PREFATORY NOTE.

The objects of the Twenty-five Year Book have been fully explained in the circular sent to graduates. It is sufficient here to state that the book consists of four principal parts. (1) Biographical sketches of those persons who, by reason of their position on the Board of Education or in the Faculty, have done most toward making the school what it now is. (2) Historical summaries of the Board of Education and of the Faculty. (3) An alphabetical list of alumni with a brief account of each alumnus. The information thus given has been furnished by the alumni themselves or compiled from school records, being in the latter case necessarily incomplete. Fuller explanations and a table of abbreviations precede the list. (4) A list of alumni by classes; see note, p. 121. At the back of the book are lists of members of existing High School organizations.

OLD ACADEMY.

THE OLD ACADEMY.

The Ithaca Academy was incorporated in 1823. It was built largely by subscription and was afterwards maintained principally by the tuition fees. The brick part was built in 1840, the old wooden structure being still preserved and used as a rear annex and recitation room. The first floor was given up entirely to a chapel, in which the school always assembled in the morning for prayers, and in which once in each week there were public exercises consisting of music, declamation and the reading of essays. The second floor consisted of two large study rooms, one for the boys and one for the girls, while the third floor, fitted up for students' rooms, was for many years occupied as a dormitory.

The Academy continued in active existence until the year 1874, when it was merged into the present High School. Of these fifty odd years nearly all the catalogues have been lost, particularly those of the earlier years, but from those now accessible, it is apparent that during that time between fifteen and twenty thousand different persons received a part of their education within the walls of the old building. These catalogues furnish a very interesting study and contain the names of many persons who have since become prominent in the business and the professional world. Thus the catalogue of 1840 contains the name of Edward S. Esty, who did so much for the schools of Ithaca, and who was the very efficient President of the Board of Education from 1874 until his death in 1890. His successor, Roger B. Williams, graduated in 1864. Here, too, are to be found the names of two Yale professors, William H. Brewer, then of Enfield, and Henry S. Williams, of Ithaca. The catalogue of 1845 shows that there were during that year in the Ithaca Academy, three boys who afterwards became distinguished as judges, George B. Bradley, of Corning, C. C. Dwight, of Auburn, and Francis M. Finch, of Ithaca. The catalogue of this year also contains the names of Frederick K. Andrus, D. W. Bailey, John Rumsey and S. H. Wilcox. In the catalogue of 1857 are the names of Edgar K. Apgar, famous in his life time as a politician and speaker; Colonel Walter S. Schuyler; and T. F. Crane, at present and for many years professor in Cornell University, and recently its acting President. From 1860 to 1870 inclusive the catalogues are complete and they contain the names of John H. Cunningham, Haines D. Cunningham, and Ward Gregory, all of whom became prominent as editors and newspaper men. To those students of the old Academy who may read this article the following names taken from the few accessible catalogues will bring up many recollections. Martin F. Hollister, a Presbyterian minister now deceased; John F. Shaw, now in the ministry; George H. Northrup, Calvin D. Stowell, George R. Williams, Nichol Halsey, Amos S. Hixson, Henry A. St. John, E. M. Treman, William McD. Halsey, H. Wiseman Hodson, now a prominent Episcopal divine; Fox Holden, a successful teacher; John J. Robins, now deceased, but in his lifetime a successful business man and banker in Iowa; LeRoy H. VanKirk, at present and for many years past the Clerk of Tompkins County; Asa B. C. Dickinson, now deceased, who will never be forgotten by those who knew him ; Charles H. Hyde, now a successful business man on the Pacific coast ; Howard J. Mead, County Judge of Tioga County ; Bradford Almy, Tompkins County Judge and Surrogate ; the Todd brothers, of Danby, the survivors of whom are now all successful business men ; Nicholas Pearson, Charles S. Seaman, the present Sheriff of Tompkins County ; Thomas G. Miller and Charles J. Rumsey, prominent and successful business men in Ithaca ; William H. Van Ostrand, for several years supervisor of the town of Newfield ; Leland O. Howard, celebrated as a naturalist ; Henry W. Sackett, a prominent lawyer in New York City ; J. B. Kline, the present District Attorney of Onondaga County ; Dr. John S. Kirkendall, Dr. Edward J. Morgan and Dr. Martin Besemer, all of Ithaca ; and Mynderse Van Cleef, Jared T. Newman, Frank E. Tibbetts, James L. Baker, Judson A. Elston, and David M. Dean, prominent attorneys of Ithaca. With these names before them, many other students of the old Academy will, in imagination at least, readily re-people the old chapel and the old class rooms with the other students of those days, whose names cannot be printed within the limits of this article.

