote of Confidence and Motion of No Confidence: (1) The Prime Minister may, whenever he or she considers necessary or appropriate to show that he or she has confidence from the House of Representatives, table a motion in the House of Representatives for the vote of confidence.

(2) In case the political party, which the Prime Minister represents, is divided or a political party in coalition government withdraws its support, the Prime Minister shall table a motion in the House of Representatives for a vote of confidence within thirty days.

(3) In case a motion tabled pursuant to clauses (1) and (2) is not adopted by a majority of the total number of the then members of the House of Representatives, the Prime Minister shall be relieved of his or her office.

(4) One-fourth of the total number of the then members of the House of Representatives may table a motion of no confidence in writing that the House has no confidence in the Prime Minister.

Provided that a motion of no confidence shall not be tabled until the first two years after the appointment of the Prime Minister and until another one year after the date of failure of the motion of no confidence once tabled.

(5) A motion of no confidence to be tabled pursuant to clause (4) shall also mention the name of a member proposed for the Prime Minister.

(6) In case a motion of no confidence tabled pursuant to clause (4) is adopted by a majority of the total number of the then members of the House of Representatives, the Prime Minister shall be relieved of his or her office.

(7) In case the office of Prime Minister falls vacant because of the adoption of a motion of no confidence pursuant to clause (6), the President shall, pursuant to Article 76, appoint as the Prime Minister the member of the House of Representatives proposed pursuant to clause (5).

101. Impeachment: (1) One fourth of the total number of the then members of the House of Representatives may move a motion of impeachment against the President or Vice-President on the ground of serious violation of this Constitution and law. In case the motion is adopted by at least two thirds majority of the total number of the then members of both Houses of the Federal Parliament, he or she shall be relieved of his or her office.

(2) One fourth of the total number of the then members of the House of Representatives may move a motion of impeachment against the Chief Justice of Nepal or a Justice of Supreme Court, member of the Judicial Council, chief or official of a Constitutional Body on the ground of his or her failure to fulfil his or her duties of the office because of serious violation of this Constitution and law, incompetence or misconduct or failure to discharge the duties of the office honestly or serious violation of the code of conduct. In case the motion is adopted by at least two thirds majority of the total number of the then members of the House of Representatives, the concerned person shall be relieved of his or her office.

(3) There shall be an impeachment recommendation committee in the House of Representatives for the purpose of making recommendation after inquiring into whether or not there exists ground and reason for moving a motion of impeachment against any person referred to in clause (2).

(4) The committee referred to in clause (3) shall consist of eleven members of the House of Representatives.

(5) In case at least three members of the House of Representatives certify and submit that the received information, notice or complaint is admissible on the ground of serious violation of the Constitution or incompetence or misconduct or failure to discharge the duties of office honestly or serious violation of the code of conduct by the person relieving of office on impeachment pursuant to clause (2), and the committee referred to in clause (3) makes recommendation, upon inquiring into such complaint in accordance with federal law, to the House of Representatives for impeachment proceedings, a motion of impeachment may be moved pursuant to clause (2).

(6) After the commencement of impeachment proceedings pursuant to clause (2), the Chief Justice of Nepal or the Justice of Supreme Court, the member of the Judicial Council, the chief or official of the Constitutional Body shall not be allowed to discharge the duties of his or her office pending the settlement of such proceedings.

(7) A person who is charged with impeachment pursuant to clause (1) or (2) shall be provided with a reasonable opportunity to defend himself or herself.

(8) Nothing shall bar the taking of action under the federal law in relation to the offence, if any, committed while in office by the President or Vice-President, the Chief Justice of Nepal or a Justice of Supreme Court of Nepal, the member of the Judicial Council, the chief or official of a Constitutional Body who is relieved of office upon the adoption of a motion of impeachment under this Article.

(9) A person who is relieved of the office on the adoption of a motion of impeachment pursuant to clause (1) or (2) shall not be entitled to obtain any facility accruing from such office and to be appointed or nominated to any public office in the future.

(10) Other matters relating to impeachment shall be as provided for in the federal law.

102. Penalty for Unauthorized Presence or Voting: In case a person who has not taken oath pursuant to Article 88 or who is not a member of the Federal Parliament is present or casts vote in the capacity of a member in a meeting of either House of the Federal Parliament or of its committee, the person shall, by order of the person presiding over the meeting, be fined with a sum of five thousand rupees for each instance of such presence or voting, and such fine shall be recovered as a government due.

