

2011 Outputs

Standard classifications were available in many standard tables available online in the Standard Outputs (<http://www.scotlandscensus.gov.uk/ods-web/standard-outputs.html>) .

For some data, the standard classification was set by the census question (religion), for others the standard classification was set by specific groupings (country of birth)

UK comparable classifications were also produced

2021 Outputs

In 2021 most tables will be accessible via the table builder – standard table builds for some data could be expanded to include a larger number of categories based on population size and subject to standard disclosure control

Outputs that could potentially benefit from this change are:

- Country of Birth
- Language
- Ethnic Group
- Religion

Would this change benefit you/your work?

Would this change be detrimental to you/your work?

2021 Religion

Some standard tables will be produced

UK comparable classifications will be produced

Largely, users will create their own tables

The standard classifications used in 2011 could be expanded to include large write-in responses

If we did this in 2011, our “standard output” would have been:

Religion category	Scotland
All people	5,295,403
Church of Scotland	1,717,871
Roman Catholic	841,053
Other Christian (including Christian related)	291,275

Write-in religion groupings

Some write-ins could be grouped to create larger categories for outputs

- Some groups would then meet the SDC threshold
- Some groups may be of more interest than the individual categories
- Larger groups will be available for multivariate analysis against a larger number of other variables

Pagan	5,194	Episcopalian	29,337

Questions

Language

Based on the 2011 responses for Language, would it be useful to group together responses into summary groups for output (as with Gaelic in the example?)

Ethnicity

Would it be useful to have additional detail in 2021 based on group population size?

Country of Birth

Would it be useful to have additional detail in 2021 based on group population size?

Religion

Would it be useful to have additional detail in 2021 based on group population size?

Would it be acceptable to group together several religion responses into groups such that they can be output (as in the examples)?