Among the principals of the Academy during those fifty years, the following probably exercised the greatest influence and will be the longest remembered, namely : William S. Burt, James Thompson, S. D. Carr, and S. G. Williams. There are hundreds of persons now living, who to-day are profoundly thankful that they received their instruction in the Ithaca Academy under the direction of so able and so successful a teacher as S. G. Williams.

No history of the Ithaca Academy would be complete without the name of Miss Harriet W. Thompson, whose gracious ways, accurate scholarship and aptitude for teaching, exercised for so many years a wholesome and lasting influence in the old Academy.

THE ITHACA HIGH SCHOOL.

The Ithaca High School grew out of and assumed the work of the old Ithaca Academy. It began its career in 1875 upon the organization of the separate schools of the village of Ithaca into a public school system. The work of the Academy, the graduates it had sent out to become judges, congressmen and Governor of the State, and to fill successfully and honorably important positions in the various departments of business and professional life had made that institution of great influence in western New York. It was therefore deemed inexpedient by the Academy Board of Trustees to make an unconditional transfer of its property to the new and untried Board of Education, so recently created by an act of the State Legislature. The old board accordingly decided to give a limited lease for a "period of five years" as a trial, and if the experiment proved successful to make a "permanent transfer." Such was the success of the new board that the transfer was subsequently made; and the High School building now occupies the historic site of the old Academy.

The work of the High School began in the old Academy building, the transition from private to public secondary education being thus made easy. The first faculty consisted of five members as follows:—Fox Holden, B.A., principal; Miss Sula S. Eddy, preceptress; Mr. A. B. Humphrey, Miss Eunice Chisholm, Mr. James H. Stubbs. One hundred fifty students were registered during the first year. The curriculum offered a preparatory course including arithmetic, grammar, geography; an English course of two years; a scientific course and a classical course of three years each. The first class graduated in June, 1876, consisted of six members: William A. Finch, now Professor of Law in Cornell University; Fred W. Smith, now practicing law in Rochester; Frank C. Whitney, now a clergyman in Austin, Minnesota; Miss Estelle McNeil, now Mrs. Alfred P. Camp, of Durango, Colorado; Miss Ella A. Pinckney, now Mrs. Ella A. Stanley, of Fort Smith, Arkansas; Miss Nancy Wallenbeck, at present living at Applegate, Tompkins County, New York.

In 1876 Miss Harriet Wood Thompson was elected to the position of preceptress, the position which she continued to hold until her death October 10, 1898.

In 1884 a new building became necessary. The corner stone was laid in that year; and on September 7, 1885 the building was dedicated with appropriate ceremony, a full account of which was given in the Ithaca Journal the following day and reprinted in the annual report of the Board of Education for that year. At the time the building was considered much too large for the city, but time has proved that it was much too small. Accordingly in 1893 the Seneca street annex was constructed at a cost of $15,000.00, and this year sees the completion of the Buffalo street annex which is nearly as large as the original building and its cost will be fully $50,000.00. These amounts added to the cost of the first building make the cost of entire plant about $125,000.00.

The Seneca street annex contains four large department rooms for 50 pupils each ; the Buffalo street annex contains rooms, viz :

Basement—Gymnasium, society room, boiler room, lavatories, shower baths.

Ground Floor—Library, reading room, Assembly hall, with a seating capacity of 800.

Second Floor—Study hall similar to the one in the main building, four class rooms, principal's office, faculty room, two cloak rooms, and waiting room.

Third Floor—Physical laboratory and lecture room, shop, photometric room, heat room, suite of four rooms for commercial department.

