Musicians' Election

Evokes Strife

LOCAL 802

THE DEFEATED faction of the New York Local 802 of American Federation of Musicians, AFL, at week's end was analyzing the 10,704 votes cast in the organization's recent neck-and-neck election before protesting the results.

In the balloting, the incumbent administration was returned to office with Richard McCann reelected president by 89 votes over Al Manuti, executive board mem-ber. Mr. McCann polled 5,325 ber. while Mr: Manuti tallied 5,236.

Mr. Manuti charged that "hundreds of votes" were cast by persons who had no right to ballot. Scrutiny of all the ballots is being made by his "unity coalition" ticket to see if unauthorized persons voted. The balloting itself was conducted under the supervision of the Honest Ballot Assn.

The administration or "blue ticket" asserted the election was beyond dispute and said its victory represented a complete rout of the "pro-Communist opposition."

Non-Communist Affidavits

Mr. Manuti denied that his ticket had any "red complexion" and stated that as required by union rules every member of the slate had taken a non-Communist affidavit. He charged that the opposition was backed largely by parttime musicians who spent most of their working days in other jobs. He claimed most of the fulltime musicians supported the unity ticket.

Among the issues in the election were recent radio agreements, the catering situation and the conduct of meetings by the administration.

The unity ticket claimed the recent three-year agreements with radio networks reached by the adcause no provision was made for requiring a minimum number of men in network orchestras and because the agreements substantially froze the status quo for the next three years. On the catering issue, the opposition claimed that the administration did little about preventing musicians from buying rights to play at catered establishments.

stations, the plan was opposed by Frank U. Fletcher, Washington radio attorney and half owner of WARL Arlington, Va., in a public hearing before the Commissioners last Monday.

WARL and WEAM Arlington would be affected by the levy, proposed as a business privilege tax.

The levy would also impose a 1% tax on telephone company business but would specifically exempt inter-state messages. Although the courts have held radio to be an inter-state operation, the proposal would make no such distinction in the case of stations.

Mr. Fletcher maintained that such a tax would violate the principles of the basic court decision on the subject, the Supreme Court decision in the Fishers Blend case. He also noted the extent to which other governmental units in Virginia have undertaken such levies, citing the cities of Norfolk, Charlottesville, Roanoke, Winchester and Alexandria.

The Arlington County move coincides with what appears to be the opening of a nation-wide movement by cities and towns to impose local taxes on stations, as suggested to the 13th annual conference of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers [BROADCASTING, Dec. 6]. NAB has pledged opposition.