103. Privileges: (1) There shall be full freedom of speech in both Houses of the Federal Parliament; and no member shall be arrested, detained or prosecuted in any court for anything expressed or any vote cast by him or her in the House.

(2) Each House of the Federal Parliament shall, subject to this Constitution, have full power to regulate and decide its internal business, and the concerned House shall have the exclusive right to decide whether or not any of its proceedings is regular or irregular. No question shall be raised in any court in this regard.

(3) No comment shall be made about good faith concerning any proceeding of any House of the Federal Parliament, and no publication and broadcasting of any type shall be made about anything said by any member, intentionally distorting or misinterpreting the meaning of the speech.

(4) The provisions of clauses (1) and (3) shall apply also to persons, other than the members of the Federal Parliament, who are entitled to participate in the meetings of the House.

(5) No proceedings shall be initiated in any court against any person in respect of the publication, under the authority granted by any House of the Federal Parliament, of any document, report, vote or proceeding.

Explanation: For the purposes of this clause and clauses (1), (2), (3) and (4), "House" means the House of Representatives or the National Assembly, and includes a joint sitting or committee or joint committee of the Federal Parliament.

(6) No member of the Federal Parliament shall be arrested during the period from the issuance of a notice summoning the session to its prorogation.

Provided that nothing in this clause shall be deemed to prevent the arrest under the federal law of any member on a criminal charge. In case any member is so arrested, the authority making such arrest shall forthwith give information thereof to the person presiding over the concerned House.

(7) Any breach of the privileges shall be deemed to constitute the contempt of the Federal Parliament, and the concerned House shall have the exclusive right to decide whether or not any privilege has been breached.

(8) In case any person is in contempt of any House, the person presiding over the concerned House may, after a decision by the House to that effect, admonish, warn or impose a sentence of imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or of a fine not exceeding ten thousand rupees on such person, and such fine shall be recovered as a government due.

Provided that in case such person apologies to the satisfaction of the concerned House, the House may pardon, remit or commute the sentence imposed on him or her.

(9) Other matters relating to the privileges of the Federal Parliament shall be as provided for in the federal law.

104. Procedures relating to Conduct of Business: (1) Each House of the Federal Parliament shall frame rules to conduct its business, maintain order during its meetings and regulate the constitution, functions and procedures of the committees and procedures of the House or its committee. Until such rules are framed, the Federal Parliament shall regulate its procedures on its own.

(2) The conduct of business of the joint sitting of the Federal Parliament and constitution and proceedings of the joint committee of the Federal Parliament shall be regulated by the rules or procedures approved by the joint sitting of both Houses of the Federal Parliament.

105. Restriction on Discussion: No discussion shall be held in either House of the Federal Parliament on any matters that may cause adverse effect on the dispensation of justice in cases which are sub judice in any court of Nepal and in any judicial act carried out by Judges in the course of performance of their duties.

Provided that nothing in this Article shall be deemed to bar the expression of opinions about the conduct of a Judge during deliberations held on a motion of impeachment.

106. Secretary General and Secretary of Federal Parliament: (1) The President shall appoint the Secretary General of the House of Representatives on recommendation of both the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Chairperson of the National Assembly, the Secretary of the House of Representatives on recommendation of the Speaker, and the Secretary of the National Assembly on recommendation of the Chairperson.

(2) The qualification, functions, duties, powers and other conditions of service of the Secretary General of the Federal Parliament, Secretary of the House of Representatives and Secretary of the National Assembly shall be as provided for in the federal law.

107. Secretariat of Federal Parliament: There shall be a Secretariat for conducting and managing the business of the Federal Parliament. The establishment of such Secretariat and other matters related thereto shall be as provided for in the federal law.

108. Remuneration: The remuneration and facilities of the Speaker and the Deputy Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Chairperson and the Vice-Chairperson of the National Assembly, chairpersons of the committees and members of the Federal Parliament shall be as provided for in the federal law, and shall be as specified by the Government of Nepal until such law is made.