The new annex is fire proof, is heated by steam and with the main building and Seneca street annex makes a building large enough to accommodate 1200 students including those in the grammar school, which occupies the first floor of the main building and all the Seneca street annex.

The following table shows the growth of the school by years :

From the first the High School has been an important preparatory school for Cornell University. It now sends from 40 to 60 students annually to college. It has just cause for pride over the State and University scholarships which its students have won, and the positions which they have taken in the affairs of life.

E. S. Stry

Edward S. Esty.

PRESIDENT BOARD OF EDUCATION 1874-1890.

Edward Selover Esty was born in Ithaca, N. Y., July 17, 1824, and remained a resident until his death, October 2, 1890, while on a visit to Boston and vicinity for health and pleasure. Mr. Esty was the son of Joseph Esty, a pioneer to this section of the state. His ancestors originally settled in Salem, Mass., and his pedigree was unbroken back to the pilgrim fathers of New England.

Mr. Esty was educated in the public schools of Ithaca and in the old Ithaca Academy, of which he was later a trustee and treasurer. In the year 1874 the Board of Education was first organized by an act of the Legislature entitled "An act to provide for the establishment of a system of Graded Schools in the village of Ithaca." Mr. Esty was one of the original twelve members of the Board of Education named by the Legislature, and became its first president. This office he held continuously to the time of his death.

The new school system absorbed the Academy, the parent and forerunner of the present High School. The work of organizing out of a village school a city system of graded schools was a work of large proportions, a work which needed not only the assistance of a skillful school teacher, but that of a business organizer. Such a man was President Esty. His rare business ability, his varied experience, his remarkable interest in and knowledge of the workings of schools and systems of schools, gave him an opportunity to render a service to Ithaca that comes to but few men, and never but once in a life time. To this occasion he was fully equal.

Mr. Esty studied educational questions and systems. He saw twenty years ago what all professional educators now see, that there must be a closer articulation between the secondary and the higher institutions. He repeatedly pointed out the advantages to both kinds of schools resulting from such a correlation. It is a great satisfaction to all who acquaint themselves with local school history, to read in his annual addresses in old newspaper files, the lucid expositions by this business man, statesman, and educator, of the most profound educational questions which now engage the best thought of an Eliot, or a Harris.

Although born to a competency, Mr. Esty led a life of great activity. He represented Tompkins County in both branches of the State Legislature; he was one of the organizers of the First National Bank of Ithaca, of which he was a director from the first, and vice-president from 1883 to the time of his death; he founded and endowed the Ithaca Children's Home; he was a trustee of the Ladies' Benevolent Union; he served for five years as president of the Cornell Library Association; he was a trustee of the City Hospital.

In his death Ithaca lost one of her most active and public spirited citizens, the cause of education a most ardent and broad-visioned advocate, humanity a friend.

ROGER B. WILLIAMS.

Roger Butler Williams.

PRESIDENT BOARD OF EDUCATION FROM 1890.

Roger Butler Williams, son of Josiah Butler Williams, one of the early residents, was born in Ithaca, May 8th, 1848. His early education he received in the public schools of his native town. Graduating from the Ithaca Academy in 1864, Mr. Williams entered Yale University, from which he received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1868, and of Master of Arts in 1871. While in college he was a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity, and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

In 1874 Mr. Williams was married to Carrie L. Romer, of Brooklyn. They have one son, Roger B. Williams, Jr., a graduate of the high school, and at present a junior in Cornell University.

Mr. Williams has always been actively identified with the business, social, and educational interests of Ithaca. In business affairs his interests are many and diverse. While he is a manufacturer of machinery and agricultural implements, he is also president of the Ithaca Savings Bank, and a director of the First National Bank; and is interested in the City Hospital, Lake View Cemetery, the Lyceum Company; he is a member of the Town and Gown Club, captain of the Protective Police, chairman of the commission in charge of the construction of the sewer system, and is also interested in sundry corporations and associations. In short,

Mr. Williams is a public spirited man, ever ready and willing to assist in enterprises which concern the welfare of his native city.

