

EAR TATTOOS

By Law all Cats and Dogs Desexed in Queensland from 1 July 2009 must be tattooed to indicate they are desexed (Animal Management (Cats and Dogs) ACT 2008).

This symbol placed inside the left ear allows simple and rapid identification of desexed animals. The tattoo is performed under general anaesthesia and is painless and non-disfiguring.