Part-9

Federal Legislative Procedures

109. Legislative Powers of Federal Parliament: The legislative powers of the Federal Parliament shall be as enumerated in the lists of Schedule-5, Schedule-7 and Schedule-9.
110. Procedures for Introduction of Bills: (1) A Bill may, subject to this Constitution, be introduced in any House of the Federal Parliament.

Provided that a Money Bill shall be introduced only in the House of Representatives.

(2) A Money Bill and a Bill concerning a security institution including the Nepal Army, Nepal Police and Armed Police Force, Nepal shall be introduced only as a Government Bill.

(3) "Money Bill" means a Bill concerning any or all of the following matters: -

- (a) Matters concerning Imposition, collection, abolition, remission, alteration or regulation of taxes;
- (b) Matters concerning preservation of the Federal Consolidated Fund or any other Federal Government Fund, the deposit of moneys into or the appropriation or the withdrawal of moneys from such Funds, or the reduction, increment or cancellation of appropriations of proposed expenditures from such Funds;
- (c) Regulation of matters relating to the borrowing of money or the guarantee to be given by the Government of Nepal, or any matter pertaining to the amendment of the law with respect to any financial obligations undertaken or to be undertaken by the Government of Nepal,
- (d) Matters concerning custody of all revenues received by the Federal Government Fund, moneys acquired through the repayment of loans, and grant moneys, investments to be made or accounts or audits of the accounts of the Government of Nepal; and

- (e) Other incidental matters directly related to any of the matters specified in clause (a), (b), (c) or (d).

Provided that any Bill shall not be deemed to be a Money Bill only by the reason that it provides for the levying of any charges, fees or tariff such as license fee, application fee, renewal fee or for the imposition of fines or penalty of imprisonment.

(4) In case any question arises as to whether or not a Bill is a Money Bill, the decision of the Speaker shall be final.

111. Procedures for Adoption of Bills: (1) A Bill adopted by one House of the Federal Parliament shall be transmitted to the other House as soon as possible and such Bill shall, if adopted by the receiving House, be submitted to the President for authentication.

(2) A Money Bill adopted by the House of Representatives shall be transmitted to the National Assembly. The National Assembly shall, after deliberations on such Bill, send the Bill back to the House of Representatives within fifteen days from the date of receipt of the Bill, with suggestions, if any.

(3) The House of Representatives shall, upon deliberations on a Bill returned with suggestions pursuant to clause (2), present the Bill incorporating such suggestions as it may deem appropriate to the President for authentication.

(4) In case the National Assembly does not return a Money Bill received pursuant to clause (2) for more than fifteen days, the House of Representatives may present the Bill to the President for authentication.

(5) Any Bill, except for a Money Bill, adopted by the House of Representatives and transmitted to the National Assembly shall be returned with approval or suggestions within two months from the date of receipt. In case the National Assembly does not return the Bill within that period, the House of Representatives may, by a resolution adopted by a majority of the total number of its then existing members, present the Bill to the President for authentication.

(6) In case any Bill, other than a Money Bill, adopted by one House is rejected or is accepted with amendments by the other House, the Bill shall be returned to the House where it was originated.

(7) In case the House of Representatives, in considering a Bill which has been rejected or amended and returned by the National Assembly pursuant to clause (6), adopts it again as it was or with amendments, by a majority of the total number of the then existing members, the Bill shall be submitted to the President for authentication.

(8) In case a Bill which has been returned with amendments by the House of Representatives to the National Assembly pursuant to clause (6) is also again adopted, with such amendments, by a majority of the number of the then existing members of the National Assembly, the Bill shall be submitted to the President for authentication.

(9) The following Bills shall be referred to a joint sitting of the both Houses, and in case the joint sitting adopts the Bill as it was or with amendments, the House in which the Bill originated shall present it to the President for authentication:-

- (a) A Bill which, though adopted by the National Assembly, has been rejected by the House of Representatives; or
- (b) A Bill which has been sent back to the National Assembly with amendments by the House of Representatives, but the National Assembly has not agreed on such amendments.

(10) Even though a session of a House is prorogued while a Bill is under its consideration, deliberations on the Bill may continue at the succeeding session.

Provided that in case the House of Representatives is dissolved or its term expires when any Bill introduced in the House of Representatives is under its consideration or when any Bill adopted by the House of Representatives is under consideration in the National Assembly, such Bill shall lapse.