In the cause of education also, Mr. Williams has devoted time and thought to the interests of Ithaca, for, besides being a trustee of Cornell University, and a director of the Cornell Library Association, he has been a member of the Board of Education for fourteen years, having held the office of president of that body since 1890. A review of the addresses made by the president to the Board of Education shows that he has always advocated the enlargement of buildings and school accommodations, the increase of teachers' salaries, in order to secure the best teaching ability, and the entire separation of politics from school matters.

Mr. Williams is characterized by a modesty as great as is his efficiency in forwarding the interests of the various trusts and organizations with which he is connected. In the midst of his urgent duties he is always ready to give advice and counsel to those who ask it; and this advice is always well considered. This is especially true in matters affecting the schools of Ithaca. Although a man of great dignity of bearing, he is gentle in manner, kind of heart, always approachable. It would not be too much to call Mr. Williams a representative of the highest type of tried citizen.

L. C. Foster

Luther Clark Foster.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS 1875-1895.

Luther Clark Foster was born at Canton, Bradford County, Pa., May 24, 1828, and died in Ithaca, February 13, 1895. He received his education at Farmington, Ohio. At the age of sixteen years he began teaching, boarding around; at twenty, he taught what was called a select school in Maury County, Tenn., where he remained four years in the midst of slavery. In 1852 he came to Elmira, N. Y., engaging in business occupations. In 1855 he became principal of Public School No. 1 in Elmira. The school was in bad condition; private schools flourished in the city. He managed the school with such success that it soon became very popular. His work was practically the beginning of good schools in Elmira. Here he remained twenty years, during which the present very large structure was erected. In Elmira he made a reputation as an extraordinarily good teacher and thorough educator.

In 1875, Mr. Foster was called to Ithaca and was superintendent of schools here from that time until his death. The years of his service in Ithaca were years of endless and untiring labor, much of it the most grinding detail, which he carried without a murmur, it being his whole purpose in life to make the Ithaca schools as good as the funds at his disposal would permit. He laid the foundations of the system of schools as it exists to-day. He met every sort of problem, and solved it as well as was possible under the circumstances. At the beginning of his service here he maintained the necessity of the free High School, which at once took the place of the old Ithaca Academy, then a private school. It is his hand that is to be seen in all the history of the Ithaca High School, from its beginning, laying out the courses of study, adjusting the organization of the school. There is nothing in the present organization which is not an elaboration of the organization as he left it.

Mr. Foster's management of the schools was economical. The first year after he came here the tax was $21,000; later it dropped even to $14,000. In 1880-81 it rose to $19,000, when the East Hill school building was built. In 1883-84 it dropped to $13,429. Afterward when the present High School building was erected the tax rose to $20,000. In the last year of his administration the tax was $22,500.

During his nineteen and one-half years of service in Ithaca, Mr. Foster missed but one meeting of the Board of Education, and that was the last meeting before his death. He was a modest man. He never asserted himself, but took great pride in doing his work well, letting that speak for him. In his last days he took great satisfaction in and was deeply touched by the appreciation which the citizens of Ithaca manifested for him and his work. He persevered until the end; he wanted to die in the harness and so he did.

FOX HOLDEN.

Fox Holden.

PRINCIPAL, HIGH SCHOOL, 1875-1880.

Fox Holden, the first principal of the Ithaca High School, was born in North Lansing. Like many of the successful men of this vicinity he prepared for college at the old Ithaca Academy and was one of Miss Thompson's pupils. He graduated from the Academy in 1868, and received the degree of A.B. at Cornell in 1872.

The following year Mr. Holden was principal of the Trumansburg Academy and then accepted the principalship of the Addison Union School. In 1875, when Mr. Foster organized the present system of public schools in Ithaca, Mr. Holden was made principal of the High School and held the position for five years. Of his work at this time he writes, "It was my fortune to enter upon the work of principal of Ithaca High School at the organization of the present school system, and to take the old Academy with its loose organization and work out a high school organization."

Teaching, however, exhausted him nervously. Because of impaired health he resigned in 1880 and entered the Albany Law School, graduating in 1881. Instead of practicing law he held the position of superintendent of the Plattsburgh schools from 1882 to 1890, when he became Principal of the Plattsburgh State Normal School. In 1892 he left that position for the superintendence of the Olean City Schools. This position he still holds.

Mr. Holden's associates and pupils remember him not only as a teacher, but also as a genial and kindly friend.

Daniel Otis Barto.

PRINCIPAL HIGH SCHOOL 1880-1888, 1890-1893.

Daniel O. Barto, the second Principal of the Ithaca High School, has been connected with the school by bonds of unusual closeness, for not only did he serve eleven years as Principal but it was in the Ithaca Academy that he received his preparation for college.

Mr. Barto entered Cornell in the Autumn of 1873, a member of the class of '77. In both his Sophomore and Junior years he rowed No. 2 in the first of Cornell's victorious crews, the winners at Saratoga in '75 and '76. At the close of his Junior year he left the University to become Principal of the Trumansburg High School.

When, in 1880, Mr. Barto came to the Ithaca High School he found only 121 of the boys and girls of Ithaca in attendance; the remaining fifty of the 171 students were non-residents. The graduating class at the close of his first year numbered but eight. In the following year, 1881-82, there were but 169 students and a graduating class of ten, all girls.

Then began the period of growth which with increasing rapidity has ever since continued. The causes of this growth need not be dwelt upon here—the growth of the city, the stimulus of the University, the excellence of the school, all doubtless had a part. The fact to be recorded here is that from 169 the registration grew steadily until at the close of the year 1892-93, when Mr. Barto resigned, the High School numbered 419 and the graduating class 62.

DANIEL OTIS BARTO.

As a result of this growth another important fact of High School history must be associated with Mr. Barto—the demolition of the old Academy and erection, in 1884–85, of a new building which was thought to be more than adequate to meet the new demands. Yet it was only a few years before the new building was crowded, so that we see the last year of Mr. Barto's incumbency, 1893, marked by the first of the new additions, the one at the southeast corner.

During two years of this period from 1880–93 Mr. Barto was not connected with the school, for in June, '88, he resigned to join Mrs. Barto in California, whither shortly before Mrs. Barto had gone, hoping that a gentler climate might restore her to health. The succeeding year he taught Latin in the Ladies' College of Los Angeles. When death showed that their hopes had been vain Mr. Barto returned East to take charge of the department of mathematics in the Roxbury Latin School in Boston. In 1890, he was again elected Principal of the Ithaca High School.

Upon resigning his position here in 1893, Mr. Barto became Principal of the High School at Oak Park, Illinois, where he remained until June, 1898. He was then elected Principal of the Princeton Township High School at Princeton, Illinois, a position which he still fills.

Lewis Henry Tuthill.

PRINCIPAL HIGH SCHOOL 1888-1890.

In 1888, upon the withdrawal of Mr. Barto, the principalship of the High School was given to Mr. Lewis Henry Tuthill. Mr. Tuthill came to Ithaca highly recommended. The record of his four years in Cornell, his subsequent success as a teacher and school manager, his kindly ways and pleasant address, all made him eminently fitted to fill the position to which he was thus happily chosen.

Mr. Tuthill was born in Corning, N. Y., November 12, 1862. His early education he got in the schools of that city, from whose academy he was graduated in 1880. Coming to Cornell in 1881, with the aid of a state scholarship, he worked his way through college in three years, being graduated Bachelor of Arts in 1884. During the following year, while an assistant in the library, he continued his studies, proceeding to the master's degree in 1885. Throughout his college course Mr. Tuthill was prominent in the athletic and literary activities of the university. In his senior year he was president of his class. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and of Phi Beta Kappa.

Upon leaving Cornell, Mr. Tuthill entered upon his work as a teacher. After three years' experience in regents' schools he was called to Ithaca, where he served as principal from 1888 to 1890. He then became principal and superintendent of the Homer Academy and Union Schools. This position he still holds.

LEWIS HENRY TUTHILL.

The period during which Mr. Tuthill presided over the High School was a period of peace and progress. The enrollment constantly increased, the faculty became larger, the fame of the school was extended. The tendencies toward wider athletic, social and scholastic interests, and broader scholarship, tendencies which have found more noticeable outward expression in later years, had their beginnings during this period. Moreover, the sympathetic attitude of the principal toward the student—the attitude of counselor and guide rather than that of master—the trust and confidence of principal and student in each other, the spirit of good fellowship in which they met outside of school, these were in the success of those years factors quite as important as mere numerical growth or increasing renown.