112. Withdrawal of Bills: A Bill may be withdrawn by the member introducing it with the approval of the House.

113. Authentication on Bills: (1) The Bill to be presented to the President for authentication pursuant to Article 111 shall be certified by the Speaker or the Chairperson of the House in which the Bill originated and so presented.

Provided that in case of a Money Bill, the Speaker shall so certify.

(2) A Bill presented to the President for his or her authentication in accordance with this Article shall be authenticated within fifteen days, and both Houses shall be informed thereof as soon as possible.

(3) In case the President is of the opinion that any Bill, except a Money Bill, presented for authentication needs reconsideration, he or she may, within fifty days from the date of submission of such Bill, send back the Bill along with his or her message to the House in which the Bill originated.

(4) In case any Bill is sent back along with a message by the President, and both Houses reconsider and adopt such Bill as it was or with amendments and present it again, the President shall authenticate that Bill within fifteen days of such presentation.

(5) A Bill shall become an Act after the President authenticates it.

114. Provisions relating to Ordinance: (1) In case, at any time, except when both Houses of the Federal Parliament are in session, circumstances exist which render it necessary to take immediate action, the President may, on recommendation of the Council of Ministers, promulgate an Ordinance.

(2) The Ordinance promulgated pursuant to clause (1) shall have the same force and effect as an Act.

Provided that every such Ordinance,-

- (a) Shall be tabled at the session of both Houses of the Federal Parliament held after the promulgation, and in case not adopted by both Houses, it shall, ipso facto, cease to be effective;
- (b) May be repealed at any time by the President; and
- (c) Shall, unless rendered ineffective or repealed pursuant to sub-clause (a) or (b), ipso facto cease to be effective at the expiration of sixty days after the day on which a meeting of both Houses is held.

Explanation: For the purposes of this clause, "day on which a meeting of both Houses is held" means the day on which a session or meeting of both Houses of the Federal Parliament commences or is held, and this term means the later day on which a meeting of the House is held in case the Houses of the Federal Parliament meet on different dates.

Part-10

- (a) Estimate of revenues;
- (b) Moneys required to meet the charges on the Federal Consolidated Fund; and
- (c) Moneys required to meet the expenditure to be provided for in the Federal Appropriation Act.

(2) The annual estimate to be laid pursuant to clause (1) shall also be accompanied by a statement of the expenses allocated to every Ministry in the previous fiscal year and particulars of whether or not the objectives of the expenses have been achieved.

(3) The Minister for Finance of the Government of Nepal shall lay before the Federal Parliament an estimate of revenues and expenditures referred to in clause (1) on the 15th of Jeshta (mid May) each year.

120. Appropriation Act: The moneys to be spent under an Appropriation Act shall be specified under concerned heads in the Appropriation Bill.

121. Supplementary Estimate: (1) The Minister for Finance of the Government of Nepal may lay before the House of Representatives a supplementary estimate in case it is found in any fiscal year:-

(a) That the sum authorized to be spent for a particular service by the Appropriation Act for the current fiscal year is insufficient, or that a need has arisen for expenditures on some new service not provided for in the Appropriation Act for that year; or

122. Votes on Account: (1) Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Part, a portion of the expenditure estimated for the fiscal year may, when an Appropriation Bill is under consideration, be incurred in advance, as provided for in Federal Act.

(2) No Vote on Account Bill shall be introduced until the estimates of revenues and expenditures have been laid pursuant to Article 119, and the sums involved in the Vote on Account shall not exceed one-third of the estimate of expenditures for the fiscal year.

(3) The expenditures incurred in accordance with the Federal Vote on Account Act shall be included in the Appropriation Bill.

123. Votes of Credit: Notwithstanding anything contained elsewhere in this Part, in case owing to an emergency due to either natural causes or a threat of external aggression or internal disturbances or other reasons, it appears to be impractical or inexpedient in view of the security or interest of the State to specify the details required pursuant to clause (1) of Article 119, the Minister for Finance of the Government of Nepal may lay before the House of Representatives a Vote of Credit Bill giving only a statement of expenditures.

124. Federal Contingency Fund: (1) A Federal Act may create a fund to be known as the contingency fund into which such moneys as may be determined by the Federal Act shall be deposited from time to time.

(2) The fund referred to in the clause (1) shall be under the control of the Government of Nepal and may meet any unforeseen expenditure out of such fund.