The universal respect in which Mr. Tuthill was held, cannot perhaps be better expressed than in the words of the students of the High School who, in making the departing principal a farewell gift, June, 1890, thus showed their regard :

“ We, the students of the High School, take this method of expressing our esteem for you, our regret at your departure, and our wish that your term among us might have been prolonged. We feel that in your departure we are losing a competent teacher and a valued friend.”

Frank David Boynton.

PRINCIPAL HIGH SCHOOL FROM 1893.

Society's greatest need yesterday, to-day, and forever, is the need of self-reliant men, men who do not lean on their fellows; who ask no favors of the world, though they may be ever ready to do them; who make opportunities instead of waiting for them; who face life with a calm confidence that is itself an earnest of success. The world has need of such men everywhere but nowhere more than at the head of her great public schools. Time was when we pictured the pedagogue as a book-worm and a recluse divorced from the practical interests of life and the better for that divorce, interested in political issues only when they had become historical, a man, in short, whose business it was to know rather than to be or to do. Now we have changed all that. The teacher is coming to be more and more the man of affairs, alert, active, conscious of the great educational forces that can never be imprisoned within the covers of books, and constantly manipulating them to mould not the minds only but the characters of his pupils.

Such men are rare. Doubtless, like poets, they are born, not made. So it was probably in the case of the subject of this sketch, yet training and circumstances have had their share also in developing those qualities that have fitted the man so admirably for his work. He was born in Potsdam, N. Y., during the troublous times of the Civil War. Two years later his parents moved to the country, where he spent his boyhood. This period was not a long one. He had barely entered his teens when the fire demon reduced his family to poverty and compelled him to face the necessity of self support.

The boy was thus obliged to pass at a bound from the carelessness of childhood to the responsibilities of manhood. With true Yankee versatility he turned his hand to whatever came in his way. At fourteen he was apprenticed to a brick-mason. A year later he abandoned the trowel to go behind the counter of a country store. Another year and he had become a farm hand; and here he found his opportunity. The long toil of the summer was rewarded by the possibility of a winter of study; and at the end of three years of persistent effort he found himself in a position to enter the Potsdam Normal School, though not without conditions. Three terms of uninterrupted study followed, then another summer of farm work, then a year of teaching with the hope of a speedy return to the Normal; but that hope was doomed to disappointment. Family financial troubles consumed his salary and he found himself obliged to seek more remunerative, if less congenial employment with a manufacturing firm.

By the fall of 1885, however, he was able to resume his work at the Normal and to complete it without interruption, being graduated from the classical course in June, 1887. Not only had he been self-supporting during this period of preparation for college; he had also found himself sufficiently prosperous to venture upon matrimony, for in 1886 he had married Miss Flora White of Nicholville, N. Y. In the fall of 1887 he entered Middlebury College and with characteristic energy immediately took a prominent place in the college life. He won the first Parker and the second Merrill prizes in declamation, was editor-in-chief of the college paper, president of the athletic association, speaker at the junior exhibition, and finally commencement speaker at his graduation in 1891, when he received the degree of A.B. Three years later Hamilton College honored him with a master's degree.

In the fall of 1891, Mr. Boynton entered upon his life work as an educator, as principal of the high school at Webster, N. Y., and this position he held until called to the principalship of the Ithaca High School in 1893. During his short incumbency at Webster occurred a phenomenon that Ithacans, in the light of their experience, will doubtless think characteristic of the man. So rapid was the increase in non-resident attendance that before Mr. Boynton's two years of service were completed, it had become necessary to build a large addition to the school.

Friends of the Ithaca High School have watched with growing interest the steadiness and rapidity with which, under Principal Boynton's leadership, it has pushed its way during the past seven years into the front rank of secondary educational institutions. The registration in the fall of 1893 was 419; in 1900 it is 650. Meantime the teaching force has been doubled. Here, as in Webster, the rapidly growing institution soon found itself in cramped quarters. Little by little was appropriated every available inch of space in the building; finally it became obvious that nothing but a new building or an extensive addition to the old one would meet the needs of the school, and the latter alternative was chosen.

But the school has not only become larger, it has become more active. New interests have awakened within it and have found expression through organizations of various kinds—musical, literary, athletic, political—which have in their turn reacted most beneficially upon the school by awakening among the students an active sense of loyalty to the institution. In the formation of all of these organizations the principal has played his part wisely, suggesting where he saw the need, advising when asked, controlling when necessary. One of the most recent movements with which he has been associated and which owes its success principally to his untiring energy, was the movement to secure a public play ground for the children of the city schools.

Professor Boynton has not, however, devoted himself so narrowly to the interests of one school or one community as to lose touch with other and wider educational movements. In his own community he holds not only the principalship of the high school but also the directorship of the Conservatory of Music. Outside that community his interests are varied. Since 1895 the Academic Principals' Association has retained him as chairman of the committee on revision of the regents' academic syllabus. He is also chairman of the committee on courses of study for the secondary schools of New York State, is a member of the National Herbart Society, and a member of the American Social Science Association. In addition to these activities he has found time to prepare a most successful text book on plane and solid geometry.

It is those who know Professor Boynton best and who have been most closely associated with him that realize most fully the extent of what he has accomplished. Endowed with a genius for organization, he has made his school in some respects a marvel. The work of the big institution moves with the smoothness and precision of the most perfect piece of mechanism; yet there is something better than mechanism here, there is perfectly organized intelligence. How labor has been lightened for teacher and pupil, how apparently impossible results have been attained, only those who have watched the evolution from within can fully understand. To the beholder from without the work looks perfect now. Those who share the principal's confidence know how far he is from thinking it so, how actively his busy brain is engaged with plans for its improvement; and every true friend of the school must join in the wish that no untoward accident may bring them to naught.

HARRIET W. THOMPSON.

Harriet W. Thompson.

PRECEPTRESS 1876-1898.

Harriet W. Thompson was born in the city of New York, October 21st, 1837. When she was but seven years old her mother died, and upon the death of her father in 1850 she, with a younger sister, was placed in Miss Graves's seminary at Bergen, New Jersey, where she remained until July, 1856. At the age of 16 she began in her Alma Mater her life work as teacher. For three years, 1857-59, she taught in West Haverford, Pa. In August, 1859, she was engaged to teach rhetoric, history, and physiology in the Ithaca Academy. Professor S. G. Williams was then its principal. She continued to teach in the academy until 1866. The catalogues for those years contain, among other well known names, those of George R. Williams, C. D. Stowell, C. R. Sherwood, Col. W. S. Schuyler, A. B. Brooks, Roger B. Williams, H. V. Bostwick, Ward Gregory, Albert H. Esty, Henry A. St. John, C. J. Rumsey, Professor H. S. Williams, E. J. Burritt, George S. Rankin, E. M. Treman, C. A. Bush and S. D. Halliday.

In 1866 she resigned her position in the Ithaca Academy to accept a position in Miss Havens's school for young ladies in New York City. Here she remained three years. In 1870 she returned to Ithaca to take care of her sister, who was very ill. Soon after her return she was again engaged to teach in the academy, but this time it was to teach French and German and for but one-half day. During this period she began to have serious trouble with her eyes and she expected to become blind. Accepting what seemed to be the inevitable, she set about fitting herself to continue her teaching after she was unable to study, and she systematically prepared lessons by having them read to her. To perfect herself as a teacher of French and German, she spent the year 1875-76 in France and Germany in study. She afterwards spent two summers abroad in study and travel. In August, 1876, she was elected preceptress of the Ithaca High School, a position which she continued to hold until her death, October 10th, 1898. During the twenty-five years since the organization of the Ithaca High School, the school has had four principals :

| Name. | Elected. | Resigned. |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------|------------------|
| Fox Holden, Olean, N. Y.----- | 1875 ----- | 1880 |
| D. O. Barto, Princeton, Ill.----- | 1880 ----- | 1888 |
| L. H. Tuthill, Homer, N. Y.----- | 1888 ----- | 1890 |
| D. O. Barto, re-elected----- | 1890 ----- | 1893 |
| F. D. Boynton----- | 1893 ----- | — |

To all of these Miss Thompson proved herself an invaluable assistant. The firm grasp of detail, the excellent judgment and good sense of the preceptress, whose painstaking devotion to her work was the wonder and admiration of all whose good fortune it was to be associated with her, have kept the school, through all these changes, from materially suffering.