(3) The amount of the expenditure referred to in clause (2) shall be reimbursed as soon as possible as provided for in the Federal Act.

125. Act relating to Financial Procedures: Matters relating to the transfer of moneys appropriated by a Federal Act from one head to another and other financial procedures shall be as provided for in the Federal Act.

Part-11

Judiciary

126. Courts to Exercise Powers relating to Justice: (1) Powers relating to justice in Nepal shall be exercised by courts and other judicial institutions in accordance with this Constitution, other laws and recognized principles of justice.

(2) All shall abide by the orders or decisions made by courts in the course of hearing of lawsuit.

- (c) District Court.

(2) In addition to the courts referred to in clause (1), judicial institutions may be constituted at the local level to try cases under law or other institutions as required may be formed to pursue alternative dispute resolution methods.

128. Supreme Court: (1) There shall be a Supreme Court of Nepal.

(2) The Supreme Court shall be a court of record. All courts and judicial institutions shall, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution, be under the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court shall have the final authority to interpret this Constitution and laws.

(3) The Supreme Court may inspect, supervise and give necessary directives to, itself and courts, specialized courts or other judicial institutions under its jurisdiction, on matters relating to administration of justice or management.

(4) All shall abide by any interpretation of the Constitution or a law made by or any legal principle laid down by the Supreme Court in the course of hearing a lawsuit. In case anyone makes obstruction in the dispensation of justice or disregard any order or judgment handed down by it or any of its subordinate courts, the Supreme Court may, in accordance with law, initiate proceedings of contempt and impose punishment therefor.

129. Appointment and Qualification of Chief Justice of Nepal and Justices of Supreme Court: (1) The Supreme Court shall consist of a maximum of twenty Justices, in addition to the Chief Justice of Nepal.

(2) The President shall appoint the Chief Justice on recommendation of the Constitutional Council and other Justices of the Supreme Court on recommendation of the Judicial Council.

(3) Any person who has served as a Justice of the Supreme Court for at least three years shall be eligible for appointment as the Chief Justice.

(4) The term of office of the Chief Justice shall be six years.

(5) Any citizen of Nepal who has obtained a bachelor's degree in law and served as the Chief Judge or a Judge of a High Court for at least five years or who has obtained a bachelor's degree in law and constantly practised law as a senior advocate or advocate for at least fifteen years or who is a distinguished jurist having constantly worked for at least fifteen years in the judicial or legal field or who has served in the post of Gazetted first class or a higher post of the Judicial Service for at least twelve years shall be deemed to be eligible for appointment as a Justice of the Supreme Court.

Explanation: The period during which one has served as the Chief Judge or Judge of an Appellate Court prior to the commencement of this Constitution shall, for the purposes of this clause, be deemed to be the period of service in the capacity of the Chief Judge or Judge of the High Court.

(6) In case the office of the Chief Justice falls vacant or the Chief Justice is unable to carry out the duties of his or her office by reason of illness or otherwise or he or she cannot be present in the Supreme Court by reason of a leave of absence or his or her being outside of Nepal, the senior-most Justice of Supreme Court shall act as the Acting Chief Justice.

130. Conditions of Service and Facilities of Chief Justice and Justices: (1) In case the Chief Justice or a Justice of the Supreme Court who has served for at least five years resigns or undergoes compulsory retirement or dies, he or she shall be entitled to such pension as may be provided for in the federal law.

(2) Except otherwise provided for in this Constitution, the remuneration and other conditions of service of the Chief Justice and Justices of the Supreme Court shall be as provided for in the federal law.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in clauses (1) and (2), the Chief Justice or a Justice of the Supreme Court who has been removed from the office by way of impeachment or who has been punished by a court for a criminal offence involving moral turpitude shall not be entitled to gratuity or pension.

(4) The remuneration and other conditions of service of the Chief Justice or a Justice of the Supreme Court shall not be altered to his or her disadvantage.

Provided that this provision shall not apply in cases where a state of emergency is declared because of extreme economic disarrays.

131. Vacation of office of Chief Justice or Justice of Supreme Court: The office of the Chief Justice or a Justice of the Supreme Court shall fall vacant in any of the following circumstances:-

- (a) In case he or she tenders resignation in writing to the President;
- (b) In case he or she attains the age of sixty-five years;
- (c) In case a motion of impeachment is adopted against him or her pursuant to Article 101;
- (d) In case the Chief Justice or a Justice of Supreme Court is relieved of his or her office by the President, in the case of Chief Justice on recommendation of the Constitutional Council, and in the case of Justice of Supreme Court, on recommendation of the Judicial Council, on the ground that he or she is unable to discharge his or her duties because of physical or mental illness;
- (e) In case he or she is punished by a court for a criminal offence involving moral turpitude;
- (f) In case he or she dies.

132. Chief Justice and Justice of Supreme Court not to be engaged in Any Other Office: (1) No Chief Justice or Justice of the Supreme Court shall be engaged in or deputed to any office other than that of a Judge.

Provided that the Government of Nepal may, in consultation with the Judicial Council, depute a Justice of the Supreme Court to work concerning judicial inquiry, or to legal or judicial investigation or research for a specified period.

(2) No person who has once held the office of Chief Justice or a Justice of the Supreme Court shall be eligible for appointment to any government office, except as otherwise provided for in this Constitution.

133. Jurisdiction of Supreme Court: (1) Any citizen of Nepal may file a petition in the Supreme Court to have any law or any part thereof declared void on the ground of inconsistency with this Constitution because it imposes unreasonable restriction on the enjoyment of any fundamental right conferred by this Constitution or on any other ground; or to have any law or any part thereof made by a Provincial Assembly declared void because it is inconsistent with any law made by the Federal Parliament; or to have any law or any part thereof made by a Municipal Assembly or Rural Municipal Assembly declared void because it is inconsistent with a law made by the Federal Parliament or the Provincial Assembly; the Supreme Court shall have an extra-ordinary power to declare such law to be void either ab initio or from the date of its decision in case the law in question appears to be so inconsistent.

(2) The Supreme Court shall, for the enforcement of the fundamental rights conferred by this Constitution or of any other legal right for which no other remedy has been provided for or for which the remedy even though provided appears to be inadequate or ineffective or for the settlement of any constitutional or legal question involved in any dispute of public interest or concern; have the extraordinary power to issue necessary and appropriate orders, provide appropriate remedies, enforce such right or settle such dispute.

(3) Under the extra-ordinary jurisdiction referred to in clause (2), the Supreme Court may issue appropriate orders and writs including the writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, certiorari, prohibition and quo warranto.

Provided that except on the ground of absence of jurisdiction, the Supreme Court shall not under this clause interfere with any internal proceedings of the Federal Parliament or Provincial Assembly, and with any proceedings instituted by the Federal Parliament or Provincial Assembly concerning violation of its privileges and penalties imposed therefor.

(4) Subject to this Constitution, the Supreme Court shall, as provided for in the federal law, have the power to originally try and settle cases, hear appeals, test judgments referred for confirmation, revise cases, hear petitions or review its judgments or final orders. While so reviewing the judgements, Justices other than those having handed down the previous judgment shall make such review.

(5) The Supreme Court shall have the power to settle appeals from cases originally heard and settled by a High Court and matters of public importance involving questions of interpretation of the Constitution and law or cases recommended by a High Court, accompanied by its opinion that it is reasonable that decision be made by the Supreme Court.

(6) Other powers and procedures of the Supreme Court shall be as provided for in the federal law.

134. Power to Transfer Cases: (1) In case the cases which involve substantially the same questions are sub judice before the Supreme Court and a High Court, and the Supreme Court is satisfied on its own or on application by the Attorney General or parties to such cases that such questions are of public importance, the Supreme Court shall have the power to procure and adjudge the cases together.

(2) In case there exists a special circumstance where judicial impartiality may be questioned if a case filed in a High Court is heard by that Court, the Supreme Court may, stating the reasons and grounds thereof, order such case to be transferred from such High Court to another High Court and be heard by the latter High Court, in accordance with law.

135. Not to be engaged in Practice of Law: No Chief Justice or Justice of the Supreme Court shall, after retirement from office, be engaged in the practice of law, mediation or arbitration proceedings before any office or court.

136. Responsibility of Chief Justice: The Chief Justice shall have the ultimate responsibility to make effective the administration of justice by the Supreme Court, subordinate courts, specialized courts or other judicial institution.