In 1888 she was called to the principalship of Sage College, and at different times the question of inviting her to a position in the instructing body of Cornell University has been considered by those in authority.

As a teacher she was far removed from conventionalism and drew to herself confidences innumerable. To equal her skill as an instructor has for many years been the ambition of her associates. The thoroughness and excellence of her work were widely recognized, and students who could secure her recommendation in French and German found the doors of the University open to them. Great as was her ability in the classroom, it was excelled in her firm, kind, tactful manner of dealing with students. There was nothing in her methods that aroused antagonism in the pupil; she appealed directly to the better nature, while her tact as a disciplinarian amounted to genius. She was so prolific in resource that if one plan failed another would be substituted with such rapidity as to obliterate the memory of the first.

The excellent spirit which characterizes the relation between teacher and pupil in the Ithaca High School, the high ideals toward which the school aims, its wide reputation in this and other states, are largely due to the life and labor of its late preceptress. To be eminent in one line of work is an achievement that requires the concentrated energy of a lifetime. It is only the specially endowed who are able successfully to cultivate different fields. Miss Thompson was eminently successful as a teacher; she was equally successful in other lines. Hope sprang eternal in her breast. She possessed the power of magnifying the objects in which she was interested, until others became permeated with her enthusiasm. Combining charm with strength, imbued with pure motives, aiming at high ideals, she was ever working out plans for the accomplishment of the good of others.

To perpetuate her memory, a fund of $1,000 has been raised, the earnings of which are annually distributed to earnest and deserving students.

Belle Sherman.

TEACHER OF SCIENCE FROM 1877.

Miss Belle Sherman came to Ithaca from Galesburg, Ill., where her father was for many years a prominent lawyer. Having graduated from Lombard University in that city with the degree of B.S. in 1874, she continued during 1874-75 her work in the sciences under Dr. Burt G. Wilder of Cornell. The school year of 1875-76 she spent studying drawing in the School of Design in Philadelphia.

In the fall of 1876 Miss Sherman was offered a position as teacher of sciences and history in the Ithaca High School. Accepting this position, she became at once a strong element in the High School's growth. She and her co-worker, Miss Harriet W. Thompson, have been two teachers of whom any educational institution might be glad to boast.

The high character of Miss Sherman's work is recognized not only by the educated townspeople, but also in Cornell, where so many of her students yearly prove her training good. A close sympathizer in all good student movements, Miss Sherman has always been, to the non-residents especially, a helpful friend. Her own genuine enthusiastic interest in her work has aroused many a pupil to enjoy more fully the simple wild flowers of this region, and to understand and appreciate the meaning of Tennyson's little verse—

“Flower in the crannied wall,
I pluck thee out of the crannies,

BELLE SHERMAN.

Hold thee here in my hand, little flower,
Root and all, and all in all,
And if I knew what thou art, little flower,
Root and all—and all in all,
I would know what God and man is.”

HISTORICAL SUMMARY.

The Board of Education was first organized in the year 1874, by an act of the Legislature, entitled, "An Act to provide for the establishment of a system of Graded Schools in the village of Ithaca." In the year 1888 Ithaca became a city. The School Act was then revised to fit the new conditions; but the commissioners of the school district were continued. Following is an historical summary of the terms of service of all the commissioners from the first board to the present time.

Other abbreviations, chiefly of college degrees, are self-explanatory.

An attempt has been made roughly to divide the information following each name into three groups; the part before the first period relating to the High School, the part between the first and second periods to college, the remainder to subsequent pursuits. Within the group, divisions are marked by semicolons. Absolute uniformity, however, has not been attained.

ADSITT, CAROLINE INGERSOLL. See Mrs. Samuel Scott Slater.