137. Constitution of Constitutional Bench: (1) There shall be a Constitutional Bench in the Supreme Court. The Constitutional Bench shall consist of the Chief Justice and other four Justices designated by the Chief Justice on recommendation of the Judicial Council.

(2) The Bench referred to in clause (1) shall originally hear and settle the following cases, in addition to the petitions filed pursuant to clause (1) of Article 133:-

- (a) Disputes relating to jurisdiction between the Federation and a Province, between Provinces, between a Province and a Local Level and between Local Levels;
- (b) Disputes relating to election to members of the Federal Parliament or Provincial Assembly and matters relating to disqualification of a member of the Federal Parliament or of the Provincial Assembly.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in Article 133, in case it appears that any case sub judice in the Supreme Court involves a question of serious constitutional interpretation, the Chief Justice may appoint such case to be heard by the Bench referred to in clause (1).

(4) Other provisions relating to the functioning of the Constitutional Bench shall be as determined by the Supreme Court.

138. Annual Report: (1) The Supreme Court, Judicial Council and Judicial Service Commission shall submit every year annual reports to the President, and the President shall submit such reports to the Federal Parliament through the Prime Minister.

(2) In case the Federal Parliament, upon deliberating on the annual reports submitted pursuant to clause (1), deems it necessary to give any suggestion, it may give such suggestion to the concerned institution through the Government of Nepal, Ministry of Law and Justice.

(3) Other provisions relating to annual reports referred to in clause (1) shall be as provided for in the federal law.

139. High Courts: (1) There shall be a High Court in each Province.

(2) In case anyone makes obstruction in the dispensation of justice by, or disregard any order or judgment handed down by, it or any of its subordinate courts or judicial institutions, the High Court may initiate proceedings on and impose punishment for contempt, as provided for in the federal law.

(3) Each High Court shall consist of such number of Judges, in addition to the Chief Judge, as provided for in the federal law.

140. Appointment and Qualification of Chief Judge and Judges of High Court: (1) The Chief Justice shall, on recommendation of the Judicial Council, appoint the Chief Judge and Judges of the High Court.

(2) Any citizen of Nepal who has obtained a bachelor's degree in law and served as a Judge of a District Court for at least five years or who has obtained a bachelor's degree in law and constantly practised law as a senior advocate or advocate for at least ten years or who has constantly been engaged in the teaching or research of law or in any other field relation to law or justice for at least ten years or who has served in the post of at least Gazetted first class of the Judicial Service for at least five years shall be deemed to be eligible for appointment as the Chief Judge or a Judge of the High Court.

(3) Appointments to the Chief Judge and Judges of a High Court shall be made from amongst the persons who have possessed the qualifications referred to in clause (2) on the basis of the proportion of cases settled by him or her annually and of evaluation of cases upheld, quashed or reversed by superior courts in the course of final decision thereof, in the case of a District Judge, and of his or her seniority, qualification and evaluation of standard of performance of business, in the case of a person who has served in the post of at least Gazetted first class of the Judicial Service, and of evaluation of seniority, professional continuity, honesty, professional conduct and contribution made to the field of law and justice, in the case of others.

(4) In case the office of the Chief Judge falls vacant or the Chief Judge is otherwise unable to carry out the duties of his or her office or cannot be present in the High Court by reason of a leave of absence or his or her being outside of the Province, the senior-most Judge of the High Court shall act as the Acting Chief Judge.

141. Conditions of Service and Facilities of Chief Judge and Judges: (1) Except as otherwise provided for in this Constitution, the remuneration and other conditions of service of the Chief Judge and Judges of the High Court shall be as provided for in the federal law.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (1), the Chief Judge or a Judge of a High Court who has been removed from office upon action taken by the Judicial Council or upon punishment by a court for a criminal offence involving moral turpitude shall not be entitled to gratuity or pension.

Provided that this provision shall not apply in cases where the Judicial Council has removed him or her from office on the ground of inability to perform the duties of his or her office because of physical or mental illness.

(3) The remuneration and other conditions of service of the Chief Judge or a Judge of the High Court shall not be altered to his or her disadvantage.

Provided that this provision shall not apply in cases where a state of emergency is declared because of extreme economic disarrays.

142. Vacation of office of Chief Judge or Judge: (1) The office of Chief Judge or Judge of a High Court shall fall vacant in any of the following circumstances: -

- (a) In case he or she tenders resignation in writing to the Chief Justice;
- (b) In case he or she attains the age of sixty-three years;
- (c) In case he or she is relieved of office by the Chief Justice on recommendation of the Judicial Council, on the ground of his or her incompetence, misconduct, failure to perform his or her duties honestly, performance of business with mala fide intention or serious violation by him or her of the code of conduct required to be observed by him or her;
- (d) In case he or she is removed from office by the Chief Justice on recommendation of the Judicial Council on the ground that he or she is unable to discharge his or her duties because of physical or mental illness;
- (e) In case he or she is convicted and punished by a court for a criminal offence involving moral turpitude;
- (f) In case he or she dies.

(2) A Judge who is facing a charge shall be provided with a reasonable opportunity to defend himself or herself prior to removing him or her from the office pursuant to sub-clause (c) of clause (1). The Judge against whom the proceedings have been so instituted shall not be allowed to perform the duties of his or her office until the proceedings are completed.

(3) Nothing shall bar the institution of action in accordance with the federal law against the Chief Judge or Judge who has been removed from office for an offence which he or she has committed while in office.

143. Chief Judge and Judges not to be engaged in any Other Office and Provisions relating to Transfer: (1) No Chief Judge or Judge of a High Court shall be engaged in or deputed to any office other than that of Judge.

Provided that the Government of Nepal may, in consultation with the Judicial Council, depute a Judge of the High Court to work concerning judicial inquiry, or to legal or judicial investigation or research or to any work of national interest for any specific period.

(2) The Chief Justice may, on recommendation of the Judicial Council, transfer a Judge of a High Court to another High Court.

144. Jurisdiction of High Court: (1) The High Court shall have the power to issue necessary and appropriate orders, for the enforcement of the fundamental rights conferred by this Constitution or for the enforcement of any other legal right for which no other remedy has been provided or for which the remedy even though provided appears to be inadequate or ineffective or for the settlement of any legal question involved in any dispute of public interest or concern.

(2) For the purposes of clause (1), the High Court may issue appropriate orders and writs including the writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, certiorari, prohibition and quo warranto.

Provided that except on the ground of absence of jurisdiction, the High Court shall not under this clause interfere with any internal proceedings of the Federal Parliament or Provincial Assembly, and with any proceedings instituted by the Federal Parliament or Provincial Assembly concerning violation of its privileges and penalties imposed therefor.

(3) The High Court shall, in accordance with the federal law, have the power to originally hear and settle cases, hear appeals and test judgments referred for confirmation.

(4) Other powers and procedures of the High Court shall be as provided for in the federal law.

145. Power to Transfer Cases: (1) In case a High Court is of the opinion that a case which is sub judice in a subordinate court within its jurisdiction involves a question relating to a provincial law and it is essential to settle that question in order to decide the case, the High Court may procure the case and dispose the case wholly or decide only such question and remand the case to the court of first instance.

(2) In case it is satisfied with the reason that there exists a situation where judicial impartiality may be questioned if a case filed in a District Court is heard by that Court, the High Court may, stating the reasons and grounds thereof, order such case to be transferred from such District Court to another District Court under its jurisdiction and heard by the latter District Court, as provided for in the federal law.

146. Allowed to be engaged in Practice of Law: A person who has retired from the office of a Judge of a High Court may be engaged in the practice of law before the Supreme Court and a High Court, other than the High Court and subordinate courts where he or she has served as a Judge.

147. Responsibility of Chief Judge: The Chief Judge shall have the ultimate responsibility to make effective the administration of justice by the High Court and the Courts or other judicial institutions which are subordinate to it. For that purpose, the Chief Judge may, subject to this Constitution and the federal law, give necessary direction to the subordinate Courts and judicial institutions

148. District Court: (1) There shall be a District Court in each District.

(2) The Local Level judicial institutions established in accordance with the provincial law shall be subordinate to the District Court. The District Court may inspect as well as supervise and give necessary direction to its subordinate judicial institutions.

149. Appointment, Qualification, Remuneration and Other Conditions of Service of Judges of District Courts: (1) The Chief Justice shall, on recommendation of the Judicial Council, appoint Judges of the District Courts.

(2) The vacant posts of Judges of the District Court shall be fulfilled as follows:-
